Meaning And Mental Representations Advances In Semiotics:

Meaning and Mental Representations Umberto Eco,1988 Meaning and Mental Representations Umberto Eco,Marco Santambrogio,Patrizia Violi,1988 an excellent collection Journal of Language Social Psychology An important collection of original essays by well known scholars debating the questions of logical versus psychologically based interpretations of language Trames ,1997 Ancient Near Eastern Iconography and the Bible Hans Ulrich Steymans,2024-10-31 Examines the dilemma of whether ancient Near Eastern images while providing unique aspects of the world views of the cultures from which the Bible arose can be interpreted in a way that traceably relates them to the biblical text To avoid the danger of using images merely as illustrations for concepts found in the Bible one first needs to behold the image with its own right to been seen The essays within this volume describe the methods developed by Othmar Keel for bringing imagery into a dialogue with texts from the ancient Orient and their own interpretation including previously unpublished material from Keel The contributions begin with an overview of the scholarly work of Keel and the development of his aims and methods including a revision of an article dealing with semiology in the interpretation of art The book proceeds to address the research history of iconology in art history presenting the methodology of Erwin Panofsky and one of his influential predecessors Charles Clermont Ganneau in contrast with Keel s three methodological steps leading from iconographic analysis to iconology Contributors then present two case studies of how Keel s method can be applied to interpret Egyptian and Mesopotamian images allowing insights into the worldview of an ancient culture and the aim of iconology The book concludes with a report about how iconographic analysis and iconology is taught on University level

The Possibility of Language Alan K. Melby, C. Terry Warner, 1995 This book is about the limits of machine translation It is widely recognized that machine translation systems do much better on domain specific controlled language texts domain texts for short than on dynamic general language texts general texts for short The authors explore this general domain distinction and come to some uncommon conclusions about the nature of language Domain language is claimed to be made possible by general language while general language is claimed to be made possible by the ethical dimensions of relationships Domain language is unharmed by the constraints of objectivism while general language is suffocated by those constraints Along the way to these conclusions visits are made to Descartes and Saussure to Chomsky and Lakoff to Wittgenstein and Levinas From these conclusions consequences are drawn for machine translation and translator tools for linguistic theory and translation theory The title of the book does not question whether language is possible it asks with wonder and awe why communication through language is possible The Place of the Mosque Akel Ismail Kahera,2022-06-14 The Place of the Mosque

Genealogies of Space Knowledge and Power extends Foucault s analysis Of Other Spaces and the ideological conflicts which underlie the controversies of our day and take place between pious descendants of time and tenacious inhabitants of space This book uses Foucault s framework to illuminate how mosques have been threatened in the past from the Cord ba Mosque in the eighth century to the development of Moorish aesthetics in the United States in the nineteenth century to the clashes surrounding the building of mosques in the West in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Akel Kahera uses Foucault s genealogy to elaborate on and study the subjects that are caught in the emergence of a battle the social and political will to power the networks of power and the rituals of power within the interstitial space In going beyond individual buildings to broader geographical and genealogical dimensions of the power struggles The Place of the Mosque reconciles the public space experience governmentality and micro powers paving the way for a new philosophical language Expanding architectural and urban regional approaches Kahera shows the biopolitical significance of the problem of space The

Emotional Prosody Processing for Non-Native English Speakers Halszka Bąk,2016-09-02 This volume provides the first systematic and data driven exploration of English emotional prosody processing in the minds of non native speakers of the language Over the past few decades emotional prosody has attracted the interest of researchers from a variety of disciplines such as psychiatry neuropsychology psycholinguistics and linguistics Although a considerable collective body of empirical evidence exists regarding emotional prosody processing in native speakers of various languages non native speakers have been virtually ignored This constitutes a knowledge gap of increasing relevance as we approach 2050 the year when the global population of non native speakers of English is estimated to overtake that of native speakers of the language This volume aims to fill this gap and provide insights into how emotions are processed on multiple levels while also presenting novel methodological solutions Crucially Emotional Prosody Processing for Non Native English Speakers Towards an Integrative Emotion Paradigm begins by providing a conceptual background of emotion research and then demonstrates a novel workable completely integrative paradigm for emotion research This integrative approach reconciles theories such as the dimensional view of emotions the standard basic emotions view and the appraisal view of emotions Following this theoretical section is an empirical exploration of the topic the volume explores those views via experimental tasks The insight into overall processing such a multiple level approach allows a comprehensive answer to the question of how non native speakers of English process emotional prosody in their second language By offering a critical data driven integrative approach to investigating emotions in the minds of non native English speakers this volume is a significant and timely contribution to the literature on emotion prosody processing bilingual research and broadly understood emotion research

Guide to the Study of Religion Willi Braun, Russell T. McCutcheon, 2000 What is religion Can it be defined at all Or is it too easily defined in far too many ways so as to make a religion a drifting signifier or whatever one s pleasure is Does the study of religion require special perhaps religious tools of analysis and explanation What is the difference between a knowledge of religion derived from practicing it and a knowledge about religion derived from nonreligious modes of inquiry Sooner or later any serious student of religion must face these questions if religious practices are to be investigated in the light of the terms and aims of the social and human sciences in the modern university The Guide to the Study of Religion provides a map of the key concepts and thought structures for imagining and studying religion as a class of everyday social practices that lend themselves to no more or less difficult explanation than any other class of social phenomena The Cognitive Semiotics of Film Warren Buckland, 2000-05-29 In The Cognitive Semiotics of Film Warren Buckland argues that the conflict between cognitive film theory and contemporary film theory is unproductive Examining and developing the work of cognitive film semiotics a neglected branch of film theory that combines the insights of cognitive science with those of linguistics and semiotics he investigates Michel Colin s cognitive semantic theory of film Francesco Casetti and Christian Metz s theories of film enunciation Roger Odin s cognitive pragmatic film theory and Michel Colin and Dominique Chateau s cognitive studies of film syntax which are viewed within the framework of Noam Chomsky s transformational generative grammar Presenting a survey of cognitive film semiotics this study also re evaluates the film semiotics of the 1960s

highlights the weaknesses of American cognitive film theory and challenges the move toward post theory in film studies

Ten Lectures on Field Semantics and Semantic Typology Jürgen Bohnemeyer, 2021-09-27 The first four lectures revolve around field semantics research methods for studying linguistic meaning under fieldwork conditions The remaining six lectures deal with semantic typology the crosslinguistic study of how humans communicate about the world in terms of the meaning categories of the languages they speak Together the lectures present one of the first comprehensive introductions to either topic A thread pervading the lectures involves the following questions how much do languages vary in how they represent reality To what extent does this variation reflect cultural differences To what extent does it influence the nonverbal thinking of the speakers
