Monetary Fund, 2007 HMSO Agency Catalogue Great Britain. Her Majesty's Stationery Office, 2004 International Human Rights Law in Africa & Domestic Human Rights Law in Africa Christof Heyns, Morne van der Linde, 2022-11-14

Contrary to popular belief there is a vast body of law dealing with human rights in Africa in existence today The first priority at the moment is consequently not the adoption of new norms or the creation of even more structures the most immediate challenge lies in making the existing structures work and ensuring compliance with the norms already accepted by African societies Access to the relevant material constitutes a necessary precondition for any other gains in this field The aim of this reference work is therefore to make African human rights law accessible to all those involved in or interested in human rights law on the continent in order to strengthen its impact Primary documents are introduced and reproduced and presented in a coherent framework The main institutions public and private dealing with human rights in Africa are identified and discussed Comprehensive overviews of the international human rights legal regimes applicable to Africa as well as country reports are provided Access to this body of law will enable judges practicing lawyers academics and other researchers as well as law reformers NGOs activists and students to both ascertain and assert these rights It will also serve to ensure the development of a stronger indigenous African human rights jurisprudence rooted in local experience history culture and practices This book consequently tries to contribute towards documenting systemising and anchoring the African human rights system This publication replaces and updates the earlier Human Rights Law in Africa Series which appeared on an annual basis from 1996 to 1999 In order to make the publication accessible in Africa the Centre for Human Rights and the Raoul Wallenberg Institute in Sweden have undertaken a targeted distribution campaign on the continent The print edition is available as a set of two volumes 9789004138810

The Oxford Handbook of Africa and Economics Célestin Monga, Justin Yifu Lin, 2015-07-02 A popular myth about the travails of Africa holds that the continent's long history of poor economic performance reflects the inability of its leaders and policymakers to fulfill the long list of preconditions to be met before sustained growth can be achieved These conditions are said to vary from the necessary quantity and quality of physical and human capital to the appropriate institutions and business environments While intellectually charming and often elegantly formulated that conventional wisdom is actually contradicted by historical evidence and common sense It also suggests a form of intellectual mimicry that posits a unique path to prosperity for all countries regardless of their level of development and economic structure In fact the argument underlining that reasoning is tautological and the policy prescriptions derived from it are fatally teleological low income countries are by definition those where such ingredients are missing None of today's high income countries started its growth process with the required and complete list of growth ingredients Unless one truly believes that the continent of Africa and most developing countries are ruled predominantly if not exclusively by plutocrats with a high propensity for sadomasochism the conventional view must be re examined debated and questioned This volume the second of the Oxford Handbook of Africa and Economics reassesses the economic policies and practices observed across the continent since independence It offers a collection of analyses by some of the leading economists and development thinkers of our time and reflects a wide range of perspectives and viewpoints Africa's emergence as a potential economic powerhouse in the years and decades ahead amply justifies the scope and ambition of the book

Regional Office for Africa, 2006-11-20 This publication is the first to focus on the health of the 738 million people living in the 46 countries of the WHO African Region Drawing on a comprehensive range of the latest regional health statistics the report discusses the key public health and development challenges facing the continent as well looking in more detail at the issues of maternal and child health infectious diseases including HIV AIDS tuberculosis and malaria health problems that are usually associated with developed countries such as diabetes and hypertension and other noncommunicable conditions such as mental illness and injuries and the environmental causes of ill health including pollution and armed conflict The report explores the treatment diagnostic and preventive methods that work in Africa and highlights the public health success stories that can serve as models for others in the continent It finds that stronger health systems are the key to solving Africa's health problems and these can only be achieved by strengthening governments' stewardship role in health building on the lessons learnt from successful health care interventions and through closer collaboration between all partners

Re-Inventing Africa's Development Jong-Dae Park, 2018-12-31 This open access book analyses the development problems of sub-Saharan Africa (SSA) from the eyes of a Korean diplomat with knowledge of the economic growth Korea has experienced in recent decades The author argues that Africa's development challenges are not due to a lack of resources but a lack of management presenting an alternative to the traditional view that Africa's problems are caused by a lack of leadership In exploring an approach based on mind set and nation building rather than unity which tends to promote individual or party interests rather than the broader country or national interests the author suggests new solutions for SSA's economic growth inspired by Korea's successful economic growth model much of which is focused on industrialisation This book will be of interest to researchers policymakers NGOs and governmental bodies in economics development and politics studying Africa's economic development and Korea's economic growth model

The Oxford Handbook of Africa and Economics: Context and concepts Célestin Monga, Justin Yifu Lin, 2015 For a long time economic research on Africa was not seen as a profitable venture intellectually or professionally few researchers in top ranked institutions around the world chose to become experts in the field This was understandable the reputation of Africa centered economic research was not enhanced by the well known limitations of economic data across the continent Moreover development economics itself was not always fashionable and the broader discipline of economics has had its ups and downs and has been undergoing a major identity crisis because it failed to predict the Great Recession Times have changed many leading researchers including a few Nobel laureates have taken the subject of Africa and economics seriously enough to devote their expertise and creativity to it They have been amply rewarded the richness complexities and subtleties of African societies civilizations rationalities and ways of living have helped renew the humanities and the social sciences and economics in particular to the point that the continent has become the next major intellectual frontier to researchers from around the world In collecting some of the most authoritative statements about the science of economics and its concepts in the African context this handbook the first of two volumes opens up the diverse acuity of commentary on exciting topics and in the process challenges and stimulates the quest for knowledge Wide ranging in its scope themes language and approaches this volume explores examines and assesses economic thinking on Africa and Africa's contribution to the discipline The editors bring a set of powerful resources to this endeavor most notably a team of internationally renowned economists whose diverse viewpoints are complemented by the perspectives of philosophers political scientists and anthropologists
