The Global Lives of German Migrants Marcel Erlinghagen, Andreas Ette, Norbert F. Schneider, Nils Witte, 2021-04-29 Based on the German case this open access book highlights the increasing flows of migration and the internationalisation of individual life courses It analyses the experiences of migration across four central domains employment and income partners and families health and wellbeing as well as friends and social participation which potentially have far reaching consequences for social inequalities and life chances The book showcases results from an innovative probability sample that is representative of German emigrants who recently moved abroad and remigrants who recently returned from abroad and compares their international experiences with the sedentary population in Germany. Stays abroad, whether temporary or permanently, have become the new normal for increasing numbers of people from highly developed welfare states. Unnoticed from mainstream migration studies, these countries are today not only major immigration countries but also important sources of international mobility. By providing an empirically founded prism of the global lives of German migrants, this book is a valuable resource for students and researchers of migration, social inequality, and the life course, and provides practitioners with insights into these regularly overlooked aspects of international migration.

From Homemakers to Breadwinners to Community Leaders Norma Fuentes-Mayorga, 2023-05-12 In From Homemakers to Breadwinners to Community Leaders, Norma Fuentes Mayorga compares the immigration and integration experiences of Dominican and Mexican women in New York City, a traditional destination for Dominicans but a relatively new one for Mexicans. Her book documents the significance of women-led migration within an increasingly racialized context and underscores the contributions women make to their communities of origin and of settlement. Fuentes Mayorga's research is timely, especially against the backdrop of policy debates about the future of family reunification laws and the unprecedented immigration of women and minors from Latin America, many of whom seek human rights protection or to reunite with families in the US. From Homemakers to Breadwinners to Community Leaders provides a compelling look at the suffering of migrant mothers and the mourning of family separation, but also at the agency and contributions that women make with their imported human capital and remittances to the receiving and sending community. Ultimately, the book contributes further understanding to the heterogeneity of Latin American immigration and highlights the social mobility of Afro-Caribbean and indigenous migrant women in New York.

Modern Mexico James D. Huck Jr., 2017-12-01 This single-volume reference resource offers students, scholars, and general readers alike an in-depth background on Mexico, from the complexity of its pre-Columbian civilizations to its social and political development in the context of Western civilization. How did modern Mexico become a nation of multicultural diversity and rich indigenous traditions? What key roles do Mexico's non-Western pre-Columbian indigenous heritage and subsequent development as a major center in the Spanish colonial empire play in the country's identity today? How is Mexico today, both Western and non-Western, part Native American and part European, simultaneously traditional and modern? Modern Mexico is a thematic encyclopedia that broadly covers the nation's history, both ancient and modern, its government, politics, and economics, as well as its culture, religion, traditions, philosophy, arts, and social structures. Additional topics include industry, labor, social classes, and ethnicity, women, education, language, food, leisure, and sport, and popular culture. Sidebars, images, and a Day in the Life feature round out the coverage in this accessible, engaging volume. Readers will come to understand how Mexico and the Mexican people today are the result of the processes of transculturation, globalization, and civilizational contact.
