Mediascapes New Patterns In Canadian Communication:

Mediascapes Paul Attallah, Leslie Regan Shade, 2006 Indigenous Screen Cultures in Canada Sigurjon Baldur Hafsteinsson, Marian Bredin, 2010-09-01 Indigenous media challenges the power of the state erodes communication monopolies and illuminates government threats to Indigenous cultural social economic and political sovereignty Its effectiveness in these areas however is hampered by government control of broadcast frequencies licensing and legal limitations over content and ownership Indigenous Screen Cultures in Canada explores key questions surrounding the power and suppression of Indigenous narrative and representation in contemporary Indigenous media Focussing primarily on the Aboriginal Peoples Television Network the authors also examine Indigenous language broadcasting in radio television and film Aboriginal journalism practices audience creation within and beyond Indigenous communities the roles of program scheduling and content acquisition policies in the decolonization process the roles of digital video technologies and co production agreements in Indigenous filmmaking and the emergence of Aboriginal cyber communities Canadian Cultural Policy in Transition Devin Beauregard, Jonathan Paquette, 2021-07-28 This book offers a comprehensive overview of Canadian cultural policy and research at a time of transition and redefinition to establish a dialogue between conventional and emerging foundations Taking a historical view the book informs insights on current trends in policy and explores global debates underpinning cultural policy studies within a local context The book first acknowledges what Canadian cultural policy research conventionally recognizes and refers to in terms of institutions values and debates before moving on to take stock of the transformations that are continuing to reshape Canadian cultural policy in terms of values orientations actors and institutions With a focus on all levels of government federal provincial and local the book also centers on Indigenous arts policies and practices This systematic and inclusive volume will appeal to academic researchers graduate students managers of arts and culture programs and institutions and in the areas of cultural policy public administration political science cultural studies film and media studies theatre and performance and museum studies Targeted Transnationals Jenna Hennebry, Bessma Momani, 2013-04-01 Following 9 11 the securitization of state practices and policies has chipped away at the citizenship and personal rights of all Canadians particularly those of Arab descent This book argues that in a securitized global context and through racialized immigration and security policies Arab Canadians have become targeted transnationals Negative media representations have further legitimized their homogenization and racialization With an eye to the implications for human rights multiculturalism and integration the contributors to this book draw on qualitative interviews policy and media analysis to examine state practices towards and media representations of Arab Canadians They also present voices that counter the dominant discourse and trace forms of community resistance to the racialization of Arab Canadians Targeted Transnationals concludes with reflections on the challenges to integration and the relevance of multiculturalism in the context of globalization and transnationalism Interactive Realism Daniel Mark Downes, 2005 It is commonplace in our

digitized world to think that technology is the primary agent of psychological and social change In Interactive Realism Daniel Downes argues that it continues to be people who construct social reality through their interactions critiquing the transformative turn in media studies Distinguishing between the Internet a communication system and cyberspace an environment for human exchange the author provides a framework for exploring the metaphors and images used in cyberspace to represent and model social reality He clarifies how these symbolic interactions are linked to the technologies used to create store and transmit them and to their social context Drawing on examples from digital games web design film and photography the author shows how individual experiences are calibrated by technology and how digital communication contributes to broader processes such as community building and public memory Downes articulates a nuanced form of media ecology that does not focus on a single cause of change but rather on the relationships between embodied experience communication systems and representations Interactive Realism establishes a new method for understanding the importance of digital media to the construction of social reality

Host Cities and the Olympics Harry H. Hiller, 2014 Rather than interpreting the Olympics as primarily a sporting event of international or national significance this book understands the Games as a civic project for the host city that serves as a catalyst for a variety of urban interests over a period of many years from the bidding phase through the event itself Traditional Olympic studies have tended to examine the Games from an outsider's perspective or as something experienced through the print media or television In contrast the focus presented here is on the dynamics within the host city understood as a community of interacting individuals who encounter the Games in a variety of ways through support opposition or even indifference but who have a profound influence on the outcome of the Games as actors and players in the Olympics as a drama Adopting a symbolic interactionist approach the book offers a new interpretive model through which to understand the Olympic Games by exploring the relationship between the Games and residents of the host city Key analytical concepts such as framing dramaturgy the public realm and the symbolic field are introduced and illustrated through empirical research from the Vancouver 2010 Winter Games and it is shown how the social media and shifts in public opinion reflected interaction effects within the city By filling a clear lacuna in the Olympic Studies canon this book is important reading for anybody with an interest in the sociology of sport urban studies event studies or urban sociology

The Routledge Companion to Alternative and Community Media Chris Atton, 2015-05-15 The Routledge Companion to Alternative and Community Media provides an authoritative and comprehensive examination of the diverse forms practices and philosophies of alternative and community media across the world The volume offers a multiplicity of perspectives to examine the reasons why alternative and community media arise how they develop in particular ways and in particular places and how they can enrich our understanding of the broader media landscape and its place in society The 50 chapters present a range of theoretical and methodological positions and arguments to demonstrate the dynamic challenging and innovative thinking around the subject locating media theory and practice within the broader concerns of democracy citizenship social exclusion race class and gender In addition to research from the UK the US Canada Europe and Australia the Companion also includes studies from Colombia Haiti India South Korea and Zimbabwe enabling international comparisons to be made and also allowing for the problematisation of traditional often Western approaches to media studies By considering media practices across a range of cultures and communities this collection is an ideal companion to the key issues and debates within alternative and community media

Race and Racialization, 2E Tania Das Gupta, Carl E. James, Chris Andersen, Grace-Edward Galabuzi, Roger C. A. Maaka, 2018-02-01 Few words have generated as much debate and controversy as the word race Through a critical examination of this complex subject this anthology brings together essential contributions to the study of race and racialization An excellent compilation of classic and contemporary works by academic and activist writers Race and Racialization provides historical comparative and global perspectives on race and its intersection with gender class ethnicity indigeneity and sexuality This well updated second edition includes a new section on state multiculturalism and a diverse ensemble of Canadian and international contributors who explore such relevant themes as colonialism institutional racism ethnocentrism privilege marginalization and resistance Featuring introductions to each piece written by the editors annotated lists of supplementary readings to encourage further exploration and contributions by activists from Idle No More and Black Lives Matter this comprehensive and highly accessible anthology is perfect for students studying race racism cultural diversity identity and belonging social inequality and social justice

The Media Gaze Augie Fleras, 2011-09-15 While Canada is known for its official commitment to diversity a close look at our media reveals that though they frequently promote superficial representations of difference they actually play a pivotal role in producing and reproducing the values structures and priorities of a predominantly straight white male society The Media Gaze exposes how newscasters advertisers filmmakers and television programmers attempt to co opt audiences into believing that media depictions entail neither prejudice nor perspective In truth the experiences of those who fall outside of the media s preferred populations are actively ignored or misrepresented In this timely audit of the Canadian mainstream media sociologist Augie Fleras draws on compelling case studies to explore the societal implications of the industry s hidden bias He also examines alternative forms of media and media literacy to present readers with tools to challenge the dominant agenda

The Wrong Story Greg Shupak, 2018-05-10 The Wrong Story lays bare the flaws in the way large media organizations present the Palestine Israel issue It points out major fallacies in the fundamental conceptions that underpin their coverage namely that Palestinians and Israelis are both victims to comparable extents and are equally responsible for the failure to find a solution that the problem is extremists often religiously motivated ones who need to be sidelined in favour of moderates and that Israel's uses of force are typically justifiable acts of self defense Weaving together the existing literature with new insights Shupak offers an up to date and tightly focused guide that exposes the distorted way these issues are presented and why each is misguided

Audio-Visual Industries and Diversity Luis A. Albornoz, Ma. Trinidad Garcia Leiva, 2019-03-20 This book reflects critically on issues of diversity access and the expansion of digital technologies in audio visual industries particularly in terms of economics and policies It brings together specialists in cultural diversity and media industries presenting an international and interdisciplinary collection of essays that draw from different fields of studies notably Communication Economics Political Science and Law Among the topics discussed are the principle of diversity as a goal of cultural and communication policies the assessment of the UNESCO Convention on Cultural Diversity free trade agreements and the conception of cultural goods and services they advance the challenges faced by the production circulation and consumption of cultural content through the Internet the role algorithms play in the organization and functioning of online platforms Netflix and the hegemony of global media The approach is a critical understanding of audio visual diversity that aims to transcend specific issues like media ownership ideas portrayed or modes of consumption as such to focus on a more balanced distribution of communicative power This volume is an essential read for scholars and researchers in Communication Studies Economy of Culture International Relations and International Law as well as policy makers journalists specialized in media and culture and managers of public and private institutions involved in the development of cultural and communication policies Postgraduate students will find it a key reference point

Converging Media, Diverging Politics Mike Gasher, 2005-01-01 What purpose does the news media serve in contemporary North American society In this collection of essays experts from both the United States and Canada investigate this question exploring the effects of media concentration in democratic systems Specifically the scholars collected here consider from a range of vantage points how corporate and technological convergence in the news industry in the United States and Canada impacts journalism s expressed role as a medium of democratic communication More generally and by necessity Converging Media Diverging Politics speaks to larger questions about the role that the production and circulation of news and information does can and should serve The editors have gathered an impressive array of critical essays featuring interesting and well documented case studies that will prove useful to both students and researchers of communications and media studies

Outside Looking In Mary Jane Miller, 2008-06-09 Using recent scholarship in ethnography and popular culture Miller throws light on both what these series present and what is missing how various long standing issues are raised and framed differently over time and what new issues appear She looks at narrative arc characterization dialogue and theme as well as how inflections of familiar genres like family adventure soap opera situation comedy and legal drama shape both the series and viewers expectations Miller discusses Radisson Forest Rangers and other children s series in the 1960s and early 1970s as well as Beachcombers Spirit Bay The Rez and North of 60 series whose complex characters created rewarding relationships while dealing with issues ranging from addiction to unemployment to the aftermath of the residential school system
