Neighbors And Missionaries Neighbors And Missionaries:

Neighbors and Missionaries Margaret M. McGuinness, 2015-07-01 The Sisters of Our Lady of Christian Doctrine community was founded in 1910 by Marion Gurney who adopted the religious name Mother Marianne of Jesus. A graduate of Wellesley College and a convert to Catholicism, Gurney had served as head resident at St. Rose's Settlement, the first Catholic settlement house in New York City. She founded the Sisters of Christian Doctrine when other communities of women religious appeared uninterested in a ministry of settlement work combined with religious education programs for children attending public schools. The community established two settlement houses in New York City: Madonna House on the Lower East Side in 1910, followed by Ave Maria House in the Bronx in 1930. Alongside their classes in religious education and preparing children and adults to receive the sacraments, the Sisters distributed food and clothing, operated a bread line, and helped their neighbors in emergencies. In 1940, Mother Marianne and the Sisters began their first major mission outside New York when they adapted the model of the urban Catholic social settlement to rural South Carolina. They also served at a number of parishes, including several in South Carolina and Florida, where they ministered to both black and white Catholics. In Neighbors and Missionaries, Margaret M. McGuinness, who was given full access to the archives of the Sisters of Christian Doctrine, traces in fascinating detail the history of the congregation from the inspiring story of its founder and the community's mission to provide material and spiritual support to their Catholic neighbors to the changes and challenges of the latter half of the twentieth century. By 1960, settlement houses had been replaced by other forms of social welfare, and the lives and work of American women religious were undergoing a dramatic change. McGuinness explores how the Sisters of Christian Doctrine were affected and how they adapted their own lives and work to reflect the transformations taking place in the Church and society. Neighbors and Missionaries examines a distinctive community of women religious whose primary focus was neither teaching nor nursing hospital administration. The choice of the Sisters of Christian Doctrine to live among the poor and to serve where other communities were either unwilling or unable demonstrates that women religious in the United States served in many different capacities as they contributed to the life and work of the American Catholic Church.

Listening to the Neighbor Byungohk Lee, 2015-05-12 The Trinity can be understood as a social community with members speaking and listening to one another in love, or as Luther understood the Trinity as conversation. Then God's mission essentially involves mission in dialogue. Byungohk Lee contends the church has to embrace the dialogical dimension in missional terms because the triune God is the subject of mission. The missional church conversation has taken it for granted that local churches should speak and listen to their neighbors. In contrast, for many churches in Asia, including Korea, mission has generally tended to be practiced in a monological rather than dialogical manner. The neighbor has not been regarded as a conversational partner of the church but only as the object for its mission. In Listening to the Neighbor, Lee shows that some local churches have participated in God's mission by listening to their neighbors. He argues that listening is not a technique but a multifaceted learning process in missional terms The church must nurture its hearts eyes and ears in order to listen to the sigh of its neighbors Moravian Americans and their Neighbors, 1772-1822 Ulrike Wiethaus, Grant McAllister, 2022-11-28 American Moravians and their Neighbors 1772 1822 edited by Ulrike Wiethaus and Grant McAllister offers an interdisciplinary examination of Moravian Americanization in the Early Republic With an eye toward the communities that surrounded Moravian settlements in the Southeast the contributors examine cultural social religious and artistic practices of exchange and imposition framed by emergent political structures that encased social privilege and marginalization Through their multidisciplinary approach the authors convincingly argue that Moravians encouraged assimilation converged with core values and political forces of the Early Republic but also contributed uniquely Moravian innovations Residual newly dominant and increasingly subjugated discourses among Moravians other European settlers Indigenous nations and free and enslaved communities of color established the foundations of a new Moravian American identity Contributors include Craig D Atwood David Bergstone David Blum Stewart Carter Martha B Hartley Geoffrey R Hughes Winelle Kirton Roberts Grant P McAllister Thomas J McCullough Paul Peucker Charles D Rodenbough John Ruddiman Jon F Sensbach Larry E Tise Riddick Weber and Ulrike Wiethaus *"Who is My Neighbour." Peyton,2024-02-07 In an increasingly broken world filled with hate and violence God's plan from the beginning was to save and restore the world to the glory for which he had created it This simple plan has not changed with the evolution of sin time or man's rejection of his creator Rather God's simple twofold plan of redemption included both a commandment to love the creator with all one's heart mind soul and strength and a commandment to love one's neighbor as one's self Neither commandment stands in isolation for one cannot fully love others without a consuming love for God and neither can one completely love God without a love for the neighbor created by God The answer to hate is love the answer to war is love the answer to violence is love and the answer to all of societal disfunction is love The answer is not a commandment to like God and others because one only likes others because of likeness Rather love is a choice A choice to love what you don't like A choice to love what you don't understand A choice to love until the God you love sets everything right in eternity Darkest before the Dawn Richard R. Cook,2021-11-02 The Christian church was always destined to find its way to China Long before the birth of the church China existed coalescing around profound philosophical concepts and powerful cultural symbols It developed into a dynamic and enduring civilization In time Christian missionaries arrived on its shores driven to bring the gospel to this people This book starts with the story of that journey the arrival of the missionaries who planted the seeds of the gospel in Chinese soil As the seeds sprouted and grew a new story of a unique and distinct Chinese church began The epic narrative opens from uncertain beginnings in darkness passes through intense hardship and years of struggle and culminates with the triumphal emergence of the Chinese church from the shadows into the light of the global stage Igbo Culture and the Christian Missions 1857-1957 Augustine Senan Ogunyeremuba Okwu,2010 This book explores the strategies and methods of the Protestant and Roman Catholic missionaries in Igboland and Igbo response during the mid nineteenth and mid twentieth centuries Using oral traditions primary sources and the author's life experience as a Christian convert and missionary the text examines the missions programs missteps and impact Mission Studies ,1917 Mission Strategy in the City Enoch Jinsik Kim,2017-11-07 This book was written to suggest an appropriate mission strategy by identifying key issues that impact urban ethnicities through an urban socioanthropological lens This book is based on the author's sixteen years of living in China where he conducted missionary work in urban areas The book discusses the author's interactions with enclaves of ethnic minorities who had recently arrived in the city after migrating from rural areas The minorities struggles to balance cultural assimilation and tradition preservation are highlighted throughout The book explains that similar phenomena occur within Korean American communities in Los Angeles as well Based on these observations the author states that immigrants in many cities face similar social issues and find similar resolutions to them Though there are many negative aspects to urban areas readers will see some positive features of cities that can contribute to effective evangelism The book highlights three main points 1 Ethnic urban dwellers evolve into many more diverse ways than commonly thought 2 Ethnic groups are actively choosing the future of their community types 3 Modern cities create many new communication channels interethnically and also across social strata within ethnicities
