1. The first step is to identify the problem. This involves understanding the current situation and what needs to be changed.

Abstract: Staphylococcus aureus is a major cause of nosocomial infections. The purpose of this study was to determine the prevalence of S. aureus in the hospital environment and to identify the risk factors for colonization. A total of 100 samples were collected from the hospital environment. The results showed that 60% of the samples were positive for S. aureus. The risk factors for colonization were identified as the presence of a patient in the hospital, the use of antibiotics, and the presence of a wound.

off-centering is required to avoid overcompensation. The degree of off-centering depends upon the size of the off-centering device. A 10-mm off-centering device will cause a 10-mm off-centering, but only if the off-centering device is used in the center of the beam. If the off-centering device is used off-center, the off-centering will be less.
