Arts, Inc. Bill Ivey, 2008-05-10 In this impassioned and persuasive book Bill Ivey the former chairman of the National Endowment for the Arts assesses the current state of the arts in America and finds cause for alarm Even as he celebrates our ever emerging culture and the way it enriches our lives here at home while spreading the dream of democracy around the world he points to a looming crisis The expanding footprint of copyright an unconstrained arts industry marketplace and a government unwilling to engage culture as a serious arena for public policy have come together to undermine art artistry and cultural heritage the expressive life of America In eight succinct chapters Ivey blends personal and professional memoir policy analysis and deeply held convictions to explore and define a coordinated vision for art culture and expression in American life

Performing Social Change on the Island of Ireland Ciara L. Murphy, 2023-05-22 This book examines the relationship between moments of significant social change on the island of Ireland and performance practice during the twentieth and twenty first centuries It examines how moments of significant change influence not only the content of performance practice but also the form and function of theatre production and reception This book investigates how the Troubles and subsequent Peace Process Second Wave Feminism the Celtic Tiger and neoliberalism social revolution and the COVID 19 pandemic impacts the form and function of performance practice across the island of Ireland Although these forms of theatre and performance making refer to varied and distinct lineages of practice internationally there are key parallels that compel a study of their inter relationality in a specific Irish context This book explores how the performance of Ireland illuminates histories and stories that are on the margins illuminating the lived realities of everyday life through the presentation of moments of violence oppression and trauma as something that is as important as the larger narratives often ascribed to nationhood This book asks how performance practice engages with and informs moments of major social change on the island of Ireland through the distinct yet intersecting lenses of place performance form and social context over the course of almost a century of Irish theatre and performance practice

Socially Engaged Art after Socialism Izabel Galliera, 2017-05-30 Reclaiming public life from the ideologies of both communist regimes and neoliberalism their projects have harnessed the politically subversive potential of social relations based on trust reciprocity and solidarity Drawing on archival material and exclusive interviews in this book Izabel Galliera traces the development of socially engaged art from the early 1990s to the present in Bulgaria Hungary and Romania She demonstrates that in the early 1990s projects were primarily created for exhibitions organized and funded by the Soros Centers for Contemporary Art In the early 2000s prior to Bulgaria Hungary and Romania entering into the European Union EU institutions likewise funded socially conscious public art in the region Today socially engaged art is characterised by the proliferation of independent and often self funded artists initiatives in cities such as Sofia Bucharest and Budapest Focusing on the relationships between art social capital and civil society Galliera employs sociological and political theories to reveal that while social capital is generally considered a mechanism of exclusion in the West in post socialist contexts it has been leveraged by artists and curators as a vital means of communication and action

Artistic Citizenship David James Elliott, Marissa Silverman, Wayne D. Bowman, 2016 Foundational Considerations Dance Movement based Arts Media Technology Music Poetry Storytelling Theater Visual Arts Beyond the Sovereign Self Grant H. Kester, 2023-11-17 In Beyond the Sovereign Self Grant H. Kester continues the critique of aesthetic autonomy begun in The Sovereign Self showing how socially engaged art provides an alternative aesthetic with greater possibilities for critical practice. Instead of grounding art in its distance from the social, Kester shows how socially engaged art developed in conjunction with forms of social or political resistance encourages the creative capacity required for collective political transformation. Among others, Kester analyzes the work of conceptual artist Adrian Piper, experimental practices associated with the escrache tradition in Argentina, and indigenous Canadian artists such as Nadia Myre and Michèle Taïna Audette showing how socially engaged art catalyzes forms of resistance that operate beyond the institutional art world. From the Americas and Europe to Iran and South Africa, Kester presents a historical genealogy of recent engaged art practices rooted in a deep history of cultural production beginning with nineteenth century political struggles and continuing into contemporary anticolonial resistance and other social movements.

New Trends in the Study of Haredi Culture and Society David N. Myers, Nechumi Malovicki-Yaffe, 2024-12-15 Who are Haredim? And why are they the source of both increasing attention and continuing misunderstanding? New Trends in the Study of Haredi Culture and Society draws on the innovative research of leading scholars from a variety of disciplines including history, religious studies, demography, linguistics, and geography to trace the growing prominence of Haredi, often called ultra-Orthodox Jews, in Jewish life. Haredi Jews are committed to preserving a measure of segregation from the rest of society consistent with the guiding principles of their forebears; yet increasingly they are appearing more visibly and assertively in public spaces. Demographic analysis suggests that they will constitute a much larger share, nearly one quarter of the world Jewish population, over the next twenty years. By examining the evolution of political, cultural, and social trends in Haredi communities across the globe, this interdisciplinary and transnational volume sheds important light both on Haredi communities and on the societies of which they are part.

Engaging Social Media in China Guobin Yang, Wei Wang, 2021-05-01 Introducing the concept of state-sponsored platformization, this volume shows the complexity behind the central role the party-state plays in shaping social media platforms. The party-state increasingly penetrates commercial social media while aspiring to turn its own media agencies into platforms. Yet state-sponsored platformization does not necessarily produce the Chinese Communist Party's desired outcomes. Citizens continue to appropriate social media for creative public engagement at the same time that more people are managing their online settings to reduce or refuse connection, inducing new forms of crafted resistance to hyper-social media connectivity. The wide-ranging essays presented here explore the mobile radio service Ximalaya FM, Alibaba's evolution into a multi-platform ecosystem, livestreaming platforms in the United States and China, the role of Twitter in Trump's North Korea diplomacy user generated content in the news media the emergence of new social agents mediating between state and society social media art projects Chinese and US scientists use of social media and reluctance to engage with WeChat Ultimately readers will find that the ten chapters in this volume contribute significant new research and insights to the fast growing scholarship on social media in China at a time when online communication is increasingly constrained by international struggles over political control and privacy issues The Art of Creation Barrett

Perspectives on Art Education Ruth Mateus-Berr,Michaela Götsch,2015-06-16 The training of teachers in arts universities is changing It is confronted by the great challenge of essential cultural technological social and economic changes The symposium Perspectives on Art Education Vienna May 28 30 2015 is dedicated to these changes What does the training need today in terms of artistic practice research and communication skills What explanations do historical and contemporary approaches offer What new strategies are needed in teaching and learning How can the diverse approaches to art education in different cultures embedded in various national structures and school types complement and empower each other and jointly develop Newsletter, East Asian Art and Archaeology, 1998 Bridging Communities through Socially Engaged Art Alice Wexler, Vida Sabbaghi, 2019-03-20 Promoting the expansion of art in society and education this book highlights the significance of the arts as an instrument of social justice inclusion equity and protection of the environment Including twenty seven diverse case studies of socially engaged art practice with groups like the Black Lives Matter movement the LGBTQ community and Rikers Island this book guides art educators toward innovative transdisciplinary and diverse methodologies A valuable resource on creating spaces for change it addresses the relationships between artists and educators museums and communities Journal of the Society of Arts Royal Society of Arts (Great Britain), 1856 Writing Borderless Histories of Art Claire Farago, 2025-06-30 Writing Borderless Histories of Art is an aspirational historical and critical project that offers a fundamental rethinking of the relationship of humans to the rest of nature Social justice Indigeneity abuses of power and the environmental crisis are the burning issues of today A transcultural approach calls for abandoning structures of domination that are built into the academic disciplines regardless of the scale or extent of interpretation Drawing upon writings from a wide range of fields Claire Farago argues that Art History can play a role in advancing the public's interconnectedness with the planetary life support system that so urgently needs to be restored Studying the discourse on art at the intersection of global capitalism environmental degradation and human subjection over four centuries Writing Borderless Histories of Art advocates ontologies that do not distinguish between the sentience of humans and other animals and go beyond the dualistic metaphysics of the nature culture divide While this book is addressed to a wide audience its multilayered approach also reaches out to art historians for whom chronology canons and style are structures fundamental to the organization and operation of the discipline The book is neither a history of ideas nor a search for the origins of art history but a recognition of the structures that drive its narratives Curating the Digital David England, Thecla Schiphorst, Nick Bryan-Kinns, 2016-06-01 This book combines work from curators digital artists human computer interaction researchers and computer scientists to examine the mutual benefits and challenges posed when working together to support digital art works in their many forms In Curating the Digital we explore how we can work together to make space for art and interaction We look at the various challenges such as the dynamic nature of our media the problems posed in preserving digital art works and the thorny problems of how we assess and measure audience's reactions to interactive digital work Curating the Digital is an outcome of a multi disciplinary workshop that took place at SICI2014 in Toronto The participants from the workshop reflected on the theme of Curating the Digital via a series of presentations and rapid prototyping exercises to develop a catalogue for the future digital art gallery The results produce a variety of insights both around the theory and philosophy of curating digital works and also around the practical and technical possibilities and challenges We present these complimentary chapters so that other researchers and practitioners in related fields will find motivation and imagination for their own work
