Ngos And The Millennium Development Goals Citizen Action To Reduce Poverty:

NGOs and the Millennium Development Goals J. Brinkerhoff, S. Smith, H. Teegen, 2007-06-25 This book examines general Nongovernmental organizations NGOs roles and comparative advantages in the broad fight to end global poverty as well as roles and opportunities specific to particular Millennium Development Goals sectors Beyond the Comparative John C. Weidman, W. James Jacob, 2012-01-01 We are pleased to introduce this inaugural volume in the PSCIE Series Beyond the Comparative Advancing Theory and Its Application to Practice which expands on the life work of University of Pittsburgh Professor Rolland G Paulston 1929 2006 Recognized as a stalwart in the field of comparative and international education Paulston s most widely recognized contribution is in social cartography He demonstrated that mapping comparative international and development education CIDE is no easy task and depending on the perspective of the mapper there may be multiple cartographies to chart The 35 contributors to this volume representing a range of senior and junior scholars from various CIDE backgrounds and perspectives celebrate the life and work of Paulston by addressing issues perspectives and approaches related to charting the future course of the field The volume reports on new research in several genres as well as conceptual analysis As the title suggests authors were encouraged to go beyond established canons of CIDE The cover art The CIDE Theoretical Compass was conceptualized by the editors and depicts that theory selection and theory generation are an ongoing and important process in comparative international and development education CIDE The image was designed by artist Natalie Jacob which positions the CIDE Theoretical Compass over Rolland G Paulston s 1993 concentric circle map

Todaro, Stephen C. Smith, 2020-03-09 Economic Development the leading textbook in this field provides your students with a complete and balanced introduction to the requisite theory driving policy issues and latest research Todaro and Smith take a policy oriented approach presenting economic theory in the context of critical policy debates and country specific case studies to show how theory relates to the problems and prospects of developing countries The full text downloaded to your computer With eBooks you can search for key concepts words and phrases make highlights and notes as you study share your notes with friends eBooks are downloaded to your computer and accessible either offline through the Bookshelf available as a free download available online and also via the iPad and Android apps Upon purchase you ll gain instant access to this eBook Time limit The eBooks products do not have an expiry date You will continue to access your digital ebook products whilst you have your Bookshelf installed From Charity to Justice Vincent Fang, 2021-05-03 This book focuses on the ethical demands of extreme poverty and develops a political theory of practical change Welding together political realism and moral aspirations it argues that a re imagined form of development NGO can help the global North break free from the dominant and persistent charity paradigm and drift towards a justice based understanding of extreme poverty It offers an original explanation of why the charity paradigm persists and why the justice not charity messages from development NGOs have changed few minds The author argues that anyone concerned with a paradigm shift from charity to justice need to radically rethink the problem of political communication who should communicate what messages about extreme poverty in what ways Based on a rational choice critique of the competitive development NGO sector the author calls for sector wide reform and the emergence of a new political agent the Avant garde NGO which transcends the charity frame that NGOs currently find themselves locked in Further inspired by literary theory and social psychology he offers a fresh account of how the Avant garde NGO could through reflective public engagement induce attitude change and lead genuine social and political reform

International Disaster Response Law
Andrea de Guttery, Marco Gestri, Gabriella Venturini, 2012-08-31 With a Foreword by Kristalina Georgieva European Commissioner for International Cooperation Humanitarian Aid and Crisis Response

Over the last decades natural and man made disasters have been increasing in terms of frequency size number of people affected and material damage caused There is growing awareness of the importance of adequate national and international legal frameworks for disaster prevention mitigation and response The implementation of these frameworks however poses serious challenges This book analyses International Disaster Response Law as developed in recent times and identifies the main existing normative gaps The authors address the rights and duties of States in preventing and mitigating disasters in facilitating access to their territory for humanitarian relief actors as well as issues related to liability and compensation Due attention is paid to European Union law governing disaster response and to its reform in the light of the Lisbon Treaty and to the main trends in domestic legislation Human rights obligations are thoroughly examined and the potential relevance of international criminal law is assessed Additional topics such as the status of relief personnel the hindrances to the delivery of relief consignments by customs and excise administration the use of civilian and military defence assets in emergency situations the mechanisms and procedures available to offer financial support for recovery and rehabilitation risk insurance and the issue of corruption during disaster related activities are specifically addressed By drawing on the expertise of lawyers political scientists economists and humanitarian practitioners the book promotes much needed interdisciplinary dialog and sheds light on a largely uncharted field of research It is therefore essential reading for academics and practitioners in international and EU law policy makers civil protection and humanitarian operators and for anyone interested in exploring the legal facets of the international community's response to large scale calamitous events

Relative Effectiveness of Alternative Microfinance-driven Poverty Alleviation Programs in Bangladesh Dr. Tamgid Ahmed Chowdhury, 2014-06-26 In general the effectiveness of microfinance driven poverty alleviation programs run by Government Organizations GOs and Non Government Organizations NGOs in developing countries such as Bangladesh is assessed by repayment rates the number of beneficiaries the area coverage the amount of loans disbursed the cost of operations profitability and the financial sustainability of the projects This study argues that these methods are quite restrictive since none of them reflect the perceptions of poor people concerning the effectiveness of such projects Development agencies such as GOs and NGOs have never been compared on the basis of service delivery effectiveness a process based comparison nor have they ever been compared on the basis of their relative contribution to raising the living standards of the poor an outcome based comparison Both types of comparison are crucial to poverty reduction The main reason behind the absence of such comparisons is the unavailability of the appropriate parameters that could be used for such analysis For the process based comparison this study develops and validates a two dimensional multi item service delivery effectiveness scale through construct convergent discriminant and nomological validity The scale captures different aspects of effectiveness in the delivery of services These aspects are termed the credibility dimension and the focus towards beneficiaries dimension of service delivery in poverty alleviation programs For the output based comparison this study also develops and validates a multidimensional poverty model to compare the effectiveness of GOs and NGOs in contributing to the economic social political and cultural elements in the lives of the poor The methodology is based on 930 samples collected from 12 districts and 107 randomly chosen villages in Bangladesh during September December 2009

articulates and defends an egalitarian conception of global distributive justice grounded on the value of equality as a normative ideal of how human relations should be conducted Arguing that relationships of equality rather than those characterized by domination or exploitation are a requirement for a just system Ip spells out the real world implications of this approach Ip defends the ideal of equality against the diverse objections which have been brought to bear and the responsibilities we bear in our aspirations towards global justice

Popular Representations of Development

David Lewis,Dennis Rodgers,Michael Woolcock,2014-01-23 Although the academic study of development is well established as is also its policy implementation less considered are the broader more popular understandings of development that often shape agendas and priorities particularly in representative democracies Through its accessible and provocative chapters Popular Representations of Development introduces the idea that while the issue of development defined broadly as problems of poverty and social deprivation and the various agencies and processes seeking to address these is normally one that is discussed by social scientists and policy makers it also has a wider popular dimension Development is something that can be understood through studying literature films and other non conventional forms of representation It is also a public issue one that has historically been associated with musical movements such as Live Aid and increasingly features in newer media such as blogs and social networking The book connects the effort to build a more holistic understanding of development issues with an exploration of the diverse public sphere in which popular engagement with development takes place This book gives students of development studies media studies and geography as well as students in the humanities engaging with global development issues a variety of perspectives from different disciplines to open up this new field for discussion
