Living Near the Dead David R. Fontijn, 2010 The hills overlooking the north flank of the Rhine valley in the Netherlands are dotted with hundreds of prehistoric burial mounds Only a few of them were ever investigated by archaeologists and even nowadays the many barrows preserved in the extensive forests of the Utrechtse

Heuvelrug are the oldest visible witnesses of a remote but largely unknown prehistoric past In 2006 a team of archaeologists of the Ancestral Mounds project of Leiden University set out to investigate these age old monuments Parts of two mounds at Elst in the municipality of Rhenen were excavated and numerous finds collected by amateur archaeologists were retrieved and studied As a result the research team was able to reconstruct the formation and histories of this barrow landscape from 2000 BC onwards Contrary to what was initially thought the Elst barrows appeared not to have been situated within a separate ceremonial landscape but were rather closely linked with the world of daily living Throughout the Bronze Age and Iron Age people had been living near the dead The finds discussed in this book include a rare example of an Early Bronze Age burial mound examples of pottery deposition remains of a Middle Bronze Age Hilversum Period settlement and many indications for mundane and ritual uses of the barrows in the later Iron Age Dr David Fontijn is associate professor in European prehistory at Leiden University and senior research fellow at the TOPOI excellence cluster in Berlin His research focuses on the Bronze and Iron Age and was awarded several prizes including the Praemium Erasmianum study Prize for his book Sacrificial landscapes EX HORREO ,1977 Bronze Age Settlements in the Low Countries Harry Fokkens,2008-06-04 The Low Countries around the deltas of the river Rhine Meuse and Scheldt have a long tradition in large scale archaeological research This book brings together research from thirteen of the largest Bronze Age settlements described by their original excavators These contributions are preceded by two introductory chapters written by the editors providing a full overview of the state of Dutch Bronze Age settlement research the key sites and the explanatory models current within it Standards have been developed for the analysis of Bronze Age house plans and settlement sites and new models for the reading of the settled landscape The rich data of the Low Countries also incorporate burial areas and deposition places The findings presented can be seen to reflect the situation over a large area of lands bordering the North Sea Bog Bodies, Sacred Sites and Wetland Archaeology Bryony Coles,Mogens Schou Jørgensen,John M.
