Longenbach, 1985 Modernism and the Ideology of History Louise Blakeney Williams, 2002-07-04 Louise Williams explores the nature of historical memory in the work of five major Modernists Yeats Pound Hulme Ford and Lawrence These Modernists Williams argues started their careers with historical assumptions derived from the nineteenth century But their views on the universal structure of history on the abandonment of progress and the adoption of a cyclical sense of the past were the result of important conflicts and changes within the Modernist period Williams focuses on the period immediately before World War I and shows in detail how Modernism developed and why it is considered a unique intellectual movement She also revisits the theory that the Edwardian age was a difficult period of transition to the modern world Finally she illuminates the contribution of non Western culture to the literature and thought of the period This wide ranging and interdisciplinary study is essential reading for literary and cultural historians of the modernist period A History of

The Tragic Vision of Politics Richard Ned Lebow, 2003-10-30 Is it possible to preserve national security through ethical policies Richard Ned Lebow seeks to show that ethics are actually essential to the national interest Recapturing the wisdom of classical realism through a close reading of the texts of Thucydides Clausewitz and Hans Morgenthau Lebow argues that unlike many modern realists classic realists saw close links between domestic and international politics and between interests and ethics Lebow uses this analysis to offer a powerful critique of post Cold War American foreign policy He also develops an ontological foundation for ethics and makes the case for an alternate ontology for social science based on Greek tragedy s understanding of life and politics This is a topical and accessible book written by a leading scholar in the field

The Poetry of Anna Akhmatova Alexandra Harrington,2006-05-01 This book outlines a fresh and coherent framework for the apprehension of Akhmatova s oeuvre in its totality seeing her as a poet who moves beyond modernism in her later period The appeal to postmodernism which is in itself innovatory with regard to Akhmatova studies also allows exploration of a second problematic issue how to account for the shift in self presentation in the later verse and the different concept of poetic self which it advances This new account of Akhmatova s path to maturity challenges the conventional view of the early Akhmatova as poet in the classical Russian tradition and of the later Akhmatova as paradigmatically modernist
