Everything and Nothing At All Jenny Heijun Wills, 2025-08-26 FINALIST FOR THE 2024 WRITERS TRUST PRIZE FOR NONFICTION The Globe and Mail's Best Books of 2024 CBC's Best Canadian Non Fiction of 2024 Here is my disconnect the private and public self My mind and body The real person and curated spectacle Are there actual roots with which to fasten this performance to anything real As a transnational and transracial adoptee Jenny Heijun Wills has spent her life navigating the fraught spaces of ethnicity and belonging As a pan polyam individual she lives between types of family adopted biological chosen and community heternormativity and queerness commitment and a constellation of love And as a parent with a lifelong eating disorder who self harms to cope with mental illness her love language is to feed but daily she wishes her body would disappear These facets of Wills being have served as the anchors she once clung to and the harsh parameters of what others now imagine she can be Everything and Nothing At All weaves together a lifetime of literary criticism cultural study and a personal history into a staggering tapestry of knowledge And though the experiences of accumulating this knowledge have often been shot through with pain Wills spins these threads into priceless gold a radical fearless vision of kinship and family Devastating illuminating and beautifully crafted these essays breathe life into the ambiguities and excesses of Wills self transforming them into something more something that could be everything Quill & Quire ,2005 Mass Capture Lily Cho,2021-11-15 Under the terms of the Chinese Immigration Act of 1885 Canada implemented a vast protocol for acquiring detailed personal information about Chinese migrants Among the bewildering array of state documents used in this effort were CI 9s issued from 1885 to 1953 they included date of birth place of residence occupation identifying marks known associates and significantly identification photographs The originals were transferred to microfilm and destroyed in 1963 more than 41 000 grainy reproductions of CI 9s remain Lily Cho explores how the CI 9s functioned as a form of surveillance and a process of mass capture that produced non citizens revealing the surprising dynamism of non citizenship constantly regulated and monitored made and remade by an anxious state The first mass use of identification photography in Canada they make up the largest archive of images of Chinese migrants in the country including people who stood no chance of being photographed otherwise But CI 9s generated far more information than could be processed and there is nothing straightforward about the knowledge that they purported to contain Cho finds traces of alternate forms of kinship in the archive as well as evidence of the ways that families were separated In attending to the particularities of these images and documents Mass Capture uncovers the alternative story that lies in the refusals and resistances enacted by the mass captured Illustrated with painstakingly reconstituted digital reproductions of the microfilm record Mass Capture reclaims the CI 9s as more than documents of racist repression suggesting the possibilities for beauty and dignity in the archive for captivation as well as capture
