The Serengeti is one of the world's most renowned ecosystems and at its apex prowls the Serengeti Lion. These majestic mammals are iconic and integral and also in constant danger from encroaching humans. Craig Packer is among the unique species that has spent a lifetime ensuring the study and perpetuity of these dark maned cats. He has dedicated countless research hours and dollars to the coexistence of humans and wildlife in the Serengeti. He has even proposed ways of using lion hunting to ensure their value and hence their protection. Lions in the Balance takes us into the red in tooth and claw world of lion conservation. It is an incredibly candid, entertaining and at points alarming look at what the future of the Serengeti lions entails and how the politics of conservation require survival strategies far more creative and powerful than what animals humans included on the savannas must possess. A sequel to Mr Packer's Into Africa, this diary based chronicle of the past decade draws readers along the dusty trails and into the spectacular sunsets of the Serengeti. Through his experiences we learn that female lions prefer their male manes dark and long, that lion attacks on humans most commonly occur during the full moon cycles and that citizen science is shaping the world. Packer's initiative Snapshot Serengeti has helped engage globally and locally and has identified thousands of images of the Serengeti. The narrative moves from Arusha to the Serengeti to Washington DC and with some temporal hopping as often the stories are as rich and multilayered as the Serengeti ecosystem. And Mr Packer demonstrates that he possesses himself a bit of cat, having needed nearly nine lives to persist in the ever dynamic and vexed world of conservation in Africa.      Catalog of Copyright Entries Library of Congress.
