

*Ceremonies are important.
But our gratitude has to be more than visits to the troops and once a year
Memorial Day ceremonies.
We honor the dead best by treating the living well.*

U.S. Foreign Policy Discourse and the Israel Lobby Keith Peter Kiely, 2017-08-01 This book seeks to debunk the popular myth of an all powerful pro Israel lobby Here Kiely demonstrates how discourses surrounding American Identity and US foreign policy towards the Israeli Palestinian conflict which has deep roots in American historicity have constructed an understanding of the conflict which is inherently more susceptible to the Israeli narrative Kiely argues that the so called power of what other researchers such as Mearsheimer and Walt 2006 2007 call The Israel Lobby are limited by these discourses It is the author s contention that groups such as The American Israel Public Affairs Committee AIPAC serve to amplify and reproduce existing representations within these discourses which align the United States and Israel in terms of cultural historical and political values while simultaneously reinforcing dominant representations of the Palestinian Other

Warriors and Citizens Jim Mattis, Kori N. Schake, 2016-08-01 A diverse group of contributors offer different perspectives on whether or not the different experiences of our military and the broader society amounts to a gap and if the American public is losing connection to its military They analyze extensive polling information to identify those gaps between civilian and military attitudes on issues central to the military profession and the professionalism of our military determine which if any of these gaps are problematic for sustaining the traditionally strong bonds between the American military and its broader public analyze whether any problematic gaps are amenable to remediation by policy means and assess potential solutions The contributors also explore public disengagement and the effect of high levels of public support for the military combined with very low levels of trust in elected political leaders both recurring themes in their research And they reflect on whether American society is becoming so divorced from the requirements for success on the battlefield that not only will we fail to comprehend our military but we also will be unwilling to endure a military so constituted to protect us Contributors Rosa Brooks Matthew Colford Thomas Donnelly Peter Feaver Jim Golby Jim Hake Tod Lindberg Mackubin Thomas Owens Cody Poplin Nadia Schadlow A J Sugarman Lindsay Cohn Warrior Benjamin Wittes

Excavating the Power of Memory in Japan Glenn D Hook, 2018-02-02 Excavating the power of memory offers a succinct examination of how memory is constructed embedded and disseminated in contemporary Japanese society The unique range and perspective of this collection will provide an understanding not found elsewhere It starts with a lucid introduction of how memory plays a political and wider social role in Japan Four case studies follow The first takes up the divergence in memory at the national and subnational levels by analysing the memory of the battle of Okinawa and US military accidents in Okinawa prefecture illuminating how memory in the prefecture embeds Okinawans as victims of mainland Japan and of the United States The second explores whether Japan s membership of the International Criminal Court represents a shift in the Japanese government s negative remembrance of the International Military Tribunal for the Far East demonstrating how both courts are largely portrayed as being disconnected in political debates The third offers an analysis of the surviving letters of the Kamikaze pilots in order to interrogate and compare their presumed identity in the dominant collective memory and their own self identities The fourth untangles how the memory of winds in Japanese fishing communities remains an expression of social thought that presides over the transmission of meaning about fishermen s geographical surroundings This book was previously published as a special issue of the Japan Forum Memorializing Pearl Harbor Geoffrey M. White,2016-03-31 Memorializing Pearl Harbor examines the challenge of representing history at the site of the attack that brought America into World War II Analyzing moments in which history is re presented in commemorative events documentary films museum design and educational programming Geoffrey M White shows that the memorial to the Pearl Harbor bombing is not a fixed or singular institution Rather it has become a site in which many histories are performed validated and challenged In addition to valorizing military service and sacrifice the memorial has become a place where Japanese veterans have come to seek recognition and reconciliation where Japanese Americans have sought to correct narratives of racial mistrust and where Native Hawaiians have challenged their ongoing erasure from their own land Drawing on extended ethnographic fieldwork White maps these struggles onto larger controversies about public history museum practices and national memory On a Great Battlefield Jennifer M. Murray,2023-08-04 Of the more than seventy sites associated with the Civil War era that the National Park Service manages none hold more national appeal and recognition than Gettysburg National Military Park Welcoming more than one million visitors annually from across the nation and around the world the National Park Service at Gettysburg holds the enormous responsibility of preserving the war s hallowed ground and educating the public not only on the battle but also about the Civil War as the nation s defining moment Although historians and enthusiasts continually add to the shelves of Gettysburg scholarship they have paid only minimal attention to the battlefield itself and the process of preserving interpreting and remembering the bloodiest battle of the Civil War In On a Great Battlefield Jennifer M Murray provides a critical perspective to Gettysburg historiography by offering an in depth exploration of the national military park and how the Gettysburg battlefield has evolved since the National Park Service acquired the site in August 1933 As Murray reveals the history of the Gettysburg battlefield underscores the complexity of preserving and interpreting a historic landscape After a short overview of early efforts to preserve the battlefield by the Gettysburg Battlefield Memorial Association 1864 1895 and the United States War Department 1895 1933 Murray chronicles the administration of the National Park Service and the multitude of external factors including the Great Depression the New Deal World War II the Civil War Centennial and recent sesquicentennial celebrations that influenced operations and molded Americans understanding of the battle and its history Haphazard landscape practices promotion of tourism encouragement of recreational pursuits ill defined policies of preserving cultural resources and the inevitable turnover of administrators guided by very different preservation values regularly influenced the direction of the park and the presentation of the Civil War s popular memory By highlighting the complicated nexus between preservation tourism popular culture interpretation and memory On a Great Battlefield provides a unique perspective on the Mecca of Civil War landscapes Jennifer M Murray assistant professor of history at the University of Virginia s College at Wise is the author of The Civil War Begins Her articles have appeared in Civil War History Civil War Times and Civil War Times Illustrated

Gendering Military Sacrifice Cecilia Åse,Maria Wendt,2019-02-12 This book offers a feminist analysis of military sacrifice and reveals the importance of a gender perspective in understanding the idea of honourable death In present day security discourses traditional masculinised obligations to die for the homeland and its women and children are challenged and renegotiated Working from a critical feminist perspective this book examines the political and societal justifications for sacrifice in wars motivated by human rights and an international responsibility to protect With original empirical research from six European countries the volume demonstrates how gendered and nationalistic representations saturate contemporary notions of sacrifice and legitimate military violence A key argument is that a gender perspective is necessary in order to understand and to oppose the idea of the honourable military death Bringing together a wide range of materials including public debates rituals monuments and artwork to analyse the justifications for soldiers deaths in the Afghanistan war 2002 14 the analysis challenges methodological nationalism The authors develop a feminist comparative methodology and engage in cross country and transdisciplinary analysis This innovative approach generates new understandings of the ways in which both the idealisation and the political contestation of military violence depend on gendered national narratives This book will be of much interest to students of gender studies critical military studies security studies and International Relations

Anzac's Long Shadow James Brown,2014-02-15 A century ago we got it wrong We sent thousands of young Australians on a military operation that was barely more than a disaster It s right that a hundred years later we should feel strongly about that But have we got our remembrance right What lessons haven t we learned about war and what might be the cost of our Anzac obsession Defence analyst and former army officer James Brown believes that Australia is expending too much time money and emotion on the Anzac legend and that today s soldiers are suffering for it Vividly evoking the war in Afghanistan Brown reveals the experience of the modern soldier He looks closely at the companies and clubs that trade on the Anzac story He shows that Australians spend a lot more time looking after dead warriors than those who are alive We focus on a cult of remembrance instead of understanding a new world of soldiering and strategy And we make it impossible to criticise the Australian Defence Force even when it makes the same mistakes over and over None of this is good for our soldiers or our ability to deal with a changing world With respect and passion Brown shines a new light on Anzac s long shadow and calls for change Bold original challenging James Brown tackles the burgeoning Anzac industry and asks Australians to re examine how we think about the military and modern day service Leigh Sales The best book yet written not just on Australia s Afghan war but on war itself and the creator destroyer myth of Anzac John Birmingham James Brown is a former Australian Army officer who commanded a cavalry troop in Southern Iraq served on the Australian taskforce headquarters in Baghdad and was attached to Special Forces in Afghanistan Today he is the Military Fellow at the Lowy Institute for International Policy where he works on strategic military issues and defence policy He also chairs the NSW Government s Contemporary Veterans Forum He lives in Sydney

Anzac, The Unauthorised Biography Carolyn Holbrook, 2014-09-01 Raise a glass for an Anzac Run for an Anzac Camp under the stars for an Anzac Is there anything Australians won't do to keep the Anzac legend at the centre of our national story But standing firm on the other side of the Anzac enthusiasts is a chorus of critics claiming that the appetite for Anzac is militarising our history and indoctrinating our children So how are we to make sense of this struggle over how we remember the Great War Anzac the Unauthorised Biography cuts through the clamour to provide a much needed historical perspective on the battle over Anzac It traces how since 1915 Australia's memory of the Great War has declined and surged reflecting the varied and complex history of the Australian nation itself Most importantly it asks why so many Australians persist with the fiction that the nation was born on 25 April 1915
