institution of cinema and the discipline of Film Studies at a time when the very existence of film and cinema are being called into question by new technological industrial and aesthetic developments      Women's Cinema Alison Butler, 2019-07-25 Women's Cinema provides an introduction to critical debates around women's filmmaking and relates those debates to a variety of cinematic practices Taking her cue from the groundbreaking theories of Claire Johnston Alison Butler argues that women's cinema is a minor cinema that exists inside other cinemas inflecting and contesting the codes and systems of the major cinematic traditions from within Using canonical directors and less established names ranging from Chantal Akerman to Moufida Tlatli as examples Butler argues that women's cinema is unified in spite of its diversity by the ways in which it reworks cinematic conventions      Cinema Studies Susan Hayward, 2013 Film studies is a course that is often articulated in highly technical or complex critical vocabulary This is an A-Z of the key critical terms designed to make film texts and analysis more accessible to the student      9.5mm Film and Participatory Media Before the Digital Age Annamaria Motrescu-Mayes, Zoë Viney Burgess, 2025-10-08 This anthology offers the first systematic exploration of 9.5mm amateur film culture practice and consumption from its launch in 1922 to the present day It breathes new life into our understanding of participatory media and its origins in the early twentieth century revealing how a web of experiences gave rise to a vibrant ecosystem of collaborative storytelling and grassroots cultural movements that continue to shape our understanding of media participation The collection brings together the work of emerging specialists early career researchers and respected scholars from anthropology film media studies and international film archival networks The 16 chapters in this volume offer fresh insights into early participatory media culture and confirm the ongoing influence and impact of 9.5mm film on global media studies The interdisciplinary approach and wide reaching perspectives make it a valuable resource for cinema and media curricula film archival projects cultural and media anthropology visual sociology as well as gender memory and migration studies      Film Fourth Edition Maria Prammaggiore, Tom Wallis, 2020-01-13 Updated and expanded for a new edition this is the perfect starter text for students of film studies Packed full of visual examples from all periods of film history up to the present Film A Critical Introduction illustrates film concepts in context and in depth addressing techniques and terminology used in film production and criticism and emphasising thinking and writing critically and effectively With reference to 450 new and existing images the authors discuss contemporary films and film studies scholarship as well as recent developments in film production and exhibition such as digital technologies and new modes of screen media New features in the fourth edition Expanded discussion of changing cultural and political contexts for film and media industries including MeToo TimesUp and OscarsSoWhite Updated examples drawing from both contemporary and classic films in every chapter highlight that film studies is a vibrant and growing field New closing chapter expands the book's theoretical framework linking foundational concepts in cinema studies to innovative new scholarship in media and screen studies Thoroughly revised and updated discussions of auteur theory the long take aesthetic ideology in the superhero film and more      Hong Kong's New

Indie Cinema Ruby Cheung, 2023-06-26 This book explores 2010s Hong Kong film industry focusing on its presumably independent sector Although frequently mentioned in global film industry studies the term independent film does not always carry a clear meaning Starting with this point this book studies closely Hong Kong's new indie cinema of the 2010s from political economic social cultural and film industrial perspectives arguing that this indie cinema was vital to the long term sustainability of the city's film industry      American Independent Cinema Yannis Tzioumakis, 2018-03-07 A comparative analysis of key Islamic city platforms and their debates      Film Genre Reader IV Barry Keith Grant, 2012-12-01 From reviews of the third edition Film Genre Reader III lives up to the high expectations set by its predecessors providing an accessible and relatively comprehensive look at genre studies The anthology's consideration of the advantages and challenges of genre studies as well as its inclusion of various film genres and methodological approaches presents a pedagogically useful overview Scope Since 1986 Film Genre Reader has been the standard reference and classroom text for the study of genre in film with more than 25 000 copies sold Barry Keith Grant has again revised and updated the book to reflect the most recent developments in genre study This fourth edition adds new essays on genre definition and cycles action movies science fiction and heritage films along with a comprehensive and updated bibliography The volume includes more than thirty essays by some of film's most distinguished critics and scholars of popular cinema including Charles Ram rez Berg John G Cawelti Celestino Deleyto David Desser Thomas Elsaesser Steve Neale Thomas Schatz Paul Schrader Vivian Sobchack Janet Staiger Linda Williams and Robin Wood      The Films of Lenny Abrahamson Barry Monahan, 2018-08-23 The Films of Lenny Abrahamson A Filmmaking of Philosophys provides a comprehensive study of the films of contemporary highly critically appraised Irish director Lenny Abrahamson As well as considering the aesthetics cultural reflections and philosophical concerns in the better known work of this dynamic and profoundly original Irish filmmaker it also looks at his short film 3 Joes and his little seen student film Mendel As the first sustained study of Abrahamson's engaging and cinematically rich work Barry Monahan's book sheds light on the aesthetic wealth of the artist and connects his stylistic innovations to the context of his projects socio cultural background to his own influences in modern cinema going beyond Irish film to reflect upon the works of auteurs such as Bergman Tarkovsky Kubrick and Kaurismäki among others and to a broader reflection on what his canon has to contribute to the philosophy of cinema art and questions about human existence in the 21st century

Film Editing Valerie Orpen, 2003 Film Editing provides an introduction to the craft of editing in the non silent film as an expressive strategy to make meaning rather than a mere technique The book addresses editing as part of a wider context and as a crucial element of the overarching design and vision of a film incorporating parameters such as mise en scene framing sound genre history and performance By examining a number of mainstream and art films such as Hitchcock's Rear Window and Scorsese's Raging Bull Film Editing seeks to dispel the notion that editing is necessarily polarized as continuity versus discontinuity      Cinema, Space, and Polylocality in a Globalizing China Yingjin Zhang, 2009-10-09 In this milestone work prominent China film scholar Yingjin Zhang proposes polylocality as a new conceptual framework for investigating the shifting spaces of contemporary Chinese cinema in the age of globalization. Questioning the national cinema paradigm, Zhang calls for comparative studies of underdeveloped areas beyond the imperative of transnationalism. The book begins by addressing theories and practices related to space, place, and polylocality in contemporary China, before focusing on the space of scholarship and urging scholars to move beyond the current paradigm and explore transnational and comparative film studies. This is followed by a chapter that concentrates on the space of production and surveys the changing landscape of postsocialist filmmaking and the transformation of China's urban generation of directors. Next is an examination of the space of polylocality and the cinematic mappings of Beijing and a persistent reel contact with polylocality in hinterland China. In the fifth chapter, Zhang explores the space of subjectivity in independent film and video and contextualizes experiments by young directors with various documentary styles. Chapter 6 calls attention to the space of performance and addresses issues of media and mediation by way of two kinds of playing: the first with documentary as troubling information, the second with piracy as creative intervention. The concluding chapter offers an overview of Chinese cinema in the new century and provides production and reception statistics. Combining inspired critical insights, original observations, and new information, Cinema Space and Polylocality in a Globalizing China is a significant work on current Chinese film and a must read for film scholars and anyone seriously interested in cinema more generally or contemporary Chinese culture.
