Monet By Himself Artist By Himself:

Monet By Himself Claude Monet, 2000-05-24 Alongside Monet's letters this book contains more than 200 superb color reproductions one of the largest collections of color plates of his paintings brought together in a single volume The combination of text and pictures enables the reader to follow the young artist as he first encountered the art world of Paris then discovered the colors and light effects of the river Seine

Monet by Himself: Paintings, Drawings, Pastels, Letters Richard Kendall, 1990 This volume on the life and work of Claude Monet is quite unlike any other book on this popular artist For the first time a collection of Monet's own letters have been translated and brought together with a large selection of his paintings pastels and drawings There are letters to fellow artists and youthful friends long affectionate letters to family and loved ones and begging letters in times of hardship We read of Monet's persistence in money matters his long negotiations with picture dealers and collectors his frustrations and successes while on painting expeditions to Italy Brittany and Norway and his experience of solitude illness and bereavement in later life Monet emerges from the correspondence as a more troubled and complex individual than his sun filled canvases might suggest Alongside the artist's letters are many superb color reproductions one of the largest collections of color plates of his paintings ever brought together in a single volume These accompany the text and enable the reader to follow the young artist through his first encounters with the Parisian art scene his days as a commanding presence in the Impressionist movement and the final chapter of his life when he produced some of his most ambitious and colorful work at Giverny

Monet by himself Richard Kendall, 1996

Monet, Narcissus, and Self-Reflection Steven Zalman Levine, 1994 Steven Z Levine provides a new understanding of the life and work of Claude Monet and the myth of the modern artist Levine analyzes the extensive critical reception of Monet and the artist's own prolific writings in the context of the story of Narcissus popular in late nineteenth century France Through a careful blending of psychoanalytical theory and historical study Levine identifies narcissism and obsession as driving forces in Monet's art and demonstrates how we derive meaning from the accumulated verbal responses to an artist's work

Voyages of the Self Barbara Novak, 2009-05-15 Barbara Novak is one of America's premier art historians the author of the seminal books American Painting of the Nineteenth Century and Nature and Culture the latter of which was named one of the Ten Best Books of the Year by The New York Times and was nominated for a National Book Critics Circle Award Now with Voyages of the Self this esteemed critic completes the trilogy begun with the two earlier works offering once again an exhilarating exploration of American art and culture In this book Novak explores several inspired pairings of key writers and painters drawing insightful parallels between such masters as John Singleton Copley and Jonathan Edwards Winslow Homer and William James Frederic Edwin Church and Walt Whitman and Jackson Pollock and Charles Olson Through these and other groupings Novak tracks the varied meanings of the self in America in which the most salient characteristics of each artist or writer is shown to draw from and in turn influence the larger map of American life Two major threads weaving through the book are the American preoccupation with the object and our continuing return to pragmatism Novak notes for instance how Copley's art mirrors the puritan denial of self found in Jonathan Edwards and how as colonial scientists they share an interest in sensation and observation She sees Winslow Homer and William James as practitioners of a pragmatic self grounded in an immediate experience that looks for concrete results Through such fruitful comparisons whether between Copley and Edwards or Lane and Emerson or Ryder and Dickinson Novak sheds unmatched light on our nation's artistic heritage Wonderfully illustrated with dozens of black and white pictures and sixteen full color plates here is a stunning work that yields a wealth of insight into American art and culture and concludes Novak's landmark trilogy The Creators

Daniel J. Boorstin, 2012-04-11 By piecing the lives of selected individuals into a grand mosaic Pulitzer Prize winning historian Daniel J Boorstin explores the development of artistic innovation over 3 000 years A hugely ambitious chronicle of the arts that Boorstin delivers with the scope that made his Discoverers a national bestseller Even as he tells the stories of such individual creators as Homer Joyce Giotto Picasso Handel Wagner and Virginia Woolf Boorstin assembles them into a grand mosaic of aesthetic and intellectual invention In the process he tells us not only how great art and great architecture and philosophy is created but where it comes from and how it has shaped and mirrored societies from Vedic India to the twentieth century United States Studio International ,1908 The Studio ,1907 The Ultimate Trophy Philip

Hook, 2012-12-17 In 1892 Degas painting In the Caf was sold for a mere 180 guineas at auction with the public hissing as the hammer fell Less than a century later another Impressionist work Renoir's Moulin de la Galette sold at Sotheby's for 78 million accompanied by enthusiastic applause In this history cum memoir Philip Hook Senior Director of Sotheby's Impressionist and Modern Art department examines the public's change of heart toward Impressionism Starting with its shocking novelty and confounding style he traces the impact of the Impressionist painting as it spread to Germany America and Great Britain polarizing modernists and conservatives Equally fascinating is the story of Impressionism's change in status More than exceptionally pretty pictures Impressionist works have become a currency in their own right being bought and sold like blue chip stock coveted as much for their monetary worth as for their intrinsic beauty Drawn from Hook's own experiences with art collectors and dealers this fascinating chapter in art history is narrated through the lens of today's art market Art, Aesthetics, and the Brain Joseph P. Conde, 2015-06-25 Humans have engaged in artistic and aesthetic activities since the appearance of our species Our ancestors have decorated their bodies tools and utensils for over 100 000 years The expression of meaning using color line sound rhythm or movement among other means constitutes a fundamental aspect of our species biological and cultural heritage Art and aesthetics therefore contribute to our species identity and distinguish it from its living and extinct relatives Science is faced with the challenge of explaining the natural foundations of such a unique trait and the way cultural processes nurture it into magnificent expressions historically and ethnically unique How does the human brain bring about these sorts of behaviors What neural processes underlie the appreciation of painting music and dance How does training modulate these processes How are they impaired by brain lesions and neurodegenerative diseases How did such neural underpinnings evolve Are humans the only species capable of aesthetic appreciation or are other species endowed with the rudiments of this capacity This volume brings together the work on such questions by leading experts in genetics psychology neuroimaging neuropsychology art history and philosophy It sets the stage for a cognitive neuroscience of art and aesthetics understood in the broadest possible terms With sections on visual art dance music neuropsychology and evolution the breadth of this volume's scope reflects the richness and variety of topics and methods currently used today by scientists to understand the way our brain endows us with the faculty to produce and appreciate art and aesthetics The Artist's

Garden Jackie Bennett, 2019-10-29 The Artist's Garden offers an intriguing study into 20 gardens that have inspired and been home to some of the greatest painters of history The most alluring image of an artist at work is surely one where he or she has come out of their studio set up their easel on the garden path pulled on a hat to shade their eyes from the sun and taken their brush and palette in hand This sumptuously illustrated and fascinating book delves into the stories behind the gardens which inspired some of the most beautiful and important works of art These gardens not only supplied the inspiration for creative works but also illuminate the professional motivation and private life of the artists themselves from Cezanne's house in the south of France to Childe Hassam at Celia Thaxter's garden off the coast of Maine Flowers and gardens have often been the first choice for artists looking for a subject A garden close to the artist's studio is not only convenient for daily material and ideas but also has the advantage of changing through the seasons and over time Claude Monet's Giverny was the catalyst for hundreds of great paintings by Monet and other artists each one different from the one before Sometimes a whole village becomes the focus for a colony of artists as at Gerberoy in Picardy and Skagen on the northernmost tip of Denmark This book is about the real homes and gardens that inspired these great artists gardens that can still be visited today The relationship between artist and garden is a complex one A few artists including Pierre Bonnard and his neighbour Monet were keen gardeners as much in love with their plants as their work while for others like Sorolla in Madrid his courtyard home was both a sanctuary and a source of ideas This book is as unmissable for art lovers as it is for anyone who knows the joy of time spent in gardens offering an intriguing insight into the lives of these great painters and the gardens which inspired them to their creative heights A Companion to Impressionism André Dombrowski, 2028-08-14 The 21st century's first major academic reassessment of Impressionism providing a new generation of scholars with a comprehensive view of critical conversations Presenting an expansive view of the study of Impressionism this extraordinary volume breaks new thematic ground while also reconsidering established questions surrounding the definition chronology and membership of the Impressionist movement In 34 original essays from established and emerging scholars this collection considers a diverse range of developing topics and offers new critical approaches to the interpretation of Impressionist art

Focusing on the 1860s to 1890s this Companion explores artists who are well represented in Impressionist studies including Monet Renoir Degas and Cassatt as well as Morisot Caillebotte Bazille and other significant yet lesser known artists The essays cover a wide variety of methodologies in addressing such topics as Impressionism's global predominance at the turn of the 20th century the relationship between Impressionism and the emergence of new media the materials and techniques of the Impressionists and the movement's exhibition and reception history Part of the acclaimed Wiley Blackwell Companions to Art History series this important new addition to scholarship in this field Reevaluates the origins chronology and critical reception of French Impressionism Discusses Impressionism's account of modern identity in the contexts of race nationality gender and sexuality Explores the global reach and influence of Impressionism in Europe the Middle East East Asia North Africa and the Americas Considers Impressionism's relationship to the emergence of film and photography in the 19th century Considers Impressionism's representation of the private sphere as compared to its depictions of public issues such as empire finance and environmental change Addresses the Impressionist market and clientele period criticism and exhibition displays from the late 19th century to the middle of the 20th century Features original essays by academics curators and conservators from around the world including those from France Germany the United States the United Kingdom Japan Turkey and Argentina The Wiley Blackwell Companion to Impressionism is an invaluable text for students and academics studying Impressionism and late 19th century European art Post Impressionism modern art and modern French cultural history

Monet's Minutes André Dombrowski, 2023-01-01 A stunning exploration of the vital links between Claude Monet's Impressionism and the time technologies that helped define modernity in the nineteenth century Monet's Minutes is a revelatory account charting the relationship between the works of Claude Monet 1840 1926 founder of French Impressionism and one of the world's best known painters and the modern experience of time Andr Dombrowski illuminates Monet's celebration of instantaneity in the context of the late nineteenth century time technologies that underwrote it Monet's version of Impressionism demonstrated an acute awareness of the particularly modern pressures of time but until now scholars have not examined the histories and technologies of time and timekeeping that informed Impressionism's major stylistic shifts Arguing that the fascination with instantaneity rejected the dulling cultures of newly routinized and standardized time Monet's Minutes traces the evolution of Monet's art to what were then seismic shifts in the shape of time itself In each chapter Dombrowski focuses on the connections between a set of Monet's works and a specific technology or experience of time while providing the voices of period critics responding to Impressionism Grounded in exceptional research and analyses this book offers new interpretations of key works by Monet and a fresh perspective on late nineteenth century art society and modern temporality
