Age-Friendly Cities and Communities in International Comparison Thibault Moulaert, Suzanne Garon, 2015-12-01

The supportive role of urban spaces in active aging is explored on a world scale in this unique resource using the WHO's Age Friendly Cities and Community model. Case studies from the U.S., Canada, Australia, Hong Kong, and elsewhere demonstrate how the model translates to fit diverse social, political, and economic realities across cultures and continents. Ways age friendly programs promote senior empowerment and how their value can be effectively assessed. Age friendly criteria for communities are defined and critiqued while extensive empirical data describe challenges as they affect elders globally and how environmental support can help meet them. These chapters offer age friendly cities as a corrective to the overemphasis on the medical aspects of elders' lives and should inspire new research practice and public policy. Included in the coverage: A critical review of the WHO Age Friendly Cities Methodology and its implementation; Seniors' perspectives on age friendly communities; The implementation of age friendly cities in three districts of Argentina; Age friendly New York City: a case study; Toward an age friendly European Union; Age friendliness, childhood, and dementia; toward generationally intelligent environments. With its balance of attention to universal and culture specific concerns, Age Friendly Cities and Communities in International Comparison will be of particular interest to sociologists, gerontologists, and policymakers. Given the rapid adoption of the age friendly perspective following its development by the World Health Organization, the critical assessment offered in this volume is especially welcome. Professor Chris Phillipson, University of Manchester

Developing Age-Friendly Communities in the UK Stephen J. Page, Joanne Connell, 2022-12-23

The ageing population is a global societal issue. Policymakers, planners, and the public, third, and private sectors must rethink how the built environment and services are delivered to meet the needs of a changing demographic. This is the first book to systematically review the evolution, development, and progress of age friendly thinking in the UK, with a primary focus on the real world experiences of the people leading place based initiatives. The book presents the findings of the first in depth national study of age friendly programme leaders in the UK, completed in 2021, and provides insights into the development of age friendly communities, the formative influences from a social policy perspective, the management challenges, and the progress towards achieving age friendly goals. Using primary interview data and narrative analysis, the experiences of working with age friendly programmes in different organisational forms are explored. The book promotes a greater understanding of what it means to become an age friendly community in practice how the programmes have different development pathways and what influences different outcomes Embellished with detailed narratives from practitioners informative tables and diagrams and figures throughout the book carefully gathers the voices of a diverse range of decision makers and leaders associated with the age friendly movement and provides unique insights on the drivers of change in specific localities This is a must read for anyone involved in ageing research or ageing policy and practice as it provides an insightful look into the real world of embedding this community development model in different localities to make a difference to the lives of older people Topical themes include how these agendas connect with other issues such as dementia friendly programmes and the work of the third sector as well as the growing challenge of what it means to be friendly as a community and place and whether friendly is becoming an over used term in relation to place identity The book has national and global interest for all communities engaged in age friendly activity offering exemplars of best practice achievements in transforming local communities and views on the meaning of ageing as well as the age friendly lens as an approach that champions the world through the eyes of older people It offers a thought provoking read for anyone with an interest in this expanding area of ageing irrespective of disciplinary focus

Age-Friendly Cities and Communities Tine Buffel, Sophie Handler, Chris Phillipson, 2019-02-20 As the drive towards creating age friendly cities grows this important book provides a comprehensive survey of theories and policies aimed at improving the quality of life of older people living in urban areas In this book part of the Ageing in a Global Context series leading international researchers critically assess the problems and the potential of designing age friendly environments The book considers the different ways in which cities are responding to population ageing the different strategies for developing age friendly communities and the extent to which older people themselves can be involved in the co production of age friendly policies and practices The book includes a manifesto for the age friendly movement focused around tackling social inequality and promoting community empowerment

Ageing Equitably with Care Tamara Daly, Susan Braedley, 2025-10-07 Available open access digitally under CC BY NC ND licence What are the consequences of growing old and needing care in a world shaped by inequality Who provides the care What are the challenges This groundbreaking book delves into conditions for ageing and caring asking how they could be improved for different communities living in high income welfare states Emphasising that equitable ageing depends on equitable care conditions the contributors draw on extensive empirical research Packed with actionable policy and practice insights this compelling volume charts a path toward a more just and inclusive future for ageing populations alongside all those providing care whether as family members friends or as paid workers

Negotiating Ageing Simon Biggs, 2017-11-15 The world is growing older and this is a historically unprecedented phenomenon Negotiating such change personally socially and for governments and international organisations requires an act of cultural adaptation Two key questions arise What is the purpose of a long life and How do we adapt to societies where generations are of approximately the same size A number of pre existing narratives can be identified however it is argued that contemporary policies have produced a premature answer which may eclipse the potential arising from lifecourse change In this book Simon Biggs discusses ways of interrogating these questions and the adaptations we make to them Four major areas all of which have been suggested as solutions to population ageing are critically assessed including work as an answer the relationship between work ageing and health narratives of spirit belief and wisdom the body and the natural anti ageing medicine critical approaches to dementia plus family and intergenerational relations This book is particularly useful for those trying to make sense of population ageing and negotiate solutions It describes a number of concepts that can be used to assess what we are told about a long life and how generations can adapt together With the cultural landscape moving away from traditional interpretations of old age the question of adult ageing is of growing interest to a number of groups This book is essential reading for social and health care workers other helping professionals policy makers social scientists and all who encounter the prospect of a long life
