of Modigliani's work among some of the greatest artists of the time. It also provides thoughtful descriptions of a changing society governed by the impact of infectious diseases, war, and a flourishing of other creative geniuses such as Picasso, Jean Cocteau, and Guillaume Apollinaire. The result is a captivating and deeply researched tale that will resonate with a diverse audience of serious readers, art and medical history enthusiasts, sociologists, and anyone interested in the human spirit.

Modernist Diaspora Richard D. Sonn, 2022-02-10 In the years before, during, and after the First World War, hundreds of young Jews flocked to Paris, artistic capital of the world and center of modernist experimentation. Some arrived with prior training from art academies in Kraków, Vilna, and Vitebsk; others came armed only with hope and a few memorized phrases in French. They had little Jewish tradition in painting and sculpture to draw on, yet despite these obstacles, these young Jews produced the greatest efflorescence of art in the long history of the Jewish people. The paintings of Marc Chagall, Amedeo Modigliani, Chaim Soutine, Sonia Delaunay, and Marc Chagall; the sculptures of Jacques Lipchitz, Ossip Zadkine, Chana Orloff, and works by many other artists now grace the world's museums. As the coeur de Paris was the most cosmopolitan artistic movement the world had seen, the left bank neighborhood of Montparnasse became a meeting place for diverse cultures. How did the tolerant bohemian atmosphere of Montparnasse encourage an international style of art in an era of bellicose nationalism, not to mention racism and antisemitism? How did immigrants not only absorb but profoundly influence a culture? This book examines how the clash of cultures produced genius.

Modern Art and the Idea of the Mediterranean Wojciech Jirát-Wasiutyński, Anne Elizabeth Dymond, Wojciech Jirát-Wasiutyński, 2007-01-01 The Mediterranean is an invented cultural space on the frontier between North and South, West and East. Modern Art and the Idea of the Mediterranean examines the representation of this region in the visual arts since the late eighteenth century, placing the idea of the Mediterranean as a cultural construct rather than a physical reality at the centre of our understanding of modern visual culture. This collection of essays features an international group of scholars who examine competing visions of the Mediterranean in terms of modernity and cultural identity, questioning and illuminating both European and non European representations An introductory essay frames the analysis in terms of a new spatial paradigm of the Mediterranean as a geographic historical and cultural region that emerged in the late eighteenth century as France and Britain colonized the surrounding territories Essays are grouped around three vital themes visualization of the space of the new Mediterranean varied uses of the classical paradigm and issues of identity and resistance in an age of modernity and colonialism Drawing on recent geographical historical cultural and anthropological studies contributors address the visual representation of identity in both the European and the Oriental the colonial and post colonial Mediterranean

A Day with Picasso Billy Kluver, 1999-02-18 In 1978 while collecting documentary photographs of the artists community in Montparnasse from the first decades of the century Billy Kl ver discovered that some previously unassociated photographs fell into significant groupings One group in particular showing Picasso Max Jacob Mo se Kisling Modigliani and others at the Caf de la Rotonde and on Boulevard du Montparnasse all seemed to have been taken on the same day The people were wearing the same clothes in each shot and had the same accessories Their ties were knotted the same way and their collars had the same wrinkles A total of twenty four photographs four rolls of film with six photographs each were eventually found With the challenge of identifying the date photographer and circumstances Kl ver embarked on an inquiry that would illuminate the minute texture of that time and place Biographical research into the subjects lives led Kl ver to focus on the summer of 1916 as the likely time the photos were taken He then measured buildings and plotted angles and lengths of shadows in the photographs to narrow the time frame to a spread of three weeks Further investigation eventually allowed Kl ver to identify the photographer as Jean Cocteau and to determine the day that Cocteau had taken the photographs August 12 1916 A computer printout of the sun s positions on that date obtained from the Bureau des Longitudes together with the length of the shadows enabled Klver to calculate the time of day of each photograph and thus to put them in proper sequence In a tour de force of art historical research Kl ver then reconstructed a scenario of the events of the four hours depicted in the photographs With evocative attention to detail noting when Picasso is no longer carrying an envelope or Max Jacob has acquired a decoration in his lapel Kl ver recreates a single afternoon in the lives of Picasso and friends a group of remarkable people in early twentieth century Paris Besides the central portfolio of photographs by Cocteau the book contains additional photographs and drawings short biographies of all the subjects and a historical section on the events and activities in the Paris art world at the time

"Foreign Artists and Communities in Modern Paris, 1870-1914 " Susan Waller, 2017-07-05 Foreign Artists and Communities in Modern Paris 1870 1914 examines Paris as a center of international culture that attracted artists from Western and Eastern Europe Asia and the Americas during a period of burgeoning global immigration Sixteen essays by a group of emerging and established international scholars including several whose work has not been previously published in English address the experiences of foreign exiles immigrants students and expatriates They explore the formal and informal structures that permitted foreign artists to forge connections within and across national communities and in some cases fashion new transnational identities in the City of Light. Considering Paris from an innovative global perspective, the book situates both important modern artists such as Edvard Munch, Sonia Delaunay, Marc Chagall, and Gino Severini, and lesser-known American, Czech, Italian, Polish, Welsh, Russian, Japanese, Catalan, and Hungarian painters, sculptors, writers, dancers, and illustrators within the larger trends of international mobility and cultural exchange. Broadly appealing to historians of modern art and history, the essays in this volume characterize Paris as a thriving transnational arts community in which the interactions between diverse cultures, peoples, and traditions contributed to the development of a hybrid and multivalent modern art.

Much of the text was written in Montmartre amid the scenes described, and after personal consultation with survivors of the great days when Fr d presided over the Lapin Agile and Libion, patron of the Caf de la Rotonde, was beginning to rival him in Montparnasse.
