Museum Representations of Maoist China Amy Jane Barnes, 2016-04-15 The collection interpretation and display of art from the People's Republic of China and particularly the art of the Cultural Revolution have been problematic for museums. These objects challenge our perception of Chineseness and their style, content, and the means of their production. This book links art history, museology, and visual culture studies to examine how museums have attempted to reveal, discuss, and resolve some of these issues. Amy Jane Barnes addresses a series of related issues associated with collection and display: how museums deal with difficult and controversial subjects; the role they play in mediating between the object and the audience; the role of the Other in the creation of Self and national identities; the nature, role, and function of art in society; the museum as image maker; the impact of communism and Maoism on the cultural history of the twentieth century; and the appropriation of communist visual iconography. This book will be of interest to researchers and students of museology, visual and cultural studies, as well as scholars of Chinese and revolutionary art.

The Comics Journal Gary Groth, RJ Casey, Kristy Valenti, 2019-02-06 The Comics Journal, which is renowned for its in-depth interviews, comics criticism, and thought-provoking editorials, features Gary Groth in a frank and often hilarious discussion with the satirist and children's book author Tomi Ungerer. Ungerer talks about the entire trajectory of his life and career, growing up in France during the Nazi occupation, creating controversial work, and being blacklisted by the American Library Association. This issue, the first in its new twice-a-year format, covers the new mainstream in American comics, how the marketplace and overall perception of the medium has drastically shifted since the graphic novel boom of the early 2000s, and massive hits like Persepolis, Fun Home, and Smile. It also includes sketchbook pages from French-born cartoonist Antoine Coss, an introduction to homoerotic gag cartoons out of the U.S. Navy, and Your Black Friend cartoonist Ben Passmore's examination of comics and gentrification.
