Girlinghouse, 2019-08-06 Many congregations today are dealing with changes that have led to decline and significant loss In Embracing God's Future without Forgetting the Past Michael K Girlinghouse argues that until a congregation comes to terms with its perceived losses through a healthy process of grief it will be paralyzed in the present and unable to think creatively about the future

Acknowledging and expressing grief will give the congregation the courage to redefine its relationship with the past and draw strength and encouragement from its memories as it steps into the future Drawing on more than thirty years of ministry experience in varied settings and concurrent study and teaching about loss grief and nostalgia Girlinghouse shows clergy church staff and lay leaders how they can work through the experience of loss and grief both personally and in their congregation Part 1 discusses loss and grief using a contemporary task based model for the grief process It also introduces recent research on the value of nostalgia In part 2 Girlinghouse helps leaders tell their congregation s story including its losses examine how that story fits in our current social context and explore ways to accept the reality of its losses and express grief over them Part 3 considers ways congregations can think more adaptively and creatively about the future without forgetting or devaluing the past Girlinghouse presents appreciative inquiry as a tool to discover and build on a congregation s strengths while coming to terms with its losses Part 4 is about embracing God s future for the congregation remembering forward and making the changes necessary to move from the sadness of loss to the joy of taking up life again Each chapter includes a Bible study and questions for reflection and discussion

The Long Road Home Danielle Harvel,2012-09 Nicole awoke to her own screams shrieking at the very top of her lungs Her voice was distant to her as though she was in a cave Her throat burned with each wail from days of the same The dream awakened her at the same time every morning She lay in a puddle of sweat the perspiration and tears soaking her eyelashes Her heart beat without any rhythm just hurriedly It was like someone striking a key of a typewriter over and over as quickly as possible until the chime would ring announcing the margin had been reached Her whole body ached as though it had been running a race that it was not conditioned for It would only be a moment before her aunt would burst through the doors to make sure she was okay She began taking deep breaths to calm herself and wiped her face furiously She looked around the strange room that was to become her own and felt like a flower that had sprung up in a desert She was wilting in a foreign land dying in a place where she was not supposed to be where she could not breathe
