Online Book Picturing Class Lewis Photographs England:

Images of Childhood Paul Duncum, 2023-07-13 Drawing on a rich legacy of pictorial evidence Images of Childhood examines historical constructions of childhood and how they reinforce or challenge the prevailing view of childhood as a state of innocence Each chapter explores how visual elements such as framing points of view and lighting as well as clothes accessories and body language help to construct our many different conceptions of children from members of the family unit and assumed gender roles to schooling and aesthetic objects through to their economic value and use in political propaganda Skillfully navigating a multitude of perspectives on this topic Paul Duncum considers both how our ideas beliefs and values have changed throughout history and how some have remained unchanged He also explores the cultural notion of the child within and how this has contributed to the way adults perceive children The result is a text far broader in scope than any other in its field as art history is interweaved with contemporary popular culture to explore how we visually represent childhood In doing so the book highlights the real life implications that these representations have on children's rights

Picturing home Hollie Price, 2021-02-09 Picturing home examines the depiction of domestic life in British feature films made and released in the 1940s It explores how pictorial representations of home onscreen in this period reimagined modes of address that had been used during the interwar years to promote ideas about domestic modernity Picturing home provides a close analysis of domestic life as constructed in eight films contextualising them in relation to a broader offscreen culture surrounding the suburban home including magazines advertisements furniture catalogues and displays at the Daily Mail Ideal Home Exhibition In doing so it offers a new reading of British 1940s films which demonstrates how they trod a delicate path balancing prewar and postwar traditional and modern private and public concerns Picturing Animals in Britain, 1750-1850

Diana Donald, 2007-01-01 From fine art paintings by such artists as Stubbs and Landseer to zoological illustrations and popular prints a vast array of animal images was created in Britain during the century from 1750 to 1850 This highly original book investigates the rich meanings of these visual representations as well as the ways in which animals were actually used and abused What Diana Donald discovers in this fascinating study is a deep and unresolved ambivalence that lies at the heart of human attitudes toward animals The author brings to light dichotomies in human thinking about animals throughout this key period awestruck with the beauty and spirit of wild animals people nevertheless desired to capture and tame them the belief that other species are inferior was firmly held yet at the same time animals in stories and fables were given human attributes though laws against animal cruelty were introduced the overworking of horses and the allure of sport hunting persisted Animals are central in cultural history Donald concludes and compelling questions about them then and now remain unanswered Memory and Pedagogy Claudia Mitchell, Teresa Strong-Wilson, Kathleen Pithouse, Susann Allnutt, 2010-12-14 Memory work the conscious remembering and study of individual and shared memories is increasingly being acknowledged as a key pedagogical tool in working with children Giving students opportunities and support to remember and study their selves as individuals and as communities allows them to see their future as something that belongs to them and that they can influence in some way for the better This edited volume brings together essays from scholars who are studying the interconnections between pedagogy and memory in the context of social themes and social inquiry within educational research The book provides a range of perspectives on the social and pedagogical relevance of memory studies to the educational arena in relation to the themes of memory and method revisiting childhood memory and place addressing political conflict sexuality and embodiment and inter generational studies History Teacher's
