Corpus-Based Studies of Translational Chinese in English-Chinese Translation Richard Xiao, Xian Yao Hu, 2015-07-16 This book takes a corpus based approach which integrates translation studies and contrastive analysis to the study of translational language It presents the world's first balanced corpus of translational Chinese which in combination with a comparable native Chinese corpus provides a reliable empirical basis for a comprehensive account of the macro statistic lexical and grammatical features of translational Chinese in English to Chinese translation a significant contribution to Descriptive Translation Studies The research findings based on these two distinctly different languages have important implications for universal translation research on the European tradition

Making Way in Corpus-based Interpreting Studies Mariachiara Russo, Claudio Bendazzoli, Bart Defrancq, 2018 This book presents a collection of state of the art work in corpus based interpreting studies highlighting international research on the properties of interpreted speech based on naturalistic interpreting data Interpreting research has long been hampered by the lack of naturalistic data that would allow researchers to make empirically valid generalizations about interpreting The researchers who present their work here have played a pioneering role in the compilation of interpreting data and in the exploitation of that data The collection focuses on both of these aspects including a detailed overview of interpreting corpora a collective paper on the way forward in corpus compilation and several studies on interpreted speech in diverse language pairs and interpreter mediated settings based on existing corpora

Heritage Languages at the Crossroads: Cultural Contexts, Individual Differences, and Methodologies Brechje Antonet Van Osch, Alicia Luque, Jason Rothman, Selim Tiryakiol, Nadine Kolb, 2025-02-10 This Research Topic focuses on heritage languages at the crossroads by approaching heritage language bilingualism in an interdisciplinary way A language qualifies as a heritage language if it is a minority language spoken at home in a majority language context Any language can be the societal majority language in one context and the heritage language in another While the number of empirical studies on language acquisition and processing in heritage language bilingualism has increased in recent years heritage language bilinguals are an understudied subgroup of bilinguals When examined as adults heritage speaker bilinguals tend to show significant differences in their heritage language performance use and competence grammatical knowledge from one another This variation is particularly unusual because heritage speakers like monolinguals are native speakers of the heritage language
