Modernist Women Writers and War Julie Goodspeed-Chadwick, 2011 In Modernist Women Writers and War Julie Goodspeed Chadwick examines important avant garde writings by three American women authors and shows that during World Wars I and II a new kind of war literature emerged one in which feminist investigation of war and trauma effectively counters the paradigmatic war experience long narrated by men In the past Goodspeed Chadwick explains scholars have not considered writings by women as part of war literature They have limited war writing to works by men such as William Butler Yeats's poem An Irish Airman Foresees His Death 1919 which relies on a male perspective a pilot contemplates his forthcoming flight his duty to his country and his life in combat But works by Djuna Barnes H D and Gertrude Stein set in wartime reveal experiences and views of war markedly different from those of male writers They write women and their bodies into their texts thus creating space for female war writing insisting on female presence in wartime and perhaps most significantly critiquing war and patriarchal politics often in devastating fashion Goodspeed Chadwick begins with Barnes who in her surrealist novel Nightwood 1936 emphasizes the actual perversity of war by placing it in contrast to the purported perverse and deviant behavior of her main characters In her epic poem Trilogy 1944 1946 H D validates female suffering and projects a feminist spiritual worldview that fosters healing from the ravages of war Stein for her part in her experimental novel Mrs Reynolds 1952 and her long love poem Lifting Belly 1953 captures her experience of the everyday reality of war on the home front within the domestic economy of her household In these works the female body stands as the primary textual marker or symbol of female identity an insistence on women's presence in both the text and in the world outside the book The strategies employed by Barnes H D and Stein in these texts serve to produce a new kind of writing Goodspeed Chadwick reveals one that ineluctably constructs a female identity within and authorship of the war narrative

Jones, 2016-11-11 I mean what is a woman I assure you I do not know I do not believe that you know I do not believe that anybody can know until she has expressed herself in all the arts and professions open to human skill Virginia Woolf Professions for Women Writing The Woman Artist is a collection of essays that explores the ways in which women writers portray women painters sculptors writers and performers Surveying the works of a variety of women writers from the nineteenth and twentieth centuries from different ethnic national racial and economic backgrounds this book treats their revisions of the Kinstlerroman and their perceptions of the relationships between muse artist and audience in other genres Suzanne W ones and her collaborators seek to understand how representations of women artists and their poetics and politics are mediated by social and historical factors including literary movements and theories of language In doing so they make an important contribution to the field of feminist scholarship and generate new ways of understanding how the dynamics of creativity intersect with the dynamics of gender Contributors to the volume are Ann Ardis Alison Booth Kathleen Brogan Lynda Bundtzen Pamela Caughie Mary DeShazer Linda Dittmar Josephine Donovan Susan Stanford Friedman Gayle Greene Linda Hunt Katherine Kearns Holly Laird Estella Lauter Z Nelly Martinez Jane Atteridge Rose Margaret Diane Stetz Renate Voris and Mara Witzling Writing The Woman Artist is a valuable new resource for scholars and students working in the fields of European and American literature and women s studies

The Menstrual Imaginary in Literature Natalie Rose Dyer,2020-11-21 This book draws on literary cultural and critical examples forming a menstrual imaginary a body of work by women writers and poets that builds up a concept of women s creativity in an effort to overturn menstrual prejudice The text addresses key arbiters of the menstrual imaginary in a series of letters including Sylvia Plath the initiator of the blood jet H l ne Cixous the pioneer of a conceptual red ink and the volcanic unconscious and Luce Irigaray the inaugurator of women s artistic process relative to a vital flow of desire based in sexual difference The text also undertakes provocative readings of the Medusa the Sphinx Little Red Riding Hood and The Red Shoes as a means of affirmatively and poetically re imagining a woman s flow Natalie Rose Dyer argues for re envisioning menstrual bleeding and creativity in reaction and resistance to ongoing and problematic societal views of menstruation

Seductive Forms Ros Ballaster,1992-07-02 Historicist and feminist accounts of the rise of the novel have neglected the phenomenon of the professional woman writer in England prior to the advent of the sentimental novel in the 1740s Seductive Forms explores the means by which the three leading Tory women novelists of the late seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries challenged and reworked both contemporary gender ideologies and generic convention The seduction plot provided Aphra Behn Delarivier Manley and Eliza Haywood with a vehicle for dramatizing their own appropriation of the masculine power of fiction making Seduction is employed in these fictions as a metaphor for both novelistic production the seduction of the reader by the writer and party political machination the seduction of the public by the politician This challenging and lively book also explores the debts early prose fiction owed to French seventeenth century models of fiction writing and argues that Behn Manley and Haywood succeed in producing a distinctively English and female form for the amatory novel

Early Women Writers Anita Pacheco,2014-09-25 The last twenty years have witnessed the rediscovery of a large number of women writers of the early modern period This process of recovery has had a major impact on early modern studies for by beginning to restore women to the history of the period it provides new insight into the formative years of the modern era This collection amply demonstrates the diversity as well as the literary and historical significance of early women s writing It brings together studies by an impressive range of critics including Elaine Hobby Catherine Gallagher Jane Spencer and Laura Brown and examines the major works of five of the most important women writers of the seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries Mary Wroth Katherine Philips Margaret Cavendish Aphra Behn and Anne Finch The range of authors it covers and the challenging critical work it presents make Early Women Writers 1600 1720 essential reading for students of feminist theory Women s Studies and Cultural Studies as well as for all those interested in the history and literature of the early modern period

Old Masters, New Subjects Dolara A. Wojciehowski,1995 The encounter sometimes conflict between traditional Renaissance studies and poststructuralism occasions this book In it the author analyzes old masteries certain notions of freedom individualism and control long associated with the Renaissance in relation to the ideologies of non mastery that recur in theory today This book has a dual purpose First it recontextualizes the debates on freedom and determinism presented by five masters Petrarch Luther Loyola Teresa of Avila and Galileo by showing that their paradigmatic discourses on will share a distinct rhetorical strategy Second it argues that the dominant critical paradigms of the late twentieth century while ostensibly rejecting and transcending early modern ideas of subjecthood actually recast Renaissance debates on freedom and power In many ways the early modern functions as the unconscious of critical theory

Seduction and Theory Dianne Hunter, 1989 Sexton Anne Dietrich Marlene Freud Lacan Henry James, Oscar Wilde and Aesthetic Culture Michele Mendelssohn, 2014-10-27 This book the first fully sustained reading of Henry James's and Oscar Wilde's relationship reveals why the antagonisms between both authors are symptomatic of the cultural oppositions within Aestheticism itself

Theories on the Move Şebnem Susam-Sarajeva, 2006 Within translation studies books on translating conceptually dense texts such as philosophical or theoretical writings are remarkably few Although the translation of literature has been a favourite topic for many decades the translation of theories on literature has been neglected The phrase theories of translation is everywhere but translation of theories is a rare sight On the other hand the term translation has become a commonplace in literary and cultural studies yet usually as a rhetorical figure describing the fate of those who struggle between two worlds and two languages such as migrants or women Not much attention has been paid to the role of translation proper in contemporary circulation of ideas The book addresses these gaps in translation studies and in literary studies for the first time by examining two specific cases where translation strategies and patterns crucially influenced the reception of imported schools of thought By examining the importation of structuralism and semiotics into Turkish and of French feminism into English it invites the readers to think about the impact of translation on the transmission of ideas across linguistic cultural borders and power differentials It is therefore of particular interest to the scholars working in translation studies in literary and cultural theory and in gender studies
