Bog Bodies, Sacred Sites and Wetland Archaeology Bryony Coles, Mogens Schou Jørgensen, John M. Coles, 1999

A Living Landscape Stijn Arnoldussen, 2008

Today half the Netherlands is below sea level Because of this water management is of key importance when it comes to maintaining present day habitation of the Dutch low lands In prehistory however large parts of the Dutch landscape were highly dynamic due to ongoing fluvial sedimentation Vast deltaic areas with ceaseless river activity formed the backdrop against which prehistoric occupation took place Although such landscapes may seem inhospitable the often excellently preserved archaeological evidence indicates that people lived in these lowlands throughout prehistory This book describes why Bronze Age farmers were keen to settle here and how these prehistoric communities structured the landscape around their house sites at various scales Using a vast body of evidence from several large scale excavations in the Dutch river area the author reconstructs the changes in the cultural landscape over time Starting from the Middle Neolithic changing preferences for settlement site locations and changes in domestic architecture are traced in detail to the Iron Age However for proper understanding of the cultural landscape not only settlements but also graves and patterns of object deposition and their landscape characteristics are discussed By using evidence from over 50 major excavations yielding over 300 house plans this book contains by far the richest data set on Dutch Bronze Age settlements Most of these results have not previously been published in English making this book of over 500 pages a true academic treasure for an international audience The in depth presentation of Bronze Age settlement sites as well as the critical discussion of models and premises current in later prehistoric settlement archaeology have an important relevance stretching beyond the Dutch lowland areas on which it is based The wealth of high quality Dutch data is presented as a synthesized yet well annotated narrative that rises above mere site interpretation even more so due to its landscape scale focus Therefore this book is a must have for those interested in later prehistoric cultural landscapes and settlement archaeology Geschiedenis van Pesse (set) Reinder Reinders, Geert Mulder, 2022-02-05 In het eerste deel van Geschiedenis van Pesse komen landschap en archeologisch onderzoek aan bod In het tweede deel worden de markten erven en bewoners behandeld Palaeohistoria 39,40 (1997-1998)

 Nieuwe Drentse volksalmanak , 1885 Europe's Early Fieldscapes Stijn Arnoldussen, Robert Johnston, Mette Løvschal, 2021-10-05 This volume focuses on the development of field systems through time and space and in their wider landscape context including classical issues pertaining to past land use and management regimes including manuring water land and crop management and technologies such as slash and burn cultivation and use of the ard and plough This book provides the first comprehensive attempt to bring together and provide a comprehensive insight into the latest prehistoric fieldscape research across Europe The book raises a broader awareness of some of the main questions and scientific requests that are addressed by scholars working in various fieldscapes across Europe Themes addressed in this book include a mapping and understanding field system morphologies at various scales b the extraction of information on social processes from field system morphologies c the relations between field systems and cultural and natural features of their environment d time depths and temporalities of usage and e specifics of the underlying agricultural systems with special attention to matters of continuity and resilience and relation to changing practices The case studies explore how to best approach such landscapes with traditional and novel methodologies and targeted research in order to enhance our knowledge further The volume offers inspiration and guidance for the heritage management of fieldscape heritage not solely for future scholarly research but foremost to stimulate strategic guidance to frame and support improved protection of evidently vulnerable resources for Europe's future This volume is of interest to landscape archaeologists Bronze Age Settlement and Land-Use in Thy, Northwest Denmark (Volume 1 & 2) Jens-Henrik Bech, Kristian Kristiansen, Berit Valentin Eriksen, 2018-06-04 This two volume monograph about the region of Thy in the early Bronze Age provides a high resolution archaeological and ecological model of the organisation of landscape settlements and households during the period 1500-1100 BC Bordering the North Sea to the west and the calmer waters of the Limfjord to the east the region of Thy in Denmark experienced four centuries of intense economic and demographic expansion By combining results from environmental and economic research pollen and palaeobotanical analyses with intensive field surveys and excavations of farmsteads with exceptional preservation it has been possible to open a window to the changes that transformed Bronze Age society and its environment during a few centuries of exceptional expansion and wealth consumption The results from this interdisciplinary venture made it possible to link together the histories of local farmsteads with the wider regional and global history of the Bronze Age in North western Europe during this period Here is much to feed on for students and researchers of the Bronze Age alike Megalithic Research in the Netherlands, 1547-1911 Jan Albert Bakker,2010 In the Introduction a brief general review is given of the present knowledge and ideas about the Hunebed Builders who lived some 5000 years ago during the Stone Age
