National Railroad Adjustment Board, The Game Changers Jeff Miller, 2016-10-25 The accepted narrative in football crazy Texas is that racial integration came to the state's national sport in the mid 1960s generally associated with Jerry LeVias celebrated arrival at SMU in Dallas But the landmark achievement actually took place quietly almost a decade earlier only about an hour north of Dallas In the town of Denton two black football players from Dallas segregated public school system boldly walked on to play for what was then called North Texas State College known today as the University of North Texas Abner Haynes and Leon King didn't know what to expect and neither their dozen or so teammates on North Texas freshman team. The players' arrival came only a few months after North Texas first welcomed a black undergraduate student in February 1956. The school worked its way through both that episode and the integration of its most public face, the football team, with no fanfare and without the hostility on campus that accompanied similar events at many other colleges and universities across the South. There were though tense situations when a racial integrated football team played road games in small segregated Texas towns. Jeff Miller, a veteran Texas sports journalist, has visited with those who lived through it from the mixed welcome that Haynes and King initially received from their white freshman brethren to those same teammates standing with them after the two blacks were denied service at eateries on the road to a squad that grew into a Bowl team. In The Game Changers, Miller ties the tale of what happened at North Texas beginning in 1956 to contrasting events that took place not far away that reverberated into national relevance. He also chronicles the continued racial integration of major college football in Texas throughout the 1960s. Hotel, 1966 My Second Childhood K. L. Smith, 2025-03-17

My Second Childhood is a collection of my random thoughts and memories I have lived through my first childhood and many years of being an adult. Everything has seasons in the sun including us. The spring, summer, and fall of my life have passed too quickly. I am now living in the winter of my life, or as some may call it, my second childhood. I consider it a blessing to have lived long enough to reach old age. It is a gift that everyone does not receive. I have released myself from the binding ties of doing what others think I should do. I am no longer obligated to employers nor bonded by schedules. I have turned the child in me loose to enjoy the last days of my life. I am grateful that God has allowed me and my husband, of nearly sixty years, to enjoy our second childhood together. I have time to sit for hours and reminisce and remember moments from my past. I have time to analyze stories that were told to me by my ancestors about my family's history. I wonder how much of the stories are true and complete. Have there been parts of the stories omitted? Relatives who have been disowned may not have been included in the accounts of the past. We all have secrets and stories that we will never tell. What secrets have not been told in these stories? Are the stories altered or enhanced to make the past more glorified or sensational? There are many questions that I wish I had asked my relatives while they were still alive The answers to these questions will probably go unanswered Over the years I have heard varying accounts of the same stories of our family s history from my younger ancestors Their stories are not congruent with the family history told to me from the lips of my ancestors Their stories do not track with the things that I myself experienced and observed in the presence of my long deceased relatives I was there in the flesh with some of these relatives I can still close my eyes and see them in my mind s eyes I can still hear their voices in my mind s ears I remember these relatives and what they were like In the pages of this book I have written stories about friends and relatives from my past and present I have written a partial accounting of my family s history according to how it was told to me and from my personal observations and experiences As I get older I find that a lot of things no longer matter It does not matter to me who my relatives were or where they came from All that matters is that I was born and had the privilege of living the four seasons of my life in God s beautiful world Ultimately we are all God s children and brothers and sisters in Christ We are all connected through God
