All members of the crew should become thoroughly familiar with the location and operation of controls, the correct operating procedures, the maximum lifting capacities and the safety procedures applicable to the unit before operating. This course is a complete review of essential and can be reinforced in many ways. Carefully review the operating procedures outlined below and in the instructional pages of the team rating chart at the instructor's station.

Abstract

Systems like Automated CheckMate for detecting the onset of an operation.

- Inspect in any adverse conditions such as poor hydraulic fluid or tampering of valves the operation, any leakage which may have past time or a warning sign of leakage or improper maintenance
- Check that the lines are released in the proper position
- Check the level of the hydraulic reservoir
- Check the operation of the 'stop' and 'down' valves
- Check for missing and loose bolts
- Check for damaged structural members and seals
- Check all rope guides and cable hangers
- Check all shrouds for free turning
- Check the hoisting cable for kinks, broken strands or other damage it accompanied with its shrouds & the 'hydraulic & Mechanical section'
- Check to see that the hydraulic hoses are in good use in good condition and show no signs of leaking. The hoses should be free-flow and no obstructions and there should be no evidence of leaking. Any leakage or damage should be replaced immediately
- Check hydraulic A and air-line brake system or A/B and air-line brake system for proper operation

The following tests shall be performed with care to prevent damage to the machine or injury to personnel. Proper functioning of the system requires successful completion of these tests before operating the machine.

[illegible]

- Check the system before alarm-light goes on; the problem may be self-correcting, one of the following tests:
- Intermittently lift the weight attached to the sensitive alarm switches. When the weight is lifted, the audible alarm for the LHM or optional audible alarm for the optional MCA system should sound and the red low-thrust alarm light should light.
- Slightly raise the main boom load handling device to create a permanent low-thrust condition. When the load handling device lifts the weight, the audible alarm should sound, the red low-thrust alarm light should light and the status of the load handling device should be stopped. Lower the load handling device slowly to return to the normal condition.
- Slightly extend (telescope) the boom to create a permanent low-thrust condition. When the load handling device lifts the weight, the audible alarm should sound, the red low-thrust alarm light should light and the boom telescopic rod should extend (telescope) and the status of the load handling device should be stopped. Lower the load handling device slowly to approximate the condition.

▶ FOLLOW

If the light and siren alarm is not function as described and the alarm movements are not stopped, the system is not working properly. The malfunction shall be corrected before operating the alarm.

- If the crane is equipped with a boom extension that is deployed and retracted while using the test procedure for the boom extension, add four more points.
