Mehdi Riazi, 2024-01-15

Research methodology plays a pivotal role in generating new knowledge in any academic discipline. Applied Linguistics (AL) researchers use a variety of research methodologies to address different research problems and research questions given its interdisciplinary nature. Notwithstanding the plethora of research methodologies used by AL researchers, there are some methodologies that are used less frequently. The aim of this volume is to introduce and discuss these less frequently used methodologies. Each methodology is discussed in two chapters: a theoretical and a practical chapter. In the theoretical chapters, the theoretical foundations, methodological orientation, ethical issues, and critiques and responses are discussed. In the practical chapters, a showcase study is presented and discussed, including why the methodology was used, how it was implemented, the challenges the researchers faced, and the insights they gained. The volume contributes to the current methodological discussion in AL and provides early career and seasoned researchers with the necessary discussion about these methodological orientations. Future AL researchers may use these methodologies to investigate research questions in their areas of interest. In addition, the volume can complement current methodological resources in postgraduate research methodology courses. Engaging Children in Applied Linguistics Research Annamaria Pinter, 2023-10-19

Who should speak for children in applied linguistics research? Should it be only adults, or is there room for children's perspectives and views as well? This pioneering book brings their voices to the forefront and shows that listening to children can open up new possibilities to conduct research with children rather than just on them. It covers a range of possibilities from simply asking for children's perspectives to increasing levels of active participation, including adult-child partnerships as well as child-led research. Examples taken from the interdisciplinary literature illustrate what is feasible to achieve in different contexts, and both benefits and challenges are discussed alongside the most pressing ethical dilemmas. A new alternative framework for researching with children is promoted, which invites teachers and researchers to consider a wider range of roles that children can play and encourages them to find their own opportunities when it comes to research involving children. Feedback in Second Language Writing Ken Hyland, Fiona Hyland, 2019-07-04

Offers an up-to-date analysis of issues related to providing using and researching feedback, including new developments in technology. Reflections on Language Teacher Identity Research Gary Barkhuizen, 2016-11-10

Reflections on Language Teacher Identity Research is the first book to present understandings of language teacher identity (LTI) from a broad range of research fields. Drawing on their personal research experience, 41 contributors locate LTI within their area of expertise by considering their conceptual understanding of LTI and the methodological approaches used to investigate it. The chapters are narrative in nature and take the form of guided reflections within a common chapter structure with authors embedding their discussions within biographical accounts of their professional lives and research work Authors weave discussions of LTI into their own research biographies employing a personal reflective style This book also looks to future directions in LTI research with suggestions for research topics and methodological approaches This is an ideal resource for students and researchers interested in language teacher identity as well as language teaching and research more generally

Crossing Borders, Writing Texts, Being Evaluated Anne Golden, Lars Anders Kulbrandstad, Lawrence Jun Zhang, 2021-12-14 This book provides critical perspectives on issues relating to writing norms and assessment as well as writing proficiency development and suggests that scholars need to both carefully examine testing regimes and develop research informed perspectives on tests and testing practices In this way schools institutions of adult education and universities can better prepare learners with differing cultural experiences to meet the challenges The book brings together empirical studies from diverse geographical contexts to address the crossing of literacy borders with a focus on academic genres and practices Most of the studies examine writing in countries where the norms and expectations are different but some focus on writing in a new discourse community set in a new discipline The chapters shed light on commonalities and differences between these two situations with respect to the expectations and evaluations facing the writers They also consider the extent to which the norms that the writers bring with them from their educational backgrounds and own cultures are compromised in order to succeed in the new educational settings

Corpora in Applied Linguistics Susan Hunston, 2022-05-05 This completely rewritten second edition provides a thorough introduction to corpus research from the point of view of Applied Linguistics

Visualising Multilingual Lives Paula Kalaja, Sílvia Melo-Pfeifer, 2019-03-08 Shortlisted for the 2020 BAAL Book Prize This book brings together empirical studies from around the world to help readers gain a better understanding of multilinguals ranging from small children to elderly people and their lives The chapters focus on the multilingual subjects identities and the ways in which they are discursively and or visually constructed and are split into sections looking specifically at the multilingual self the multilingual learner and multilingual teacher education The studies draw on rich visual data which is analysed for content and or form and often complemented with other types of data to investigate how multilinguals make sense of their use and knowledge of more than one language in their specific context The topic of multilingualism is addressed as subjectively experienced and the book unites the current multilingual narrative and visual turns in Applied Language Studies It will be of interest to students and researchers working in the areas of language learning and teaching teacher education and bi multilingualism as well as to those interested in using visual methods and narratives as a means of academic research

Case Study Research in Applied Linguistics Patricia Duff, 2018-12-07 Case studies of individual language learners are a valuable means of illustrating issues connected with learning using and in some cases losing another language Yet even though increasing numbers of graduate students and scholars conduct research using case studies or mix quantitative and qualitative methods there are no dedicated applied lin

Research Methods in Intercultural Communication Zhu Hua, 2016-01-19 Research Methods in Intercultural Communication introduces and contextualizes the most important methodological issues in the field for upper level undergraduate and graduate students Examples of these issues are which paradigms and how to research multilingually interculturally and ethnically Provides the first dedicated and most comprehensive volume on research methods in intercultural communication research in the last 30 years Explains new and emerging methods as well as more established ones These include Matched Guise Technique Discourse Completion Task Critical Incident Technique Critical Discourse Analysis Ethnography Virtual Ethnography Corpus Analysis Multimodality Conversation Analysis Narrative Analysis Questionnaire and Interview Assists readers in determining the most suitable method for various research questions conceptualizing the research process interpreting results and drawing conclusions Supports students from start to finish with key terms suggestions for further reading research summaries and sound guidance from experienced scholars and researchers Willingness to Communicate, Multilingualism and Interactions in Community Contexts Alastair Henry, Peter D. MacIntyre, 2023-10-10 This book presents the findings of an in depth qualitative longitudinal investigation into the willingness to communicate WTC of individuals who through varying migration channels left one cultural linguistic context to make a new life in another It examines communication behaviours and language choice in multilingual community contexts and emphasises how even the most trivial of communication events are embedded in histories of previous communication and are influenced by emotions connected with a person s overall life situation The book fills a gap in contemporary WTC research by examining how WTC operates in multilingual community contexts Through the use of a complexity lens and the presentation of a revised 3D pyramid model the authors demonstrate the dynamic nature of WTC and shed new light on processes that affect communication migration and well being This book will be of interest to researchers seeking to explore individual differences using context sensitive and temporally focused designs During the Dissertation Christine Pearson Casanave, 2020-06-01 A textual mentor like During the Dissertation can fill a void in writers lives at a time of solitude uncertainty and anxiety Keep it under your pillow This volume is a sequel to Casanave s popular Before the Dissertation Like that volume this book is designed as a companion for doctoral dissertation writers of qualitative or mixed methods work in fields related to language education It could also benefit those writing master s theses and those writing in other social science fields It is meant to be consulted once the writing has begun once students have settled on a topic designed the project or collected the data because this is the time when they are analyzing drafting revising polishing and probably fretting deleting reconstructing and even losing sleep Also like its predecessor it is not designed to teach anyone how to write a dissertation as there are plenty of those available elsewhere For most doctoral students writing will happen at different stages of the project Strategies for timing of these kinds of writing differ across students and also across supervisors and advisers If dissertation writers do not know by the time they start writing which strategies and issues pertain to them this book can help them craft some approaches to suit their own personalities preferred practices and individual goals and visions as well as help them figure out how dissertation writing might fit into the real life intrusions of work and family Issues covered in the book are starting to write envisioning the project as a whole relationships with supervisors perfectionism and other maladies health low and high IQ days loneliness and isolation distractions and interruptions revising and knowing when to stop
