Parker, 2013-03-28 From Fowl Play to Henertainment in this hilarious collection by Diane Parker the chickens show us who are really in charge and what they're really plotting inside their coops Don't worry about the morning after the night before Unmade nests broken eggs and scattered food your human will not even notice the difference and they always have spare time to clean up after you Free range means you have the right to roam However you choose to do it escape on a regular basis and refuse to return until you are ready Try to tip your food hopper up so all the corn spills That way your human will have to refill it on a more regular basis One Hundred Muddy Paws For Thought Simon Whaley, 2010-09-12 The follow up book to the bestselling One Hundred Ways For A Dog To Train Its Human this is the guide for all dogs who like to take a humorous look at the great outdoors Excerpts from the book On those wet windy wintry walks when you're as dirty and as slimy as you can get don't slip and slide frenetically as you try to clamber over a stile Let your human sweep you up into their arms and gently carry you over whilst you watch the remnants of that cow pat transfer from your coat to theirs Responsible humans like to know where you are at all times Be considerate and tell them where you've been too by leaving a trail of muddy footprints across all floor surfaces It's only since humans have domesticated dogs that you've had to be clean Go ancestral Get dirty 100 Ways for a Dog to Train Its Human Simon Whaley, 2005-11-01 Dog people like to think they're the alpha dog but the dogs know better In this playful guide dogs learn how to make sure their masters don't master them including tips on everything from drooling to mud rolling not to mention the finer points of barking yelping and howling

The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 2006 The Ekistics of Animal and Human Conflict Rishi Dev, 2016-09-01 Urban wildlife management is a town planning subject It is logical and important to relate the animal and human conflict seen all over the world as a phenomenon which is applicable to all types of human settlements despite the diversities and complexities of cultures societal structures laws value systems religions and so on A universal principle or theory governs and applies to all cities which define these conditions and phenomena creating the conflict or coexistence This book investigates the niches of one of the key urban animals from a syntactic semantic and pragmatic perspective and explores how these niches are naturally synonymous to similar patterns structures and compositions within human settlements It explores and defines the demographic patterns thresholds and phenomenon which leads to formation of the different levels and extremes of interaction between the species This forms a paradigm which classifies this conflict within the various disciplines and frameworks of urban ecology The focus is primarily on urban dogs it being a keystone species but is later related with other urban animals as well The premise for this approach is that history has shown how certain species have persuasively coexisted with humans for so many millennia yet a conflict happens between animals and humans and within humans over animals It is thus logical to believe that the forces which create this conflict cannot solely be natural to the species in question and have to come from outside from the settlement patterns of both species and the net resultant force and dynamics The book looks at these dichotomies in four distinct but interrelated ways It delves deep inside four niches which form the dynamics of any settlement spatial cultural ecological and economic and explores all scales at which the succession and evolution of animals take place in highly urbanized settlements
