Narrative Pedagogy Life History And Learning Counterpoints:

Narrative Pedagogy Ivor Goodson, Scherto Gill, 2011 It is widely recognised that we are living through an age of the narrative Many of the constituent disciplines in the social sciences resonate with this trend by using life history and narrative approaches and methods As we move on from the modernist period which prioritised objectivity into the postmodern regard for subjectivity this resort to narrative is likely to become more apparent and explicit in academic as well as social and commercial discourse One aspect of this narrative form which is commonly overlooked is that of the pedagogic encounter This is the phenomenon which is addressed by all narrative and biographical research Fundamentally reflecting and examining the narrative of our lives in the process of learning this book provides a series of studies and guidelines for what we have termed narrative pedagogy It presents a resource for an exploration of those narrative processes that can lead to meaningful change and development for individuals and groups within a learning environment and in life learning This focus on life history allows us to identify and support routes to learning within the narrative landscape of learners and through these pedagogic encounters

The Art of Medical Communication Charlie Guy, 2023-09-04 The field of medical humanities is growing rapidly and offers many valuable insights for medical education generally and for enhancing and improving communication specifically Through practical and thought provoking examples this innovative new text demonstrates how engaging with the arts and humanities can benefit the work of doctors and make them better more effective practitioners with a focus on achieving this through better communication and by stimulating self reflection Key features Utilises modern and familiar examples including case studies to illustrate and explore language and communication skill deployment in a variety of given scenarios Reflects the increasing use of online consultation and the associated importance of ensuring effective communication in virtual settings Describes several models for reflective practice Supported by a selection of eResources to enhance reader experience and understanding visit www.routledge.com/9781032272726 This new book is written specifically for medical students junior doctors and medical educators looking to develop or teach communication skills It will instil and support the background understanding of the role need and ongoing requirement for humanities engagement in self development and reflection to enhance and improve the experience of both the practitioner and the patient

Dramatherapy Richard Hougham, Bryn Jones, 2021-08-05 This book investigates the nature and phenomena of interruption in ways that have relevance for contemporary dramatherapy practice It is a timely contribution amidst an age of interruption and examines how dramatherapists might respond with agency and discernment in personal professional and cultural contexts The writing gathers fresh ideas on how to conceptualise and utilise interruptions artistically socially and politically Individual chapters destabilise traditional conceptions of verbal and behavioural models of psychotherapy and offer a new vision based in the arts and philosophy There are examples of interruption in practice contexts augmented by extracts from case studies and clinical vignettes The book is not a sequential narrative rather a bricolage of ideas which create intersections between aesthetics language and the imagination New and international voices in dramatherapy emerge to generate a radical immanence from Greek shadow puppetry to the Japanese horticultural practice of Shakkei from the appearance of ghosts in the consulting room to images in the third space of the therapeutic encounter interruptions are reckoned with as relevant and generative This book will be of interest to students arts therapists scholars and practitioners who are concerned with the nature of interruption and how dramatherapy can offer a means of active engagement Issues and Innovations in Prison Health Research Matthew Maycock,Rosie Meek,James Woodall,2020-09-30 This book constitutes the first publication to utilise a range of social science methodologies to illuminate diverse and new aspects of health research in prison settings Prison contexts often have profound implications for the health of the people who live and work within them Despite these settings often housing people from extremely disadvantaged and deprived communities many with multiple and complex health needs health research is generally neglected within both criminology and medical sociology Through the fourteen chapters of this book a range of issues emerge that the authors of each contribution reflect upon The ethical concerns that emerge as a consequence of undertaking prison health research are not ignored indeed these lie at the heart of this book and resonate across all the chapters Foregrounding these issues necessarily forms a significant focus of this introductory chapter Alongside explicitly considering emerging ethical issues our contributing authors also have considered diverse aspects of innovation in research methodologies within the context of prison health research Many of the chapters are innovative through the methodologies that were used often adapting and utilising research methods rarely used within prison settings The book brings together chapters from students scholars practitioners and service users from a range of disciplines including medical sociology medical anthropology criminology psychology and public health Marketing Rural Tourism Gunjan Saxena,2016-11-25 Gunjan Saxena seeks to encourage a fuller understanding of rural tourism marketing by uncovering the lived experiences and enterprise of different actor groups as they respond to the impact of tourism on their communities and cultural identities In so doing the author makes a key contribution to the wider marketing discourse that circulates around place marketing and rural destinations Caste Discrimination and Exclusion in Indian Universities N. Sukumar,2022-07-25 This book studies the exclusion and discrimination that is meted out to Scheduled Caste SC students in the Indian Higher Education system and the psychosocial consequences of such practices It foregrounds the conceptual debates around caste exclusion and reservations in Indian academia discussing the social dominance and the roots of prejudices in the university spaces The volume reflects upon the fragile social world in which students from the margins struggle for survival in the academic space It reveals that these students navigate the various facets of academia like classrooms pedagogy scholarships hostels peer groups and teachers only to find the academic space a dystopian universe The book also sheds light on suicide cases committed by the marginalized groups as a testimony of protest Based on in depth ethnographic research this book will be of interest to teachers students and researchers of education sociology political science psychology and exclusion studies It will also be useful for policymakers social activists NGOs research centers and those working in higher education reservations public policy caste and exclusion studies

Teaching the Eighteenth Century Now Kate Parker, Miriam L. Wallace, 2023-12-15 In this timely collection teacher scholars of the long eighteenth century a Eurocentric time frame from about 1680 to 1832 consider what teaching means in this historical moment one of attacks on education a global contagion and a reckoning with centuries of trauma experienced by Black Indigenous and immigrant peoples Taking up this challenge each essay highlights the intellectual labor of the classroom linking textual and cultural materials that fascinate us as researchers with pedagogical approaches that engage contemporary students Some essays offer practical models for teaching through editing sensory experience dialogue or collaborative projects Others reframe familiar texts and topics through contemporary approaches such as the health humanities disability studies and decolonial teaching Throughout authors reflect on what it is that we do when we teach how our pedagogies can be more meaningful more impactful and more relevant Published by Bucknell University Press Distributed worldwide by Rutgers University Press

Blended Learning Solutions in Higher Education Neil Hughes, 2024-09-24 Blended Learning Solutions in Higher Education explores the origins empirical foundations and implementation of blended learning in colleges and universities Since emerging as a third way solution to traditional and virtual higher education models blended learning has become a predominant learning modality in an era of rapid technological proliferation Offering an alternative to longstanding yet flawed methodologies and assumptions about its validity this book conceptualizes blended learning as a complex social practice mediated by knowledge institutional rules policies and norms as well as material factors such as technology and physical spaces The book's original MIRACLE framework offers a research grounded highly practical guide to blended learning design improvement and long term efficacy From demystified history and heuristics to digitized platforms and course content to reimagined governance and regulations these insights provide a thoughtful exemplar of blended learning's challenges and affordances along with a firm basis for integrating face to face and online learning teaching and assessment innovatively and creatively

The Reception of Northrop Frye ,2021-08-31 The widespread opinion is that Northrop Frye's influence reached its zenith in the 1960s and 1970s after which point he became obsolete his work buried in obscurity This almost universal opinion is summed up in Terry Eagleton's 1983 rhetorical question Who now reads Frye In The Reception of Northrop Frye Robert D Denham catalogues what has been written about Frye books articles translations dissertations and theses and reviews in order to demonstrate that the attention Frye's work has received from the beginning has progressed at a geomantic rate Denham also explores what we can discover once we have a fairly complete record of Frye's reception in front of us such as Hayden White's theory of emplotments applied to historical writing and Byron Alm's theory of musical narrative The sheer quantity of what has been written about Frye reveals that the only valid response to Eagleton's rhetorical question is a very large and growing number the growth being not incremental but exponential
