Narratives Of Place Belonging And Language An Intercultural Perspective Language And Globalization:

Narratives of Place, Belonging and Language Máiréad Nic Craith, 2012-02-10 Examining identity in relation to globalization and migration this book uses narratives and memoirs from contemporary authors who have lived in between two or more languages It explores the human desire to find one's own place in new cultural contexts and looks at the role of language in shaping a sense of belonging in society

Revitalizing Minority Languages Michael Hornsby, 2015-10-05 New speakers are an increasingly important aspect of the revitalization of minority languages since in some cases they can make up the majority of the language community in question This volume examines this phenomenon from the viewpoint of three minority languages Breton Yiddish and Lemko

Transcultural Performance Michele Back, 2015-05-26 Featuring interviews conversations and observations from a multi-sited ethnography of Ecuadorean musicians and their families this book offers an innovative response to previous analyses of globalization and indigenous languages demonstrating how transcultural practices can enhance the use and maintenance of indigenous and minority languages

Globalizing Language Policy and Planning Máiréad Moriarty, 2015-07-28 The book examines the changing relationship between minority languages and language policy and planning in the context of globalization through an examination of the Irish language context It demonstrates how localized practices are involved in the refashioning of the value of the Irish language

Local Cosmopolitanism Kristof Van Assche, Petruța Teampău, 2015-05-15 This book offers a unique perspective on cosmopolitanism examining the ways it is constructed and reconstructed on the small scale in an ongoing process of matching the local with the global a process entailing mutual transformation Based on a wide range of literatures and a series of case studies it analyzes the different versions and functions of cosmopolitanism and points to the need to critically re-examine current conceptions of globalization The book first illustrates the interplay between networks and narratives in the construction of cosmopolitan communities in three specific cities Trieste Odessa and Tbilisi Each has a past more cosmopolitan than the present and each uses that cosmopolitan past to guide them towards the future Next the book focuses on narrative dynamics by isolating several discourses on the cosmopolitan place and figure in European cultural history It then goes on to detail the internal representations and local functions of larger wholes in smaller communities shedding a new light on issues of interdisciplinary interest self-governance participation local knowledge social memory scale planning and development Of interest to political scientists anthropologists economists geographers and philosophers this book offers an insightful contribution to theories of globalization and global-local interaction bringing the local discursive mechanics into sharper focus and also emphasizing the semi-autonomous character of narrative constructions of self and community in a larger world

Conflict, Exclusion and Dissent in the Linguistic Landscape Rani Rubdy, Selim Ben Said, 2016-04-29 This book explores the dynamics of the linguistic landscape as a site of conflict exclusion and dissent It focuses on socio-historical economic political and ideological issues such as reflected in mass protest demonstrations to forge links between landscape identity social justice

Minority Language Promotion, Protection and Regulation C. Williams, 2013-10-30 This is an analysis of the promises and contradictions surrounding contemporary minority language policy It draws on theoretical and real world perspectives and interviews with key players within European institutions together with field work undertaken principally in Ireland Scotland Wales the Basque Country Catalonia and Canada Language, Migration and Social Inequalities Alexandre

Duchêne, Melissa Moyer, Celia Roberts, 2013-11-12 Migration and the mobility of citizens around the globe pose important challenges to the linguistic and cultural homogeneity that nation states rely on for defining their physical boundaries and identity as well as the rights and obligations of their citizens. A new social order resulting from neoliberal economic practices, globalisation and outsourcing also challenges traditional ways the nation state has organized its control over the people who have typically travelled to a new country looking for work or better life chances. This collection provides an account of the ways language addresses core questions concerning power and the place of migrants in various institutional and workplace settings. It brings together contributions from a range of geographical settings to understand better how linguistic inequality is reproduced in this new economic order. From Migrant to Citizen: Testing Language, Testing Culture C. Slade, M. Möllering, 2010-05-28 In this impressive volume a combination of theorists, linguists, historians and lawyers address the subject of citizenship testing for language proficiency and cultural knowledge. Discussing themes of identity and cultural belonging they draw out the implications for Australia and the wider international community. Humor in the Classroom Nancy Bell, Anne Pomerantz, 2015-07-03 Humor in the Classroom provides practical research based answers to questions that educational researchers and language teachers might have about the social and cognitive benefits that humor and language play afford in classroom discourse and additional language learning. The book considers the ways in which humor, language play and creativity can construct new possibilities for classroom identity, critique prevailing norms and reconfigure particular relations of power. Humor in the Classroom encourages educational researchers and language teachers to take a fresh look at the workings of humor in today's linguistically diverse classrooms and makes the argument for its role in building a stronger foundation for studies of classroom discourse, theories of additional language development and approaches to language pedagogy. Challenges in the Social Life of Language John Edwards, 2011-02-08 The first book to highlight the most pressing sociology of language themes of our times. All of which have to do with the twin issues of power and identity. Important evidence and illustrations bearing upon these matters are provided and supplemented by an extensive bibliography.
