Thomas Hardy's Novel Universe Pamela Gossin, 2007 In the first book length study of astronomy in Hardy's writing historian of science and literary scholar Pamela Gossin offers complex and inspired readings of seven novels that enrich previous Darwinian feminist and formalist perspectives on his work S Pastoral Palimpsests Michael Paschalis, 2007

Victorian Women Writers and the Classics Isobel Hurst, 2006-09-14 Isobel Hurst examines the role of women writers in the Victorian reception of ancient Greece and Rome showing that they had a greater imaginative engagement with classical literature than has previously been acknowledged The restrictions which applied to women's access to classical learning liberated them from the repressive and sometimes alienating effects of a traditional classical education Women writers reworkings of classical texts serve a variety of purposes to validate women's claims to authorship to demand access to education to highlight feminist issues through the heroines of ancient tragedy to repudiate the warrior ethos of ancient epic

Reading and Mapping Hardy's Roads Scott Rode, 2006-06-23 This book examines Thomas Hardy's representations of the road and the ways the archaeological and historical record of roads inform his work Through an analysis of the uneven and often competing road signs found within three of his major novels The Return of the Native Tess of the D'Urbervilles and Jude the Obscure and by mapping the road travels of his protagonists this book argues that the road as represented by Hardy provides a palimpsest that critiques the Victorian construction of social and sexual identities Balancing modern exigencies with mythic possibilities Hardy's fictive roads exist as contested spaces that channel desire for middle class assimilation even as they provide the means both to reinforce and to resist conformity to hegemonic authority

Forms of English History in Literature, Landscape, and Architecture J. Twynning, 2012-10-15 An exploration of the way English literature has interacted with architectural edifices and the development of landscape as a national style from the Middle Ages to the 19th Century Analyzing texts in relation to cultural artefacts each chapter demonstrates the self conscious production of English consciousness as its most enduring history

Judah Magnes David Barak-Gorodetsky, 2021-11 This comprehensive intellectual biography of Judah Magnes the Reform rabbi American Zionist leader and inaugural Hebrew University chancellor offers novel analysis of how theology and politics intertwined to drive Magnes's writings and activism especially his championing of a binational state against all odds Like a prophet unable to suppress his prophecy Magnes could not resist a religious calling to take political action whatever the cost In Palestine no one understood his uniquely American pragmatism and insistence that a constitutional system was foundational for a just society Jewish leaders regarded his prophetic politics as overly conciliatory and dangerous for negotiations Magnes's central European allies in striving for a binational Palestine including Martin Buber credited him with restoring their faith in politics but they ultimately retreated from binationalism to welcome the new State of Israel In candidly portraying the complex Magnes as he understood himself David Barak Gorodetsky elucidates why Magnes persevered despite evident lack of Arab interest to advocate binationalism with Truman in May 1948 at the ultimate price of Jewish sovereignty Accompanying Magnes on his long misunderstood journey we gain a unique broader perspective on early peacemaking efforts in Israel Palestine the American Jewish role in the history of the state binationalism as political theology an American view of binationalism and the charged realities of Israel today
