This fourth edition discusses these changes and ponders the implications of developments in publishing at the end of the twentieth century while concentrating its gaze upon the dissemination of scientific ideas and knowledge from Antiquity to the industrial age. In this shift of focus it departs from previous editions and for the first time a chapter on Islamic science is included. Recurrent themes in several of the ten essays in the present volume are the definition of science itself and its transmutation by publishing media and the social context. Two essays on the collecting of scientific books provide a counterpoint and the book is grounded on a rigorous chapter on bibliographies.
