,1917      Catalog Food and Nutrition Information Center (U.S.),1974      The SAGE Encyclopedia of Food Issues Ken Albala,2015 The SAGE Encyclopedia of Food Issues explores the topic of food across multiple disciplines within the social sciences and related areas including business consumerism marketing and environmentalism In contrast to the existing reference works on the topic of food that tend to fall into the categories of cultural perspectives this carefully balanced academic encyclopedia focuses on social and policy aspects of food production safety regulation labeling marketing distribution and consumption A sampling of general topic areas covered includes Agriculture Labor Food Processing Marketing and Advertising Trade and Distribution Retail and Shopping Consumption Food Ideologies Food in Popular Media Food Safety Environment Health Government Policy and Hunger and Poverty This encyclopedia introduces students to the fascinating and at times contentious and ever so vital field involving food issues      A Long Look Back Richard H Rogers ,2024-10-18 This book is divided into three parts Brittany Paris and the South of France A separate section is devoted to some delicious recipes because how can you talk or write about France without fully appreciating its food The book is partly auto biographical based on my years growing up in Paris and those wonderful summers at our Brittany home They are collections of experiences and stories as an adult looking back on those years in France There are also stories based in part on my research knowledge and richness of one particular region or another as well as the overlay of family history and anecdotes that I recalled hearing from my parents as a child It is undeniably a wonderful and sentimental journey in France If you ae a foodie at heart you ll love some of my stories Join me in a wonderful six part foodie trip along France s Atlantic Coast where we start with a visit to the Opal Coast and the well known resort of Le Touquet where my father spent his youthful summers in the late 1920s Then join me for a most unforgettable dinner in Dinard a popular holiday destination on my beautiful and deeply familiar C te d meraude in Brittany Finally we will end up in the quite unique and picturesque seaport town of Saint Jean de Luz nestled in the Basque country The six part trip is filled with delicious and memorable local dishes The food alone will have you packing your bags and leaving for France Trust me Part one includes several stories about Brittany many of which will surely appeal to foodies Brittany has played a major part in my life both as a child when we bought the house I was seven years old Rough floors a malfunctioning fireplace dampness abounded a small gas powered stove no refrigerator and an outhouse We would go to bed with multiple blankets and a hot water bottle to ward off the incredibly damp sheets Those days at the house in the country provided me with rich content for many of my stories Importantly in my stories I have tried to convey what our Brittany was like as we lived in the French countryside that had not significantly changed since the 1940 s Part two I recount my childhood having grown up in Paris the leafy suburb of Neuilly sur Seine a stone s throw from the city limits and the 16e arrondissement where we attended school We lived in a newly built spacious apartment We had all the room to make trouble Paris in the late 1950 s and early 1960s had the Algerian conflict as a backdrop and the OAS planted bombs in theaters and cafes The trials and tribulations of a young American particularly my challenges in surviving the French school system I never got really got it despite their best efforts to drive it home whatever the cost or the pain I was more than glad to leave school and I retained for many years a deep sense of discomfort well into my adult life Many years later I happened to have a most incredible dinner at the Caf Bergamote a cozy little resto nestled on the Left Bank at 8 rue Montfaucon in the 6th arrondissement Join me for dinner please In part three I take a slow leisurely journey towards the coast eventually reaching the Mediterranean I recount a most memorable dinner in a little restaurant tucked away in the 12th Century fortified village of Rivesaltes in the Languedoc Roussillon region truly spectacular and wonderfully enjoyable is all I can say and all with a charming host and hostess Moving generally southward join me at a table Chez M man a tasty Bouchon Lyonnais if ever there was one and located very near the charming Place Bellecour on the rue des Maronniers Typical foods on the menu include andouille grilled chitterlings sausage tripe pig or cow s stomach or boudin noir blood sausage Other more recognizable dishes include chicken liver salad Cerverlas raw pork sausages and Quenelles flour egg and cream dumplings May I suggest one or two wonderful Beaujolais for your dining pleasure

Chemesthesis
Shane T. McDonald, David A. Bolliet, John E. Hayes, 2016-01-15 Chemesthesis are the chemically initiated sensations that occur via the touch system Examples in the mouth include the burn of capsaicinoids in chilies the cooling of menthol in peppermint and the tingle of carbonation It is physiologically distinct from taste and smell but is increasingly understood to be just as important as these senses for their contribution to flavor especially with the sustained growth in interest in spicy foods from around the world Chemesthesis Chemical Touch in Food and Eating surveys the modern body of work on chemesthesis with a variety of contributors who are well known for their expertise on the topic After a forward by John Prescott and an introduction by Barry Green who originally coined the term chemesthesis 25 years ago the book moves on to survey chemesthetic spices and address the psychology and physiology of chemesthesis practical sensory and instrumental analysis the interaction of chemesthesis with other chemical senses health ramifications and the application of chemesthesis in food The major types of chemesthesis including pungency burning cooling tingling nasal irritation and numbing are each covered in their own chapter The book concludes with a look to the future This is the first comprehensive book on chemesthesis since 1990 when Barry Green and his colleagues edited a volume on the perception of chemical irritants including those in food This new book is intended to be a vital resource for anyone interested in the sensory impact of the food we eat including food scientists sensory professionals analytical chemists physiologists culinary scientists and others
