Pacify Me A Handbook For The Freaked Out New Dad:

Pacify Me Chris Mancini, 2009-05-12 You're having a baby That's it Game over man Life as you know it is done Go ahead freak out Comic Chris Mancini was terrified of his impending fatherhood But soon after throwing up upon seeing the little blue line he realized that most expectant dads sometimes feel nervous depressed or powerless like a new baby is guy kryptonite Chris has been there and survived it He'll talk you off the ledge Naturally you have plenty of questions How many diapers will I really have to change Will I ever have sex again When should I mention that new 50 inch LCD television I want Is it okay to play Grand Theft Auto while I hold my kid Aren't there robots that can do most of this stuff by now From fearing the ovulation kit to leaving your child with a complete stranger when you go back to work to the best and worst parts of being a parent to wondering if Dr Spock really is like Mr Spock Pacify Me is full of honest hilarious and insightful advice for new dads Like if you screw up a little the first time you're alone with the baby it's not as if she's going to tattletale And babies love the mall The truth is the anxiety leading up to your child's birth is way worse than the anxiety of actually having a child Soon you'll discover that the joy of experiencing life through innocent new eyes more than makes up for having to send your inner teenager to bed before midnight unless there's something cool on Adult Swim

Essential Breakthroughs: Conversations about Men, Mothers and Mothering Fionna Joy Green, 2015-11-01 Essential Breakthroughs Conversations About Men Mothers and Mothering thinks from the nexus of gender essentialism and care The authors creatively blend the philosophical and the personal to collectively argue that while gender is essential to our social and theoretical definitions of care it is dangerously co-opted into naturalized discourses which limit particular identities and negate certain forms of care The perspectives curated in Essential Breakthroughs illuminate how care as a respected and productive cultural ethic is neither inherent nor instinctual for any human but is learned and fostered The chapters are informed by feminist queer and trans politics wielding post structuralist methodologies of unlearning and deconstruction
