The Integrated Behavioral Health Continuum Laurel J. Kiser, Paul M. Lefkowitz, Lawrence L. Kennedy, 2008-11-01 Until recently behavioral health was defined within the strict dichotomy of inpatient and outpatient care a dichotomy that failed to mirror the range and complexity of human experience and clinical needs Today's integrated system renders this dichotomy obsolete Instead service delivery integration processes offer an organized system of care rooted in a common vision and defined by processes intended to promote continuity and quality of care coordination of efforts efficiencies of operation and seamless patient movement through an otherwise bewildering array of health care services Unique in the literature this volume brings together distinguished clinicians and policymakers who focus on the operational aspects of developing state of the art integrated delivery systems History and concept Why we need integrated health care delivery systems including a model of service delivery integration that incorporates current barriers e.g. ambiguous roles and responsibilities and lack of strategic alignment how to design integrated delivery systems improving clinical outcomes achieving fiscal and operating efficiencies and aligning clinical and fiscal incentives Structural foundations Access to the system of care for patients payors and employers how to design level of care criteria eight strategies that help clients move along the continuum how to define level of care in today's managed care world and the process of following therapeutic processes i.e. philosophies procedures and practices used to create or support recovery and wellness across the continuum Administrative and management processes How to reorient staff toward minimizing barriers and making the patient central to the system documentation information management and reimbursement rates and rate structures risk assumption current research and its enormous potential to improve every aspect of care quality assessments based on examining the driving forces behind the needs for monitoring and evaluating quality and outcomes and the relation of behavioral health care systems which seek to fully integrate clients and families into the fabric of their community and culture to other systems A case vignette that highlights from the consumer's viewpoint the vital role of self help during an episode of hospitalization and a discussion of future directions in integrated behavioral health care round out this remarkable volume With its wealth of strategic and nuts and bolts information useful for alliances and single entities alike on how to harness operational forces in establishing an effective integrated behavioral health continuum this volume will be welcomed by those who deliver direct services psychiatric professionals and those who administer and manage the integrated financing and delivery of quality care from public U S government agencies and private managed care and insurance providers sectors alike

Strategy Stewart R Clegg, Jochen Schweitzer, Andrea Whittle, Christos Pitelis, 2019-11-30 Providing a fresh perspective on strategy from an organizational perspective through a discursive approach featuring key theoretic tenets this text is also pragmatic and emphasizes the practices of strategy to encourage the reader to be open to a wider set of ideas with a little more relevance and with a cooler attitude towards the affordances of the digital world and the possibilities for strategy's futures. The key areas of Strategy take a critical stance in the new edition and also include areas less evident in conventional strategy texts such as not for profit organizations, process theories, globalization, organizational politics and decision making as well as the futures of strategy.

Strategy for Tackling Poverty in Nigeria Dr. Ebikinei Stanley Eguruzo, 2017-02-08. This research evaluates what the National Youths Service Corps members' community perceives as their support needs in Nigeria in tackling poverty. It also analyses the process of leveraging policymaking using social marketing techniques. It seeks a deeper understanding of the poverty elimination processes in Nigerian and beyond. A mixed methods research design was adopted, engaging a quantitative approach in which 351 NYSC members were surveyed using self-completion questionnaires. In addition, qualitative studies in which policy makers as well as young people within the NYSC members' community were interviewed. The main findings of the research reveal that young people's NYSC members' support needs in Nigeria are inadequate. A great deal more needed to be done. A Marshall plan scale of support is required. The most significant causes of poverty amongst the NYSC members are absence of jobs, corruption of government officials, low wages, tribalism, oil pollution, natural disasters, IMF/World Bank conditionalities and wars. The main experiences of poverty include a high youth unemployment rate, no money to go to school, no money to start small businesses, less food to eat, no money to treat sickness, no money to buy clothes, no money to afford decent homes, prostitution, absence of a public transportation system as well as involvement in drugs and kidnapping.
