Nature For Sale The Commons Versus Commodities:

Nature for Sale Giovanna Ricoveri, 2013 Traces the erosion of the commons from the Industrial Revolution to today's neo-liberalism arguing that a new commons is needed today Nature for Sale Giovanna Ricoveri, 2013-06-04 Nature for Sale uncovers the rich heritage of common ownership which existed before the dominance of capitalist property relations Giovanna Ricoveri argues that the subsistence commons of the past can be reinvented today to provide an alternative to the current destructive economic order Ricoveri outlines the distinct features of common ownership as it has existed in history cooperation sustainable use of natural resources and decision making through direct democracy In doing so she shows how it is possible to provide goods and services which are not commodities exchanged on the capitalistic market something still demonstrated today in village communities across the global South Tracing the erosion of the commons from the European enclosures at the dawn of the Industrial Revolution to the new enclosures of modern capitalism the book concludes by arguing that a new commons is needed today It will be essential reading for activists as well as students and academics in history politics economics and development studies The Commons César Rendueles, 2023-12-01 This book provides a lucid rigorous and critical account of the commons its history and its political potentialities as well as its limitations and ambiguities In particular The Commons analyses the relations of solidarity and conflict between the commons and public welfare policies as well as the role the commons can play in the struggle against the global socioecological crisis that is threatening the very future of humanity Over the past decade various theories concepts and political projects connected to the commons have become fundamentally important for social science and numerous social movements around the world In sociology economics political science history geography the law and anthropology the study of the commons has inspired many important academic innovations In parallel community activists labour unions ecologists feminists and cooperativists have discovered in the commons a powerful and thought provoking toolkit with which to defend public services guarantee access to cultural goods organise reproductive and care work and more generally fight against commodification and ecological destruction The first two chapters analyse the dual origin of the academic rediscovery of the commons On one side from the realm of political science and economics the concept of the commons has been used to challenge the dominant paradigms founded on rational choice theory On the other from the fields of history law and anthropology analysis of the violent destruction of the commons has served to deepen our understanding of the coercive and antidemocratic processes that form the bedrock of capitalism and our current plight The third and fourth chapters examine the role that the commons can play in emancipatory political projects aiming to deepen democracy in mass industrial societies The Commons will appeal to scholars across the social sciences and academics with interests in social and political theory the environment and sustainability and political sociology Visions of Freedom Morris Brian Morris, 2019-10-15 Every ten years notoriously eclectic thinker Brian Morris takes a year of sabbatical and launches out into another field about which he knows nothing In the 1980s it was botany in the 1990s zoology in the 2000s entomology The quintessential polymath Morris has written on his incredible breadth of interests in wide ranging essays with subjects ranging from boxing to deep ecology to new age gurus Collected here for the first time Visions of Freedom brings together all of Morris's concise yet diverse essays on politics history and ecology written since 1989 It includes book reviews letters and articles in the engaging and accessible style for which Morris is known The thinkers he deals with are as diverse as Thomas Paine to C L R James from Karl Marx to Krishnamurti from Max Weber to Naomi Klein He also delves into the canon of classic anarchist thinkers like Kropotkin Bakunin Reclus Proudhon and Flores Magnon Taking a stance against the obscurantism of contemporary academic discourse Morris's writings demonstrate an interdisciplinary approach that moves seamlessly between topics developing practical connections between scholarly debates and the pressing social ecological and political issues of our times

Carving Out the Commons Amanda Huron, 2018-03-13 An investigation of the practice of commoning in urban housing and its necessity for challenging economic injustice in our rapidly gentrifying cities Provoked by mass evictions and the onset of gentrification in the 1970s tenants in Washington D C began forming cooperative organizations to collectively purchase and manage their apartment buildings These tenants were creating a commons taking a resource housing that had been used to extract profit from them and reshaping it as a resource that was collectively owned by them In Carving Out the Commons Amanda Huron theorizes the practice of urban commoning through a close investigation of the city's limited equity housing cooperatives Drawing on feminist and anticapitalist perspectives Huron asks whether a commons can work in a city where land and other resources are scarce and how strangers who may not share a past or future come together to create and maintain commonly held spaces in the midst of capitalism Arguing against the romanticization of the commons she instead positions the urban commons as a pragmatic practice Through the practice of commoning she contends we can learn to build communities to challenge capitalism's totalizing claims over life

Human Rights and the Body Annabelle Mooney, 2016-05-13 Human Rights and the Body is a response to the crisis in human rights to the very real concern that without a secure foundation for the concept of human rights their very existence is threatened While there has been consideration of the discourses of human rights and the way in which the body is written upon research in linguistics has not yet been fully brought to bear on either human rights or the body Drawing on legal concepts and aspects of the law of human rights Mooney aims to provide a universally defensible set of human rights and a foundation or rather a frame for them She argues that the proper frames for human rights are firstly the human body seen as an index reliant on the natural world secondly the globe and finally language These three frames generate rights to food water sleep and shelter environmental protection and a right against dehumanization This book is essential reading for researchers and graduate students in the fields of human rights and semiotics of law

European Democratic Institutions and Administrations Francesco Merloni, Alessandra Pioggia, 2018-09-03 This book presents the results of extensive international comparative research into the effects of the economic and financial crisis on democratic institutions and social cohesion policies The collected studies describe and analyse the measures often referred to as reforms adopted to counter the crisis and the effects of these measures It investigates three areas the impact on the functioning of institutions with respect to the relationship between representative institutions and governments and the organisational structure of administrations at national and local levels the impact that the austerity policies on public spending have on social rights and the impact on traditional instruments of public action administrative simplification public services delivering the use of common assets The general findings highlight the effect of reducing the administrative and government capacity of the democratic institutions the public sector rather than being innovative and made more effective declines offering increasingly poor public services and making bad decisions fuelling substantive or formal privatisation solutions which in turn cause further weakening

Human Rights and the Reinvention of Freedom Nick Stevenson, 2016-10-04 This volume seeks to propose a reinvention of freedom under contemporary conditions of globalization cross border mobility and neo liberal dominance There are currently two predominant myths circulating about freedom The first is that in a global age growing numbers of citizens are less concerned with freedom than they are with security Secondly there is the presumption that freedom only refers to market freedom and consumerism implying that the ideas of choice and consumption are interchangeable with ideas of freedom Stevenson argues that while these arguments are significant they are deeply misleading More authentic ideas of freedom such as self realisation participating in politics and seeking a meaningful life of self reflection have not been entirely displaced but have instead become reinvented in our global times The cries of freedom can still be heard in a multitude of places from the Arab Spring to the Occupy Movement and from the protests against European austerity to the current popularity of human rights Stevenson also argues that the idea of freedom has become increasingly mobile in our interconnected and transnational society The spaces and places of civil society are more complex in this global age pushing ideas of freedom far beyond the usual arena of national politics This volume brings together a diverse range of cultural interpretations in respect of freedom related to the idea of the commons

International Conference on Political Economy of Water Purnima George, Elvis Thomas, Meghna

Vesvikar, 2016-05-11 Access to water is a fundamental right of all human beings given that it significantly affects quality of life and enables people especially the poor to live with dignity A significant number of organisations and governments throughout the world are working on this challenge and developing sustainable intervention models There are several community driven approaches which attempt to bring water within the reach of people and to help establish people's ownership and rights over it. The social work profession with its commitment to working with the marginalised and the underprivileged cannot be immune to the challenges posed by the scarcity of water and must inevitably join the various efforts made the world over to tackle this problem head on. This book examines specific nuances of water scarcity and develops viable social work intervention strategies based on the experiences of successful intervention models.

The Tragedy of Common Sense John P. Clark, 2016-08-01 Introduction by Salvatore Engel Di Mauro Foreword by Ariel Salleh This book takes as its object of critique one of the best known and most influential arguments in contemporary applied ethics which is biologist Garrett Hardin's case for lifeboat ethics. John Clark analyzes the moral dimensions of world hunger, foreign aid, immigration policy and population growth. Clark critiques the lifeboat ethics as a way to explore in depth both the common and the commons. It is about the truth we hold in common and about certain falsehoods that we hold in common. This book also contains Garrett Hardin's 1974 essay Living on a Lifeboat.

Educating About/for Food Security Through Environmental Education Alishia A. Valeri, 2024-10-01 This text is relevant for members of faculties of education such as administrators, directors of teacher education programs, teacher educators for pre-service and/or in-service teachers and teacher candidates. There is also a potential appeal to professors in higher education institutions as integration practices can be adapted to meet the requirements across disciplines. K-12 classroom based teachers may find this text useful as a source for content based learning either from disciplinary or cross disciplinary practice as well as individuals serving in an educational capacity in community based settings for instance. Parts of this work have already been presented in both US and Canadian based conferences such as the American Educational Research Association and the Canadian Society for the Study of Education and serve as optimal venues to reach the academic market. Advertising in publications geared towards providing practical articles could also serve a way to reach classroom based and community based educators.

ENDORSEMENTS

Everybody needs to eat. Unfortunately too many communities live food insecure and to not address this in our education system is a massive problem. Valeri in the book Educating about for Food Security through Environmental Education offers brilliant insight through the study of integrating food security into teacher education. In doing so Valeri shares the importance of language and specifically root metaphors in addressing food security as a deep cultural problem rather than one of natural occurrence and this book highlights generative ways to not only address food security in teacher education but also to prepare teachers that feel empowered to make very real material changes in their classrooms and communities. John Lupinacci, Washington State University. In light of climate change and the impacts it will inevitably have on food production, distribution, Educating about for food security through EE is an important study examining the intersections of teacher education, food security and sustainability. Examining ways in which educators and researchers ought to integrate food security into classrooms while also examining the cultural causes of systemic inequity, this book is important for teacher educators who are interested in further incorporating food security and suitability into their classrooms Brandon Edwards Schuth Oulu Finland

Political Sociologies of the Cultural Encounter Barrie Axford, Alistair Brisbane, Sandra Halperin, Claudia Lueders, 2020-09-10 This book offers transdisciplinary scholarship which challenges the agendas of and markers around traditional social scientific fields It builds on the belief that the study of major issues in the global cultural and political economies benefit from a perspective that rejects the limitations imposed by established boundaries whether disciplinary conceptual symbolic or material Established and early career academics explore and embrace contemporary political sociology following the global and cultural turns of recent decades Categories such as state civil society family migration citizenship and identity are interrogated and sometimes found to be ill suited to the task of analyzing global complexities The limits of global theory the challenges of global citizenship and the relationship between globalisation and situated and mobile subjects and objects are all referenced in this book The book will be of interest to scholars of International Relations Political Science Sociology Political Sociology Social Theory Geography Area studies and European studies

The New Death Shannon Lee Dawdy, Tamara Kneese, 2022-04-15 The New Death brings together scholars who are intrigued by today's rapidly changing death practices and attitudes New and different ways of treating the body and memorializing the dead are proliferating across global cities Using ethnographic historical and media based approaches the contributors to this volume focus on new attitudes and practices around mortality and mourning from the possibilities of digitally enhanced afterlives to industrialized necro waste the ethics of care the meaning of secular rituals and the political economy of death Together the chapters coalesce around the argument that there are two major currents running through the new death reconfigurations of temporality and of intimacy Pushing back against the folklorization endemic to anthropological studies of death practices and the whiteness of death studies as a field the chapters strive to override divisions between the Global South and the Anglophone world focusing instead on syncretization globalization and magic within the mundane
