The Economics of

Immigration and Social Diversity Solomon W. Polachek, Carmel Chiswick, Hillel Rapoport, 2006-01-05 Part of The Research in Labor Economics series this volume is a collection of papers dedicated to the memory of the late Tikva Lecker Professor Lecker's many interests included topics in labor economics women and the economy the economics of Judaism the economics of migration and the economic experience of immigrants and their descendants Measurement Invariance Rens Van De Schoot, Peter Schmidt, Alain De Beuckelaer, 2015-10-05 Multi item surveys are frequently used to study scores on latent factors like human values attitudes and behavior Such studies often include a comparison between specific groups of individuals either at one or multiple points in time If such latent factor means are to be meaningfully compared the measurement structures including the latent factor and their survey items should be stable across groups and or over time that is invariant Recent developments in statistics have provided new analytical tools for assessing measurement invariance MI The aim of this special issue is to provide a forum for a discussion of MI covering some crucial themes 1 ways to assess and deal with measurement non invariance 2 Bayesian and IRT methods employing the concept of approximate measurement invariance and 3 new or adjusted approaches for testing MI to fit increasingly complex statistical models and specific characteristics of survey data The special issue started with a kick off meeting where all potential contributors shared ideas on potential papers This expert workshop was organized at Utrecht University in The Netherlands and was funded by the Netherlands Organization for Scientific Research NWO VENI 451 11 008 After the kick off meeting the authors submitted their papers all of which were reviewed by experts in the field The papers in the eBook are listed in alphabetical order but in the editorial the papers are introduced thematically Although it is impossible to cover all areas of relevant research in the field of MI papers in this eBook provide insight on important aspects of measurement invariance We hope that the discussions included in this special issue will stimulate further research on MI and facilitate further discussions to support the understanding of the role of MI in multi item surveys Civil Society, Conflict and Violence Wolfgang Dörner, Regina A. List, 2012-04-10 Based on the findings of the CIVICUS Civil Society Index Programme this volume looks at the role that civil society organizations play in generating or alleviating conflict and violence and at how situations of conflict and violence impact on the state of civil society in various settings Values, Economic Crisis and Democracy Mălina Voicu, Ingwill C. Mochmann, Hermann Dülmer, 2016-01-29 For the past decade European countries have undergone a severe economic crisis with severe consequences both for individuals and for governments Unemployment and rising poverty have compelled individuals to reconsider their own priorities and goals while governments have been forced to rethink social policies on the national level as well as their international economic and political agreements Some countries have been more deeply affected by the crisis than others and the impact of economic shortage on individuals and governments has differed not only because of the different magnitudes of the crisis but also because individuals react differently to the contextual changes This book makes use of cross national survey data to explore the impact of wealth and economic contexts on social values Instead of attempting to explain how aggregate changes occur as previous volumes have done the chapters in this collection focus on micro level effects to interrogate more deeply the interplay between attitudes and values and the way both can change as a result of transformation of economic context This book elaborates on several dimensions of value change the measurement model and the way it changes under the impact of economic shortage the connection between universal value orientations and attitudes towards different objects e g the welfare state immigrants and ethnic groups the effects of economic factors and vulnerability on values and attitudinal orientations how particular political and economic contexts produce changes in political orientations This book focuses on the interrelationship of social values attitudes and economic scarcity in the context of the last economic crisis experienced by many European countries It will appeal to scholars and students of sociology political science and economics
