Shapes of Time in British Twenty-First Century Quantum Fiction Sonia Front, 2015-09-04 This book addresses the notion of time and temporality and its various conceptualizations in the theories of the new physics utilized as a thematic and formal framework in the British novel of the twenty first century As the Newtonian conception of reality does not provide a reliable framework within which to situate human experience and generate meaning fiction writers have recognized quantum mechanics as a potent source from which to draw in search of new metaphors The quantum has become a part of the understanding of reality and its concepts and assumptions have been absorbed into the textual structure and content of literary fiction Shapes of Time in British Twenty First Century Quantum Fiction examines human temporality as mediated by the timeshapes imagined within the context of the new physics and explores the philosophical implications for human temporality and identity of situating an individual within the realm of physical time Its chapters deal with various concepts of the new physics connected with temporality and their appropriation in a selected novel parallel universes in Andrew Crumey's Sputnik Caledonia 2008 eternal recurrence and Poincaré's theorem in David Mitchell's Cloud Atlas 2004 chaos theory in Samantha Harvey's The Wilderness 2009 and the end of time in Scarlett Thomas's The End of Mr Y 2006 Each of them corresponds to a different conceptual shape of time tree concertina spiral and snapshot respectively which is enacted on the formal level Analyzing the new time constructs in a narrative this book thus uncovers passages between scientific and humanistic standpoints and reveals quantum fiction to be an effective tool for visualizing the subjective non homogenous experience of private time

"Hours like bright sweets in a jar" Sonia Front, Alicja Bemben, 2014-10-16 The papers gathered in the present collection investigate time and temporality from a number of interdisciplinary perspectives literary or film studies postcolonial theory physics philosophy psychology urban studies history and gender studies This wide spectrum of scholarly approaches encompasses chapters dealing with the convergences of time and the human psyche time and the body time and memory time and trauma time and change time and cultural reproduction time and language time and the city and time and identity It transpires that the imaginary refigurations of time more often than not constitute resistance against the linearity of chronometric time represented by institutions capitalism government and power and attempts to colonize the human psyche In attempting to assault this hegemony of linear time literary cinematographic and cultural practice enacts exploding temporalities to reflect the multifacetedness and multidirectionality of the human experience of time The Routledge Companion to Narrative Theory Paul Dawson, Maria

Poulaki, 2019-08-01 The variety in contemporary philosophical and aesthetic thinking as well as in scientific and experimental research on complexity has not yet been fully adopted by narratology By integrating cutting edge approaches this volume takes a step toward filling this gap and establishing interdisciplinary narrative research on complexity Narrative Complexity provides a framework for a more complex and nuanced study of narrative and explores the experience of narrative complexity in terms of cognitive processing affect and mind and body engagement Bringing together leading international scholars from a range of disciplines this volume combines analytical effort and conceptual insight in order to relate more effectively our theories of narrative representation and complexities of intelligent behavior This collection engages important questions on how narrative complexity functions as an agent of cultural evolution how our understanding of narrative complexity can be extended in light of new research in the social sciences and humanities how interactive media produce new types of narrative complexity and how the role of embodiment as a factor of narrative complexity acquires prominence in cognitive science and media studies The contributors explore narrative complexity transmitted through various semiotic channels embedded in multiple contexts and experienced across different media including film comics music interactive apps audiowalks and ambient literature Time and Trace: Multidisciplinary Investigations of Temporality Sabine Gross, Steve

Virginia Woolf and the Ethics of Intimacy Elsa Högborg, 2020-02-06

Revisiting Virginia Woolf's most experimental novels Elsa Högborg explores how Woolf's writing prompts us to re-examine the meaning of intimacy In Högborg's readings of Jacob's Room Mrs Dalloway To the Lighthouse and The Waves intimacy is revealed to inhere not just in close relations with the ones we know and love but primarily within those unsettling encounters which suspend our comfortable sense of ourselves as separate from others and the world around us Virginia Woolf and the Ethics of Intimacy locates this radical notion of intimacy at the heart of Woolf's introspective modernist poetics as well as her ethical and political resistance to violence aggressive nationalism and fascism Engaging contemporary theory particularly the more recent works of Judith Butler Luce Irigaray and Julia Kristeva it reads Woolf as a writer and ethical thinker whose vital contribution to the modernist scene of inter-war Britain is strikingly relevant to critical debates around intimacy affect violence and vulnerability in our own time

The Palgrave Handbook of Gothic Origins Clive Bloom, 2022-01-01

This handbook provides a comprehensive overview of research on the Gothic Revival The Gothic Revival was based on emotion rather than reason and when Horace Walpole created Strawberry Hill House a gleaming white castle on the banks of the Thames he had to create new words to describe the experience of gothic lifestyle Nevertheless Walpole's house produced nightmares and his book The Castle of Otranto was the first truly gothic novel with supernatural sensational and Shakespearean elements challenging the emergent fiction of social relationships The novel's themes of violence tragedy death imprisonment castle battlements dungeons fair maidens secrets ghosts and prophecies led to a new genre encompassing prose theatre poetry and painting whilst opening up a whole world of imagination for entrepreneurial female writers such as Mary Shelley Joanna Baillie and Ann Radcliffe whose immensely popular books led to the intense inner landscapes of the Brontë sisters Matthew Lewis's The Monk created a new gothic atheistic decadent perverse necrophilic and hellish The social upheaval of the French Revolution and the emergence of the Romantic movement with its more intense and often atheistic self-absorption led the gothic into darker corners of human experience with a greater emphasis on the inner life hallucination delusion drug addiction mental instability perversion and death and the emerging science of psychology The intensity of the German experience led to an emphasis on doubles and schizophrenic behaviour ghosts spirits mesmerism the occult and hell This volume charts the origins of this major shift in social perceptions and completes a trilogy of Palgrave Handbooks on the Gothic combined they provide an exhaustive survey of current research in Gothic studies a go to for students and researchers alike

Beckett and the Cognitive Method Marco Bernini, 2021 How can literature enhance parallel or reassess the scientific study of the mind Or is literature instead limited to the ancillary role of representing cognitive processes Beckett and the Cognitive Method argues that Beckett's narrative work rather than just expressing or rendering cognition and mental states inaugurates an exploratory use of narrative as an introspective modeling technology defined as introspection by simulation Through a detailed analysis of Beckett's entire corpus and published volumes of letters the book argues that Beckett pioneered a new method of writing to construct in a mode analogous to scientific inquiry models for the exploration of core laws processes and dynamics in the human mind Marco Bernini integrates models problems and interpretive frameworks from contemporary narrative theory cognitive sciences phenomenology and philosophy of mind to make a case for Beckett's modeling practice of a vast array of processes including the narrative illusion of a sense of self the hallucinatory quality of inner speech the dialogic interaction with memories and felt presences the synesthetic nature of inner experience and mental imagery the developmental cooperation of language and locomotion the role of moods and emotions as cognitive drives the layered complexity of the mind and the emergent quality of consciousness Beckett and the Cognitive Method also reflects on how Beckett's fictional cognitive models are transformed into reading auditory or spectatorial experiences generating through narrative devices insights on which the sciences can only discursively or descriptively report As such the study advocates for their relevance to the contemporary scientific debate towards an interdisciplinary co modeling of cognition

Novelistic Inquiries into the Mind Grzegorz Maziarczyk, Joanna Klara Teske, 2016-09-23 Novelistic Inquiries into the Mind traces the multiple relations between the mind and the contemporary novel The contributors here examine various types of narrative fiction ranging from the postmodern novels of J M Coetzee and Ian McEwan through the experimental prose of Leslie Scalapino to the popular fiction of James Dashner and Christopher Moore On the one hand they investigate novelistic representations of various mind related issues including different states of consciousness Alzheimer s disease thought experiments and formation of the self On the other by analysing and evaluating in these contexts such narrative devices as unreliable narration development of conceptual networks or multimodal integration of verbal and non verbal semiotic resources they exemplify the multiplicity of techniques whereby the novel can explore the intricacies of mental processes Taken together the essays collected here demonstrate the potential of the novel as genre for representing the mind In its exploration of the problems involved in the linguistic construction of reality the cognitive function of art and the uncertain status of consciousness the contemporary novel thus reflects the mind s urge to understand itself as well as possible meanings of its own perceptions creations and projections Teaching the Literature of Climate Change Debra J. Material Histories of Time Gianenrico Bernasconi,Susanne Thürigen,2020-12-16 The historiography of timekeeping is traditionally characterized by a dichotomy between research that investigates the evolution of technical devices on the one hand and research that is concerned with the examination of the cultures and uses of time on the other hand Material Histories of Time opens a dialogue between these two approaches by taking monumental clocks table clocks portable watches carriage clocks and other forms of timekeeping as the starting point of a joint reflection of specialists of the history of horology together with scholars studying the social and cultural history of time The contributions range from the apparition of the first timekeeping mechanical systems in the Middle Ages to the first evidence of industrialization in the 18th and 19th centuries
