Nature And History In Modern Italy:

Nature and History in Modern Italy Marco Armiero, Marcus Hall, 2010-08-31 Marco Armiero is Senior Researcher at the Italian National Research Council and Marie Curie Fellow at the Institute of Environmental Sciences and Technologies Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona He has published extensively on Italian environmental history and edited Views from the South Environmental Stories from the Mediterranean World The Nature State Wilko Hardenberg, 2017-07-14 Following the industrial revolution and post war exponential increase in human population and consumption conservation in myriad forms has been one particularly visible way in which the government and its agencies have tried to control manage or produce nature for reasons other than raw exploitation Using an interdisciplinary approach and including case studies from across the globe this edited collection brings together geographers sociologists anthropologists and historians in order to examine the degree to which socio political regimes facilitate and shape the emergence and development of nature states

Mussolini's Nature Marco Armiero, Roberta Biasillo, Wilko Graf von Hardenberg, 2022-12-13 This exploration of the environmental practices of Benito Mussolini's fascist regime invites readers to consider the ecological connections of all political projects We might think we see a mountain while it was a war a forest can actually be an engine a monument to workers might reflect the violence of a colonial empire extracted from Mussolini's Nature In this first environmental history of Italian fascism Marco Armiero Roberta Biasillo and Wilko Graf von Hardenberg reveal that nature and fascist rhetoric are inextricable Mussolini's Nature explores fascist political ecologies or rather the practices and narratives through which the regime constructed imaginary and material ecologies functional to its political project The book does not pursue the ghost of a green Mussolini by counting how many national parks were created during the regime or how many trees planted Instead the reader is trained to recognize fascist political ecology in Mussolini's speeches reclaimed landscapes policies of economic self sufficiency propaganda documentaries reforested areas and in the environmental transformation of its colonial holdings The authors conclude with an examination of the role of fascist landscapes in the country's postwar reconstruction Mussolini's nature is still visible today through plaques monuments toponymy and the shapes of landscapes This original and surprisingly intimate environmental history is not merely a chronicle of conservation in fascist Italy but also an invitation to consider the socioecological connections of all political projects Possessing Nature Paula Findlen, 1994 As a study of late Renaissance naturalists the science they practised and the fit between that science and late Renaissance court life the book has no rival Anthony Grafton Princeton University Landscape and Change in Early Medieval Italy Paolo Squatriti, 2013-05-16 This innovative environmental history of the long lived European chestnut tree and its woods offers valuable perspectives on the human transition from the Roman to the medieval world in Italy Integrating evidence from botanical and literary sources individual charters and case studies of specific communities the book traces fluctuations in the size and location of Italian chestnut woods to expose how early medieval societies changed their land use between the fourth and eleventh centuries and in the process changed themselves As the chestnut tree gained popularity in late antiquity and became a valuable commodity by the end of the first millennium this study brings to life the economic and cultural transition from a Roman Italy of cities agricultural surpluses and markets to a medieval Italy of villages and subsistence farming

Methodological Challenges in Nature-Culture and Environmental History Research Jocelyn Thorpe, Stephanie Rutherford, L. Anders Sandberg, 2016-11-10 This book examines the challenges and possibilities of conducting cultural environmental history research today Disciplinary commitments certainly influence the questions scholars ask and the ways they seek out answers but some methodological challenges go beyond the boundaries of any one discipline The book examines how to account for the fact that humans are not the only actors in history yet dominate archival records how to attend to the non visual senses when traditional sources offer only a two dimensional non sensory version of the past how to decolonize research in and beyond the archives and how effectively to use sources and means of communication made available in the digital age This book will be a valuable resource for those interested in environmental history and politics sustainable development and historical geography

Waymarking Italy's Influence on the American Environmental Imagination While on Pilgrimage to Assisi Robert Lawrence France, 2020-09-10 Undertaking a peripatetic pilgrimage that is equal parts a daily description of a 200 kilometre walk from the wounded mountain of La Verna to the tortured river in Assisi and an examination of the debt owed to Italy in terms of ecocultural and environmental scholarship this book provides an innovative addition to the nascent field of ecocritical narrative scholarship Through a process that has been referred to as deep travel or mind walking the text fulsomely reviews how time spent in Italy influenced the writings of notable North American environmental historians geographers scientists nature writers landscape architects and restoration theorists about the conception and manipulation of the natural world This literary field study highlights how the phenomenological co traversing of texts and trails can be a valued methodology for undertaking environmental criticism

Ecocritical Approaches to Italian Culture and Literature Pasquale Verdicchio, 2016-08-23 The essays in this volume provide a theorization of what we might call the denatured wild in other words a notion of environmental restoration or reinhabitation that recognizes and reconfigures the human factor as an interdependent entity Acknowledging the contributions of Marco Armerio Serenella Iovino Giovanna Ricoveri Patrick Barron and Anna Re among others Ecocritical Approaches to Italian Culture and Literature The Denatured Wild negotiates the ground within the historicizing theoretical perspectives and surveying spirit of these writers Despite the central role that nature has played in Italian culture and literature there has been an evident lack of critical approaches free of the bridles of the socio political manipulations of nationalism The authors in this collection by recognizing the groundbreaking work of many non Italian ecocritics challenge the narrowly defined conventions of Italian Studies and illuminates the complexities of an Italian ecocriticism that reveals a rich environmentally engaged literary and cultural tradition

Italy and the Environmental Humanities Serenella Iovino, Enrico Cesařetti, Elena Past, 2018-03-27 Bringing together new writing by some of the field's most compelling voices from the United States and Europe this is the first book to examine Italy as a territory of both matter and imagination through the lens of the environmental humanities The contributors offer a wide spectrum of approaches including ecocriticism film studies environmental history and sociology eco art and animal and landscape studies to move past cliché and reimagine Italy as a hybrid plural eloquent place Among the topics investigated are post seismic rubble and the stratifying geosocial layers of the Anthropocene the landscape connections in the work of writers such as Calvino and Buzzati the contaminated fields of the ecomafia's trafficking Slow Food's gastronomy of liberation poetic birds and historic forests resident parasites and nonhuman creatures At a time when the tension between the local and the global requires that we reconsider our multiple roots and porous place identities Italy and the Environmental Humanities builds a creative critical discourse and offers a series of new voices that will enrich not just nationally oriented discussions but the entire debate on environmental culture Contributors Marco Armiero Royal Institute of Technology at Stockholm Franco Arminio Writer poet and filmmaker Patrick Barron University of Massachusetts Damiano Benvegn Dartmouth College and the Oxford Center for Animal Ethics Viktor Berberi University of Minnesota Morris Rosi Braidotti Utrecht University Luca Bugnone University of Turin Enrico Cesařetti University of Virginia Almo Farina University of Urbino Sophia Maxine Farmer University of Wisconsin Madison Serena Ferrando Colby College Tiziano Fratus Writer poet and tree seeker Matteo Gilebbi Duke University Andrea Hajek University of Warwick Marcus Hall University of Zurich Serenella Iovino University of Turin Andrea Lerda freelance curator Roberto Marchesini Study Center of Posthuman Philosophy in Bologna Marco Moro Editor in Chief of Edizioni Ambiente Milan Elena Past Wayne State University Carlo Petrini Founder of International Slow Food Movement Ilaria Tabusso Marcyan Miami University Ohio Monica Seger College of William and Mary Pasquale Verdicchio University of California San Diego

A History of Environmentalism Marco Armiero, Lise Sedrez, 2014-07-31 Think globally act locally has become a call to environmentalist mobilization proposing a closer connection between global concerns local issues and individual responsibility A History of Environmentalism explores this dialectic relationship with ten contributors from a range of disciplines providing a history of environmentalism which frames global themes and narrates local stories Each of the chapters in this volume addresses specific struggles in the history of environmental movements for example over national parks species protection forests waste contamination nuclear energy and expropriation A diverse range of environments and environmental actors are covered including the communities in the Amazonian Forest the antelope in Tibet atomic power plants in Europe and oil and politics in the Niger Delta The chapters demonstrate how these conflicts make visible the intricate connections between local and global the body and the environment and power and nature A History of Environmentalism tells us much about transformations of cultural perceptions and ways of production and consuming as well as ecological and social changes More than offering an exhaustive picture of the entire environmentalist movement A History of Environmentalism highlights the importance of the experience of environmentalism within local communities It offers a worldwide and polyphonic perspective making it key reading for students and scholars of global and environmental history and political ecology Cultivating Nature Sarah R.

Hamilton, 2018-04-15 Winner of the 2019 Turku Book Award from the European Society for Environmental History The Albufera Natural Park an area ten kilometers south of Valencia that is widely regarded as the birthplace of paella has long been prized by residents and visitors alike Since the twentieth century the disparate visions of city dwellers farmers fishermen scientists politicians and tourists have made this working landscape a site of ongoing conflict over environmental conservation in Europe the future of Spain and Valencian identity In Cultivating Nature Sarah Hamilton explores the Albufera's contested lands and waters which have supported and been transformed by human activity for a millennium in order to understand regional national and global social histories She argues that efforts to preserve biological and cultural diversity must incorporate the interests of those who live within heavily modified and long exploited ecosystems such as the Albufera de Valencia Shifting between local struggles and global debates this fascinating environmental history reveals how Franco's dictatorship Spain's integration with Europe and the crisis in European agriculture have shaped the Albufera its users and its inhabitants Environment and Society in the Long Late Antiquity, 2019-01-04

Environment and Society in the Long Late Antiquity brings together scientific archaeological and historical evidence on the interplay of social change and environmental phenomena at the end of Antiquity and the dawn of the Middle Ages covering the period ca 300-800 AD It gives a new impetus to the study of the environmental history of this crucial period of transition between two major epochs in premodern history The volume contains both systematic overviews of the previous scholarship and available data as well as a number of interdisciplinary case studies It covers a wide range of topics including the histories of landscape climate disease and earthquakes all intertwined with social cultural economic and political developments Contributors are Daniel Abel Schaad Francesca Alba Sánchez Flavio Anselmetti Jos Antonio López Sés Daniel Ariztegui Brunhilda Brushulli Yolanda Carrión Marco Alexandra Chavarría Petra Dark Carmen Fernández Ochoa Martin Finn Asuunta Florenzano Ralph Fyfe Didier Galop Benjamin Graham John Haldon Kyle Harper Richard Hodges Adam Izdebski Katarina Kouli Inga Labuhn Tamara Lewit Anna Maria Mercuri Alessia Masi Lucas McMahon Lee Mordechai Mario Morellón Timothy Newfield Almudena Orejas Saco del Valle Leonor Peña Chocarro Sebastián Pérez Díaz Eleonora Regattieri Stephen Rippon Neil Roberts Laura Sadori Abigail Sargent Gaia Sinopoli Paolo Squatriti Giovanni Stranieri Raymond van Dam Bernd Wagner Mark Whittow Penelope Wilson Jessie Woodbridge See inside the book Urban Political Ecology in the Anthro-po-obscene Henrik Ernstson, Erik

Swyngedouw, 2018-12-07 Urban Political Ecology in the Anthro-po-obscene Interruptions and Possibilities centres on how to organize anew the articulation between emancipatory theory and political activism Across its theoretical and empirical chapters written by leading scholars from anthropology geography urban studies and political science the book explores new political possibilities that are opening up in an age marked by proliferating contestations sharpening socio ecological inequalities and planetary processes of urbanization and environmental change A deepened conversation between urban environmental studies and political theory is mobilized to chart a radically new direction for the field of urban political ecology and cognate disciplines What could emancipatory politics be about in our time What does a return of the political under the aegis of equality and freedom signal today in theory and in practice How do political movements emerge that could reinvent equality and freedom as actually existing socio ecological practices The hope is to contribute discussions that can expand and rearrange critical environmental studies to remain relevant in a time of deepening depoliticization and the rise of post truth politics Urban Political Ecology in the Anthropocene will be of interest to postgraduates established scholars and upper level undergraduates from any discipline or field with an interest in the interface between the urban the environment and the political including geography urban studies environmental studies and political science

What is Environmental History? J. Donald Hughes, 2015-11-30 What is environmental history It is a kind of history that seeks understanding of human beings as they have lived worked and thought in relationship to the rest of nature through the changes brought by time In this new edition of his seminal student textbook J Donald Hughes provides a masterful overview of the thinkers topics and perspectives that have come to constitute the exciting discipline that is environmental history He does so on a global scale drawing together disparate trends from a rich variety of countries into a unified whole illuminating trends and key themes in the process Those already familiar with the discipline will find themselves invited to think about the subject in a new way This new edition has been updated to reflect recent developments trends and new work in environmental history as well as a brand new note on its possible future Students and scholars new to environmental history will find the book both an indispensable guide and a rich source of inspiration for future work

The Culture of Nature in the History of Design Kjetil Fallan, 2019-03-26 The Culture of Nature in the History of Design confronts the dilemma caused by design's pertinent yet precarious position in environmental discourse through interdisciplinary conversations about the design of nature and the nature of design Demonstrating that the deep entanglements of design and nature have a deeper and broader history than contemporary discourse on sustainable design and ecological design might imply this book presents case studies ranging from the eighteenth to the twenty first century and from Singapore to Mexico It gathers scholarship on a broad range of fields practices from urban planning landscape architecture and architecture to engineering design industrial design furniture design and graphic design From adobe architecture to the atomic bomb from the bonsai tree to Biosphere 2 from pesticides to photovoltaics from rust to recycling the culture of nature permeates the history of design As an activity and a profession always operating in the borderlands between human and non human environments design has always been part of the environmental problem whilst also being an indispensable part of the solution The book ventures into domains as diverse as design theory research pedagogy politics activism organizations exhibitions and fiction and trade literature to explore how design is constantly making and unmaking the environment and conversely how the environment is both making and unmaking design This book will be of great interest to a range of scholarly fields from design education and design history to environmental policy and environmental history A Monastery for the Ibex Wilko Graf von Hardenberg, 2021-02-23 Gran Paradiso National Park is Italy's oldest and was instrumental in preventing the extinction of the Alpine ibex between World War I and just after World War II Today there are more than 30 000 ibex living in the Alps all of which descended from that last colony protected in Gran Paradiso under Mussolini's rule Wilko Graf von Hardenberg merges the history of conservation with the area's social history and Italy's larger political history to produce a multifaceted narrative about the park as an institution the conflicts it triggered and practices adopted to manage the ibex despite hurdles placed by the fascist regime The book's central argument is that in fascist Italy preservation propaganda notwithstanding was a product of the regime's continuities with the previous liberal system Italy's total fascist transformation accomplished only more than a decade after Mussolini took power virtually unmade the early successes of preservation set in place by the nascent nature state in the regime's early years Despite this conflict conservationists succeeded in preserving the ibex Hardenberg positions this success within the broader history of science conservation and tourism in fascist Italy and the Alpine region creating a comprehensive historical background and comparative reference to ongoing debates about the role of nature conservation in general and in relation to the state and its agencies Logic, Signs and Nature in the Renaissance Ian Maclean, 2007-04-23 How or what were doctors in the Renaissance trained to think and how did they interpret the evidence at their disposal for making diagnoses and prognoses This 2001 book addresses these questions in the broad context of the world of learning its institutions its means of conveying and disseminating information and the relationship between university faculties The uptake by doctors from the university arts course the foundation for medical studies is examined in detail as are the theoretical and empirical bases for medical knowledge including its concepts of nature health disease and normality Logic Signs and Nature in the Renaissance ends with a detailed investigation of semiotic which was one of the five parts of the discipline of medicine in the context of the various versions of semiology available to scholars From this survey Maclean makes an interesting assessment of the relationship of Renaissance medicine to the new science of the seventeenth century Rethinking the Nature of Fascism António Costa Pinto, 2010-11-17 Many of the foremost experts in the study of European fascism unite to provide a contemporary analysis of the theories and historiography of fascism Essays discuss the most recent debates on the subject and how changes in the social sciences over the past forty years have impacted on the study of fascism from various perspectives Reading the Book of Nature in the Dutch Golden Age, 1575-1715, 2010-10-25 The conviction that Nature was God's second revelation played a crucial role in early modern Dutch culture This book offers a fascinating account on how Dutch intellectuals contemplated investigated represented and collected natural objects and how the notion of the Book of Nature was transformed
