David G. Morgan-Owen, Louis Halewood, 2020 Economic Warfare and the Sea examines the relationship between trade maritime warfare and strategic thought between the early modern period and the late twentieth century Using a variety of geographic and chronological examples it presents a longue duree approach to a crucial theme in maritime strategic thought

Economic Warfare and the Sea David Morgan-Owen, Louis Halewood, 2020-03-03 Economic Warfare and the Sea examines the relationship between trade maritime warfare and strategic thought between the early modern period and the late twentieth century Featuring contributions from renown historians and rising scholars this volume forwards an international perspective upon the intersection of maritime history strategy and diplomacy Core themes include the role of economic warfare in maritime strategic thought prevalence of economic competition below the threshold of open conflict and the role non state actors have played in the prosecution of economic warfare Using unique material from 18 different archives across six countries this volume explores critical moments in the development of economic warfare naval technology and international law including the Anglo Dutch Wars the French Revolutionary and Napoleonic Wars the First World War and the Second World War Distinct chapters also analyse the role of economic warfare in theories of maritime strategy and what the future holds for the changing role of navies in the floating global economy of the twenty first century Modern Naval History Richard Harding, 2015-12-17 Specifically structured around research questions and avenues for further study and providing the historical context to enable this further research Modern Naval History is a key historiographical guide for students wishing to gain a deeper understanding of naval history and its contemporary relevance Navies play an important role in the modern world and the globalisation of economies cultures and societies has placed a premium on maritime communications Modern Naval History demonstrates the importance of naval history today showing its relevance to a number of disciplines and its role in understanding how navies relate to their host societies Richard Harding explains why naval history is still important despite slipping from the attention of policy makers and the public since 1945 and how it can illuminate answers to questions relating to economic diplomatic political social and cultural history The book explores how naval history has informed these fields and how it can produce a richer and more informed historical understanding of navies and sea power Big Research Questions about the Human Condition Arne Jarrick, 2020-11-30 The book is a manifesto like essay aiming to redress some globally present drawbacks characterizing current research in the humanities 1 Fragmentation and thematic volatility 2 A reluctance to acknowledge that humanities research is a truth seeking enterprise as all scientific research 3 A certain unwillingness or inability to ask clear questions and to provide distinct answers to these questions The book consists of three parts A Introduction where the problem and the purpose of the book is presented B six chapters each presenting a certain topic that I suggest that humanist scholars gather around with sustained efforts C Conclusion with some words of how to proceed and a section discussing what the humanities or should and are not or should not be Dutch Warships in the Age of Sail, 1600-1714 James Bender, 2014-12-01 This definitive study presents a complete account of the Dutch Republic's naval fleet during its golden age as a world power The Netherlands was by far the most important maritime power of the seventeenth century It dominated seaborne trade with the largest merchant fleet in the world Born out of an 80 year struggle against Spain for independence the Dutch republic relied on naval power to protect its freedom promote its trade and defend its overseas colonies Yet the ships that made up its fleets are among the least studied of any in the age of sail This is partly because a decentralized administration of five separate admiralties often producing ships of the same name at the same time as well as competing systems of measuring ships all lead to confusion and error In this comprehensive volume James Bander delivers the first definitive listing of all Dutch fighting ships whether purpose built purchased hired or captured from the heyday of the United Provinces Each entry is complete with technical details and summaries of the ship's career It also provides administrative economic and technical background and outlines the many campaigns fought by one of the most successful navies in history Quantitative Approaches to Medieval Swedish Law Fredrik Charpentier Ljungqvist, 2022-02-08 This book presents a novel framework for studying historical legalisation using quantitative methods with 10 fully preserved laws from medieval Sweden written between c 1225 and 1350 serving as a case study By applying a systematic classification scheme to each legal provision it is possible to investigate the major differences and similarities in structure and content between the 10 laws This in turn allows for the re assessment of many long standing problems in Swedish and European medieval legal history that have been challenging to address with traditional methods based on text analyses Over the course of the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries major changes in the proportion of legal provisions devoted to different fields of law and to prescribed consequences are found The book shows how the proportions of civil law and public law expanded at the expense of criminal law Furthermore a clear transition from casuistic to more abstract law provisions can also be witnessed Methods in World History Arne Jarrick, Janken Myrdal, Maria Wallenberg Bondesson, 2016-01-07 Methods in World History is the first international volume that systematically addresses a number of methodological problems specific to the field of World History Prompted by a lack of applicable works the authors advocate a considerable sharpening of the tools used within the discipline Theories constructed on poor foundations run an obvious risk of reinforcing flawed assumptions and of propping up other more ideological constructions The dedicated critical approach outlined in this volume helps to mitigate such risks Each essay addresses a particular issue discussing its problems giving practical examples and offering solutions and ways of overcoming the difficulties involved The perspectives are varied the criticism focussed and a common theme of coalescence is maintained throughout This unique anthology will be of great use to advanced scholars of World History and to students entering the field for the first time Facing the Sea Simon

Ekström, Leos Müller, 2021-09-17 The sea has many faces Some are calm and welcoming others ferocious and death dealing For centuries of human history the sea has seen peaceful trade and war life and death and failure In Facing the Sea we meet Swedish experiences of the sea We can read about smugglers from the land Islands about British privateers seizing Swedish ships and about Swedish naval officers defending the honor of the flag We also learn what a disaster at sea or the salvage of a shipwreck can say about past and present societies and why more and more Swedes choose burial at sea for their loved ones We hear the voices of children who made the dangerous escape to Sweden in wartime by crossing the Baltic Sea These are a few of the stories written by the eleven researchers who present a smorgasbord of recent work carried out at the Center for Maritime Studies CEMAS at Stockholm University The contributors are historians ethnologists and maritime archaeologists associated with the center Civilians and Military Supply in Early Modern Finland Petri Talvitie, Juha-Matti

Granqvist, 2021-06-22 During the early modern centuries gunpowder and artillery revolutionized warfare and armies grew rapidly To sustain their new military machines the European rulers turned increasingly to their civilian subjects making all levels of civil society serve the needs of the military This volume examines civil military interaction in the multinational Swedish Realm in 1550 1800 with a focus on its eastern part present day Finland which was an important supply region and battlefield bordered by Russia Sweden was one of the frontrunners of the Military Revolution in the 16th and 17th centuries The crown was eager to adapt European models but its attempts to outsource military supply to civilians in a realm lacking people capital and resources were not always successful This book aims at explaining how the army utilized civilians burghers peasants entrepreneurs to provision itself and how the civil population managed to benefit from the cooperation The chapters of the book illustrate the different ways in which Finnish civilians took part in supplying war efforts e g how the army made deals with businessmen to finance its military campaigns and how town and country people were obliged to lodge and feed soldiers The European armies dependence on civilian maintenance has received growing scholarly attention in recent years and Civilians and Military Supply in Early Modern Finland brings a Nordic perspective to the debate

Historical Dictionaries in their Paratextual Context Roderick McConchie, Jukka Tyrkkö, 2018-09-24 Both dictionary and paratext research have emerged recently as widely recognised research areas of intrinsic interest This collection represents an attempt to place dictionaries within the paratextual context for the first time This volume covers paratextual concerns including dictionary production and use questions concerning compilers publishers patrons and subscribers and their cultural embedding generally This book raises questions such as who compiled dictionaries and what cultural linguistic and scientific notions drove this process What influence did the professional interests life experience and social connexions of the lexicographer have Who published dictionaries and why and what do the forematter backmatter and supplements tell us Lexicographers edited adapted and improved earlier works leaving copies with marginalia which illuminate working methods Individual copies offer a history of ownership through marginalia signatures dates places and library stamps Further questions concern how dictionaries were sold who patronised them subscribed to them and how they came to various libraries

The Story of War Anna Maria Forssberg, 2017-03-15 O God we thank thee was sung in the churches of France and Sweden after military victories in the seventeenth century To celebrate Thanksgiving was a way of thanking God but also a way for the rulers to legitimize the ever ongoing wars For the inhabitants it was both an occasion for festivity and a way of getting information about what happened in the battlefield Yet the image given was selective Bloody defeats and uneventful everyday life was replaced by spectacular victories and royal glory Even though the rituals in the two countries were similar in some ways there were also substantial differences The propaganda formulated a narrative about what war actually was and what role the rulers and their subjects should play In the crisis of 1709 this narrative was profoundly challenged The book investigates how war events were communicated to the inhabitants of France and Sweden in the seventeenth century by the Church and especially through days of thanksgiving called Te Deum in France

Military Revolution and the Thirty Years War 1618-1648 Olli Bäckström, 2023-11-08 Military Revolution and the Thirty Years War 1618 1648 investigates change and decline in military institutions during a period of protracted and destructive European warfare Conceptual background is provided by the Military Revolution thesis which argues that changes in military technology and tactics drove revolutionary transformation in the way states organised and waged war in the early modern era This transformation of military institutions became evident during the long and destructive Thirty Years War in 1618 1648 The outcome of the Military Revolution was the centralised fiscal military state that possessed a strong claim to the monopoly of violence within its territorial boundaries The book examines how the Thirty Years War accelerated and even initiated transformation in four military institutions that defined land warfare feudal cavalry services militias regular armies and war commissariats The regional scope of the investigation covers the Holy Roman Empire France Spain Portugal Sweden Denmark and the Dutch Republic The book combines military historical inquiry with ancillary sciences of sociology and economics It argues that the Military Revolution of the Thirty Years War stimulated institutions capable of increased complexification and specialisation while curtailing those that were locked in stasis and immutability The institutional legacy of the Thirty Years War was the emergence of complex military organisations that are characteristic to the modern society and its self renewing social subsystems Previous scholarship on the Military Revolution has concentrated on military technicalities and the wider process of early modern state formation This book proposes an alternative way of viewing early modern military transformations from the perspectives of institutions and systems System analytical survey of change and decline in the military institutions of the Thirty Years War introduces qualifications to the Military Revolution theory and offers a novel way of conceptualising early modern military history Reward and Punishment in Social Dilemmas Paul A.M. Van Lange,Bettina Rockenbach,Toshio Yamagishi,2014-03-18 One of the key scientific challenges is the puzzle of human cooperation Why do people cooperate Why do people help strangers even sometimes at a major cost to themselves Why do people want to punish others who violate norms and undermine collective interests Reward and punishment is a classic theme in research on social dilemmas More recently it has received considerable attention from scientists working in various disciplines such as economics neuroscience and psychology We know now that reward and punishment can promote cooperation in so called public good dilemmas where people need to decide how much from their personal resources to contribute to the public good Clearly enjoying the contributions of others while not contributing is tempting Punishment and reward are effective in reducing free riding Yet the recent explosion of research has also triggered many questions For example who can reward and punish most effectively Is punishment effective in any culture What are the emotions that accompany reward and punishment Even if reward and punishment are effective are they also efficient knowing that rewards and punishment are costly to administer How can sanctioning systems best organized to be reduce free riding The chapters in this book the first in a series on human cooperation explore the workings of reward and punishment how they should be organized and their functions in society thereby providing a synthesis of the psychology economics and neuroscience of human cooperation History of Law and Other Humanities.Views of the legal world across the time Valerio Massimo Minale,Virginia Amorosi,2019-07-09 The collection of essays presented here examines the links forged through the ages between the realm of law and the expressions of the humanistic culture We collected thirty five essays by international scholars and organized them into sections of ten chapters based around ten different themes Two main perspectives emerged in some articles the topic relates to the conventional approach of law and in humanities iconography literature architecture cinema music other articles are about more traditional connections between fields of knowledge in particular philosophy political experiences didactics We decided not to confine authors to one particular methodological framework preferring instead to promote historiographical openness Our intention was to create a patchwork of different approaches with each article drawing on a different area of culture to provide a new angle to the history being told The variety of authorial nationalities gives the collection a multicultural character and the breadth of the chronological period it deals with from antiquity to the contemporary age adds further depth of insight As the element that unites the collection is historiographical interpretation we wanted to bring to the fore its historical depth Thus for every chapter we organized the articles in chronological order according to the historical context covered Looking at the final outcome it was interesting to learn that more often than not the connection between law and humanities is not simply a relation between a specific branch of the law and a single field of the humanities but rather a relation that could be developed in many directions at once involving different fields of knowledge and of arts and popular culture We are grateful to Luigi Lacch for his contribution to this collection His essay outlines the coordinates of the law and humanities world laying out the instruments necessary for an understanding of the origins of a complex methodology and the different approaches that exist within it This project is the result of discussions that took place during the XXIII Forum of the Association of Young Legal Historians held in Naples in the spring of 2017 The book was made possible thanks to the advice and support of Cristina Vano The Editors

War, Entrepreneurs, and the State in Europe and the Mediterranean, 1300-1800, 2014-05-01 In War Entrepreneurs and the State Jeff Fynn Paul Leiden assembles an internationally acclaimed selection of authors to push forward the debate on the role of entrepreneurs in making war and building states in Europe and the Ottoman Empire Topics covered include logistics supply recruitment and the finance of war Chapters have been carefully commissioned with an eye towards complementarity In an introduction co written with Marjolein t Hart and Griet Vermeesch Fynn Paul challenges existing discourses of military entrepreneurialism A new benchmark is proposed did states choose to work with entrepreneurs or to restrict their activities and subvert the market From the introduction and the individual chapters a new more expansive vision of the military entrepreneur emerges Contributors are Carlos lvarez Nogal Pepijn Brandon William Caferro Stephen Conway Thomas Goossens Aaron Graham Rhoads Murphey David Parrott Helen Paul Guy Rowlands Kahraman akul Marjolein t Hart Andrea Thiele and Rafael Torres S nchez Eighteenth-Century Naval Officers Evan Wilson,AnnaSara Hammar,Jakob Seerup,2019-11-06 This book surveys the lives and careers of naval officers across Europe at the height of the age of sail It traces the professionalization of naval officers by exploring their preparation for life at sea and the challenges they faced while in command It also demonstrates the uniqueness of the maritime experience as long voyages and isolation at sea cemented their bond with naval officers across Europe while separating them from landlubbers It depicts in a way no previous study has the parameters of their shared experiences both the similarities that crossed national boundaries and connected officers and the differences that can only be seen from an international perspective
