Nature Unbound Conservation Capitalism And The Future Of Protected Areas:

Nature Unbound Dan Brockington, Rosaleen Duffy, Jim Igoe, 2008 First Published in 2008 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company NATURE UNBOUND: CONSERVATION, CAPITALISM AND THE FUTURE OF PROTECTED AREAS. Dan Brockington, Protected Areas, Sustainable Land? Estienne Rodary, 2016-04-15 Protected areas such as nature reserves national parks and marine conservation areas are the main tool of nature conservation policies and are increasing on a worldwide scale They are one of the main forms of environmental planning and conservation institutions have increasing means at their disposal At the same time the goals of protected areas have become more diverse with the involvement of more stakeholders and complex institutional frameworks Giving an account of the extension and diversification of protected areas this book determines whether these two processes constitute a breakdown in conservation policies Economists ecologists lawyers anthropologists and geographers analyse the various trends which are fundamental to the future of protected areas to reveal a conflicting scene where narrative around cooperation and integration hides competition between different interests This book shows how protected areas are emerging as zones of divergent experimentations of sustainable development rather than lasting forms of integrative environmental management From Urban National Parks to Natured Cities in the Global South Frédéric Landy, 2018-07-20 This important volume focuses on the sensitive issue of interrelationships between national parks situated near or within urban areas and their urban environment It engages with both urban and conservation issues and compares four national parks located in four large cities in the global South Rio de Janeiro Cape Town Mumbai and Nairobi Though primarily undertaken as academic research the project has intensively collaborated with the institutions in charge of these parks The comparative structure of this volume is also original and unique each of the chapters incorporates insight from all four sites as far as possible The term naturbanity expresses the necessity for cities endowed with a national park to integrate it into their functioning Conversely such parks must take into account their location in an urban environment both as a source of heavy pressures on nature and as a nexus of incentives to support their conservation The principle of non exclusivity that is neither the city nor the park has a right nor even the possibility to negate the other s presence summarizes the main argument of this book Naturbanity thus blurs the old modern dichotomy of nature culture animals and human beings can often jump the physical and ideological walls separating many parks from the adjacent city The 13 chapters and substantive introduction of this volume discuss various aspects of naturbanity the histories of park creation interaction between people and parks urban governance and parks urban conservation models wildlife management environmental education and so on This is a must read for students and researchers interested in social ecology social geography conservation urban planning and ecological policy Animals and Tourism Kevin Markwell, 2015-05-01 This book critically examines the many ways in which tourism and animals intersect whether as tourist attractions wildlife conservation tools as travel companions or as meat to be eaten It aims to make a meaningful contribution to the growing body of knowledge concerning the relationships between animals tourists and the tourism industry The chapters are organised into three themes ethics and welfare conflict contradiction and contestation and shifting relationships Theoretically informed and empirically rich the chapters examine topics such as whale watching animal performances the objectification and commodification of animals and stakeholder conflict among a range of others It is hoped that the book will help to highlight key research questions and stimulate other researchers and students to reflect critically on the place of animals within tourism spaces experiences practices and structures

Climate Governance in the Developing World David Held, Charles Roger, Eva-Maria Nag, 2014-01-24 Since 2009 a diverse group of developing states that includes China Brazil Ethiopia and Costa Rica has been advancing unprecedented pledges to mitigate greenhouse gas emissions offering new unexpected signs of climate leadership Some scholars have gone so far as to argue that these targets are now even more ambitious than those put forward by their wealthier counterparts But what really lies behind these new pledges What actions are being taken to meet them And what stumbling blocks lie in the way of their realization In this book an international group of scholars seeks to address these questions by analyzing the experiences of twelve states from across Asia the Americas and Africa The authors map the evolution of climate policies in each country and examine the complex array of actors interests institutions and ideas that has shaped their approaches Offering the most comprehensive analysis thus far of the unique challenges that developing countries face in the domain of climate change Climate Governance in the Developing World reveals the political economic and environmental realities that underpin the pledges made by developing states and which together determine the chances of success and failure

Managing and Adapting to Global Change in Tourism Places Alan A. Lew, 2017-10-02 Today more than ever communities need to develop resilience strategies to adapt to the varied and often unpredictable forces of global change The focus of this collection of articles from Tourism Geographies is on global change in tourism places Global change incorporates social and economic globalization which is arguably the most important process to have shaped the development of modern tourism since the nineteenth century and climate change which is likely to be the most significant factor influencing human behavior and livelihood in the coming decades The organization of these articles reflects a traditional geography approach which starts with an emphasis the physical geography foundations of the human condition especially through the issue of climate change This is then broadened by a series of insightful comparative studies of how tourism communities react adapt and relate to their changing natural and social conditions This collection of papers addresses major issues and adaptive paths for tourism destinations as they face the challenges of our contemporary world This book was published as a special issue of Tourism Geographies

Calibrating Colonial Crime Joshua Castellino, 2025-10-14 Examining the harmful effects of colonisation this book highlights the law's crucial role in driving real change Eminent scholar Joshua Castellino proposes a five point strategy to create a fairer system through innovative reparations and heal our planet

Wildlife between Empire and Nation in Twentieth-Century

Africa Jeff Schauer,2018-12-04 This book traces the emergence of wildlife policy in colonial eastern and central Africa over the course of a century Spanning from imperial conquest through the consolidation of colonial rule the rise of nationalism and the emergence of neocolonial and neoliberal institutions this book shows how these fundamental themes of the twentieth century shaped the relationships between humans and animals in what are today Kenya Tanzania Uganda Zambia and Malawi A set of key themes emerges changing administrative forms militarization nationalism science and a relentlessly broadening constituency for wildlife Jeff Schauer illuminates how each of these developments were contingent upon the colonial experience and how they fashioned a web of structures for understanding and governing wildlife in Africa one which has lasted into the twenty first century

Green Grabbing: A New Appropriation of Nature James Fairhead,Melissa Leach,Ian Scoones,2014-10-29 Across the world ecosystems are for sale Green grabbing the appropriation of land and resources for environmental ends is an emerging process of deep and growing significance A vigorous debate on land grabbing already highlights instances where green credentials are called upon to justify appropriations of land for food or fuel Yet in other cases environmental green agendas are the core drivers and goals of grabs Green grabs may be driven by biodiversity conservation biocarbon sequestration biofuels ecosystem services or ecotourism for example In some cases theyse agendas involve the wholesale alienation of land and in others the restructuring of rules and authority in the access use and management of resources that may have profoundly alienating effects Green grabbing builds on well known histories of colonial and neo colonial resource alienation in the name of the environment Yet it involves novel forms of valuation commodification and markets for pieces and aspects of nature and an extraordinary new range of actors and alliances This book draws together seventeen original cases from African Asian and Latin American settings to ask To what extent and in what ways do green grabs constitute new forms of appropriation of nature What political and discursive dynamics underpin green grabs How and when do appropriations on the ground emerge out of circulations of green capital What are the implications for ecologies landscapes and livelihoods Who is gaining and who is losing How are agrarian social relations rights and authority being restructured and in whose interests This book was published as a special issue of the Journal of Peasant Studies

Combating Wildlife Crime in South Africa Claude-Hélène Mayer,2019-02-13 This brief explores wildlife crime and its international and culture specific combat in South Africa from a green psychology perspective focusing on a specific method of forensic trace recovery by analysing and evaluating the use of gelatine lifters It provides theoretical and applied insight into visualising and sequential processing of finger shoe and footprints and environmental traces It allows the reader in depth insight into effective methods of international wildlife crime combat based on the South African perspective This brief gives theoretical and applied recommendations for international regional and local actors for successful cooperation on wildlife protection As global and local programs actions and law enforcement strategies to combat wildlife crime are gaining strength forensic trace evidence is a useful method for investigative and preventive success This brief will be useful for students and researchers in forensic science wildlife crime green criminology as well as for law enforcement and international actors combating wildlife crime practically on both international and local levels

Tourism and Leisure Mobilities Jillian Rickly, Kevin Hannam, Mary Mostafanezhad, 2016-07-15 This book reframes tourism as well as leisure within mobilities studies to challenge the limitations that dichotomous understandings of home away work leisure and host guest bring A mobilities approach to tourism and leisure encourages us to think beyond the mobilities of tourists to ways in which tourism and leisure experiences bring other mobilities into sync or disorder and as a result re conceptualizes social theory The proposed anthology stretches across academic disciplines and fields of study to illustrate the advantages of multi disciplinary conversation and in so doing it challenges how we approach studies of movement based phenomena and the concept of scale Part One examines the ways in which mobility informs and is informed by leisure from everyday practices to leisure inspired mobile lifestyles Part Two investigates individuals and communities that become entrepreneurial in the face of changing tourism contexts and reflects on the performance of work through multiple mobilities Part Three turns to issues of development with attention to the cultural politics that frame development encounters in the context of tourism The varied ways that people move into and out of development projects is mediated by geopolitical discourses that can both challenge and perpetuate geographic imaginations of tourism destinations

EU Development Policies Sarah L. Beringer, Sylvia Maier, Markus Thiel, 2019-01-16 An excellent collection of essays that illustrate how EU member states wish to implement normatively inspired policies is confronted with the geopolitical realities of today's world The authors succeed in presenting an even handed account of the way in which the tensions between norms and geopolitics play out as well as of the responses given by EU policy makers Wil Hout International Institute of Social Studies Erasmus University the Netherlands The European Union EU while collectively constituting the world's largest development provider has come under internal and external pressures over the past decade This book argues that the EU's development policies are situated between the bloc's normative ideals and the global geopolitical realities in which it is embedded In order to investigate these tensions it asks how far the normative power Europe concept exists in EU development policies and how far it is recognizable in the EU's focus on human rights the rule of law and sustainability In light of the tension in EU development policies between those ideals and the necessity to project neoliberal and geopolitical interests how do receiving countries perceive the EU's development efforts This volume complete with contributions from academics from a wide range of disciplines based all around the globe provides answers to these essential questions

New Frontiers of Land Control Nancy Peluso, Christian Lund, 2013-09-13 Questions about land control have invigorated thinkers in agrarian studies and economic history since the nineteenth century Exclusion alienation expropriation dispossession and violence animate histories of land use property rights and territories More recently agrarian environments have been transformed by processes of de agrarianization urbanization migration and new forms of primitive accumulation Even the classic agrarian question of how the social relations of agriculture will be influenced by capitalism has been reformulated at critical historical moments reviving or producing new debates around the importance of land control The authors in this volume focus on new frontiers of land control and their active creation These frontiers are sites where established power relationships are challenged by new enclosures and property regimes producing new social and environmental dynamics in their stead Contributors examine labor and production processes engaged by new configurations of actors new agrarian and environmental subjects and the networks connecting them and new legal and violent means of challenging established or imminent land controls Overall we find that land control still matters though in changed degrees and manners Land control will continue to inspire struggles for a long time This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Peasant Studies Protecting The Environment, Privately Jeffrey W Bennett, 2015-06-24 Most volumes in the environmental economics literature consider the environment to be a public good and hence write out a role for the private sector in a source of supply Yet there is ample evidence of the private sector being involved driven both by profit and altruism This book provides the necessary conceptual base for the inclusion of the private sector in the environmental protection supply equation and deliver an extensive set of examples in a wide range of contexts In an economic climate where governments are attempting to reduce expenditures the increased role for the private sector will be readily embraced by policy makers The aim of the book is to establish the principles of markets in the provision of environmental protection and to provide an extensive experience based set of contexts in which the private sector has acted to enhance the supply of environmental goods and services These contexts include both pure private sector initiatives in terrestrial aquatic and marine ecosystems and public private sector joint initiatives such as payment for environmental services PES schemes The Sage Handbook of Decolonial Theory Jairo I. Fúnez-Flores, Ana Carolina Díaz Beltrán, Sabelo J. Ndlovu-Gatsheni, Sandeep Bakshi, Augustin Lao-Montes, Flavia Rios, 2025-07-25 The Sage Handbook of Decolonial Theory is a groundbreaking transdisciplinary resource that expands the epistemological and geographical horizons of decolonial thought This handbook prioritizes the Global South fostering South North and South South inter epistemic dialogues and situating decolonial thought in sites of struggle It builds on decolonial thought and praxis from Latin America and the Caribbean Africa Asia and Palestine among other regions and countries Addressing the erasure of knowledge production from the Global South in dominant academic spaces this handbook brings together decolonial scholars and activist intellectuals from the Global South and engages with politically committed scholars in the Global North It emphasizes the geopolitics and ethics of knowledge production and the importance of situating one's work in historically excluded regions and communities Organized into five parts the handbook includes conceptual essays and empirical studies on decolonial thought and praxis It covers a range of topics from decoloniality geopolitics and transdisciplinarity to decolonial feminisms gender and sexuality studies and racial capitalism The chapters convey a sense of urgency and a committed political voice demonstrating how decolonial theory can interrogate and intervene in the modern colonial racial capitalist heteropatriarchal world The Sage Handbook of Decolonial Theory is not just for academics it is written for anyone interested in radical thought and praxis It recognizes decolonial theory as a plural and dynamic field concerned with power hierarchies historiography and epistemological critiques of Eurocentrism Ultimately it teaches us how to think with and act alongside struggles for liberation Part I Key Debates in Decolonial Theory Part II Geopolitics and Geographies Part III Transdisciplinarity Part IV Feminisms Genders Sexualities Part V Racial Capitalism Gender Equality and Sustainable Development Melissa Leach, 2015-07-30 For pathways to be truly sustainable and advance gender equality and the rights and capabilities of women and girls those whose lives and well being are at stake must be involved in leading the way Gender Equality and Sustainable Development calls for policies investments and initiatives in sustainable development that recognize women's knowledge agency and decision making as fundamental Four key sets of issues work and industrial production population and reproduction food and agriculture and water sanitation and energy provide focal lenses through which these challenges are considered Perspectives from new feminist political ecology and economy are integrated alongside issues of rights relations and power The book untangles the complex interactions between different dimensions of gender relations and of sustainability and explores how policy and activism can build synergies between them Finally this book demonstrates how plural pathways are possible underpinned by different narratives about gender and sustainability and how the choices between these are ultimately political This timely book will be of great interest to students scholars practitioners and policy makers working on gender sustainable development development studies and ecological economics Landscape as Heritage Giacomo Pettenati, 2022-08-31 This edited book provides a broad collection of current critical reflections on heritage making processes involving landscapes positioning itself at the intersection of landscape and heritage studies Featuring an international range of contributions from researchers academics activists and professionals the book aims to bridge the gap between research and practice and to nourish an interdisciplinary debate spanning the fields of geography anthropology landscape and heritage studies planning conservation and ecology It provokes critical enquiry about the challenges between heritage making processes and global issues such as sustainability economic inequalities social cohesion and conflict involving voices and perspectives from different regions of the world Case studies in Italy Portugal Spain Slovenia the Netherlands Turkey the UK Columbia Brazil New Zealand and Afghanistan highlight different approaches values and models of governance This interdisciplinary book will appeal to researchers academics practitioners and every landscape citizen interested in heritage studies cultural landscapes conservation geography and planning Ivory Keith Somerville, 2019-10-30 Comprehensive exploration of history and politics of ivory in Africa Redeeming REDD Michael I. Brown, 2013-06-26 It is now well accepted that deforestation is a key source of greenhouse gas emissions and of climate change with forests representing major sinks for carbon As a result public and private initiatives for reducing emissions from deforestation and forest degradation REDD have been widely endorsed by policy makers A key issue is the feasibility of carbon trading or other incentives to encourage land owners and indigenous people particularly in developing tropical countries to conserve forests rather than to cut them down for agricultural or other development purposes This book presents a major critique of the aims and policies of REDD as currently structured particularly in terms of their social feasibility It is shown how the claims to be able to reduce greenhouse gas emissions as well as enhance people s livelihoods and biodiversity conservation are unrealistic There is a naive assumption that technical or economic fixes are sufficient for success However the social and governance aspects of REDD and its enhanced version known as REDD are shown to be implausible Instead to enhance REDD s prospects the author provides a roadmap for developing a new social contract that puts people first
