Art of the Modern Age Jean-Marie Schaeffer,2023-09-26 This is a sweeping and provocative work of aesthetic theory a trenchant critique of the philosophy of art as it developed from the eighteenth century to the early twentieth century combined with a carefully reasoned plea for a new and more flexible approach to art Jean Marie Schaeffer one of France s leading aestheticians explores the writings of Kant Schlegel Novalis Hegel Schopenhauer Nietzsche and Heidegger to show that these diverse thinkers shared a common approach to art which he calls the speculative theory According to this theory art offers a special kind of intuitive quasi mystical knowledge radically different from the rational knowledge acquired by science This view encouraged theorists to consider artistic geniuses the high priests of humanity creators of works that reveal the invisible essence of the world Philosophers came to regard inexpressibility as the aim of art refused to consider second tier creations genuine art and helped to create conditions in which the genius was expected to shock puzzle and mystify the public Schaeffer shows that this speculative theory helped give birth to romanticism modernism and the avant garde and paved the way for an unfortunate divorce between art and enjoyment between high art and popular art and between artists and their public Rejecting the speculative approach Schaeffer concludes by defending a more tolerant theory of art that gives pleasure its due includes popular art tolerates less successful works and accounts for personal tastes A remarkable work Schaeffer s writing is governed by the ideals of clarity and consequence the ideas of logic truth and evidence Schaeffer is so precise and unrelenting a philosophical critic that one wonders how some of the philosophies he anatomizes here can possibly survive the operation From the foreword by Arthur C artists in a revolutionary age Cultural Mobility in the Interwar Avant-Garde Art Network Michał Wenderski, 2018-07-27 This book explores the issue of cultural mobility within the interwar network of the European avant garde focusing on selected writers artists architects magazines and groups from Poland Belgium and Netherlands Regardless of their apparent linguistic cultural and geographical remoteness their mutual exchange and relationships were both deep and broad and of great importance for the wider development of interwar avant garde literature art and architecture This analysis is based on a vast research corpus encompassing original often previously overlooked periodicals publications and correspondence gathered from archives around the world Perspective: Selected Essays on Space in Art and Design Sarina Miller, 2023-09-12 Perspective Selected Essays on Space in Art and Design explores the ways in which visual and physical space have been designed and experienced in different cultures This book amplifies the significance of space as a design element by examining its implications in various contexts through a global perspective of art and design Swiss Graphic Design Richard Hollis, 2006-01-01 Originally published London Laurence King Pub 2006 Survival Boogie Woogie. Neo-Japonisme, Architectural Photography & Abstraction Jean-Sébastien Cluzel, 2024-07-01 What links are there between Piet Mondrian's unfinished work Victory Boogie Woogie 1942-4 and post war Japanese and Japanese style architectural photography As far back as the mid 1950s critics and photographers were inclined to link Mondrian's painting with modern Japanese architecture and some historians were to go so far as to assert that Mondrian himself had been influenced by traditional Japanese architecture Powerful associations such as these contributed to the coming together of Western and Japanese architectural modernity They also underpinned the survival of Japonisme in architecture or put another way of the neo Japonisme that emerged after the Second World War However while this kinship between Mondrian's abstraction and the aesthetic of Japanese architecture is little apparent in architecture it does show in architectural photography This book which takes a sidelong look at Mondrian examines the works of the foremost among Japanese and American architectural photographers in an effort to interpret the dynamics of how the world of architecture was Japanized between 1945 and 1985 Painting as Model Yve-Alain Bois, 1993-05-04 Informed by both structuralism and poststructuralism these essays by art critic and historian Yve Alain Bois seek to redefine the status of theory in modernist critical discourse Warning against the uncritical adoption of theoretical fashions and equally against the a priori rejection of all theory Bois argues that theory is best employed in response to the specific demands of a critical problem The essays lucidly demonstrate the uses of various theoretical approaches in conjunction with close reading of both paintings and texts Color and Culture John Gage, 1999 An encyclopaedic work on color in Western art and culture from the Middle Ages to Post Modernism Art International, 1982 , Design Realities Stuart Walker, 2018-10-16 Design Realities explores a wide range of topics on creativity design and spiritual well being Using critique rational inquiry and personal reflection Stuart Walker looks squarely at our contemporary condition demonstrates how current assumptions and material

The Fourth Dimension and Non-Euclidean Geometry in Modern Art, revised edition Linda Dalrymple Henderson, 2018-05-18 The long awaited new edition of a groundbreaking work on the impact of alternative concepts of space on modern art In this groundbreaking study first published in 1983 and unavailable for over a decade Linda Dalrymple Henderson demonstrates that two concepts of space beyond immediate perception the curved spaces of non Euclidean geometry and most important a higher fourth dimension of space were central to the development of modern art The possibility of a spatial fourth dimension suggested that our world might be merely a shadow or section of a higher dimensional existence That iconoclastic idea encouraged radical innovation by a variety of early twentieth century artists ranging from French Cubists Italian Futurists and Marcel Duchamp to Max Weber Kazimir Malevich and the artists of De Stijl and Surrealism In an extensive new Reintroduction Henderson surveys the impact of interest in higher dimensions of space in art and culture from the 1950s to 2000 Although largely eclipsed by relativity theory beginning in the 1920s the spatial fourth dimension experienced a resurgence during the later 1950s and 1960s In a remarkable turn of events it has returned as an important theme in contemporary culture in the wake of the emergence in the 1980s of both string theory in physics with its ten or eleven dimensional universes and computer graphics Henderson demonstrates the importance of this new conception of space for figures ranging from Buckminster Fuller Robert Smithson and the Park Place Gallery group in the 1960s to Tony Robbin and digital architect Marcos Novak studies and history Late Bresson and the Visual Arts Raymond Watkins, 2025-10-01 The color films of French film director Robert Bresson 1901-99 have largely been neglected despite the fact that Bresson himself considered them to be more fully realized reflections of his aspirations for the cinema. This study presents a revised and revitalized Bresson, comparing his late style to painterly innovations in color, light, and iconography from the Middle Ages to the present, to abstract painting in France after World War II, and to affinities with the avant-garde movements of Surrealism, Constructivism, and Minimalism. Drawing on media archaeology, this study views Bresson's work through such allied visual arts practices as painting, photography, sculpture, theater, and dance.

Exploring the Invisible Lynn Gamwell, 2020-03-17 How science changed the way artists understand reality. Exploring the Invisible shows how modern art expresses the first secular scientific worldview in human history. Now fully revised and expanded, this richly illustrated book describes two hundred years of scientific discoveries that inspired French Impressionist painters and Art Nouveau architects as well as Surrealists in Europe, Latin America, and Japan. Lynn Gamwell describes how the microscope and telescope expanded the artist's vision into realms unseen by the naked eye. In the nineteenth century, a strange and exciting world came into focus: one of microorganisms in a drop of water and spiral nebulae in the night sky. The world is also filled with forces that are truly unobservable, known only indirectly by their effects: radio waves, X-rays, and sound waves. Gamwell shows how artists developed the pivotal style of modernism, abstract non-objective art, to symbolize these unseen worlds. Starting in Germany with Romanticism and ending with international contemporary art, she traces the development of the visual arts as an expression of the scientific worldview in which humankind is part of a natural web of dynamic forces without predetermined purpose or meaning. Gamwell reveals how artists give nature meaning by portraying it as mysterious, dangerous, or beautiful. With a foreword by Neil deGrasse Tyson and a wealth of stunning images, this expanded edition of Exploring the Invisible draws on the latest scholarship to provide a global perspective on the scientists and artists who explore life on Earth, human consciousness, and the space-time universe.
