Power Politics in Asia's Contested Waters Enrico Fels, Truong-Minh Vu, 2016-02-19 This volume offers a comprehensive and empirically rich analysis of regional maritime disputes in the South China Sea SCS By discussing important aspects of the rise of China's maritime power such as territorial disputes altered perceptions of geo politics and challenges to the US led regional order the authors demonstrate that a regional power shift is taking place in Asia Pacific The volume also provides in depth discussions of the responses to Chinese actions by SCS claimants as well as by important non claimant actors

War and Compromise Between Nations and States Egbert Jahn, 2019-11-30 This volume investigates both violent conflicts and non violent conflict behavior It addresses a variety of topics including responsibility and guilt in connection with war violent conflicts and terrorist attacks conflict escalation in disputed areas such as the South China Sea Syria and Ukraine war as an instrument of the United States and Russia's global peace policy and the experiences with non violent conflict strategies in the Indian independence movement Furthermore it presents country studies on Switzerland and Catalonia Peaceful interethnic relations in multilingual states in Switzerland are examined and juxtaposed against independence movements such as in Catalonia Current political challenges faced by the European Union e g divergent refugee policies and the Brexit are also discussed

Geopolitical Rivalries and Strategic Competition Across Eurasia Pietrzak, Piotr, 2025-07-29 Geopolitical rivalries and strategic competition across Eurasia have intensified in recent years reshaping the continent's political economic and security dynamics As major powers pursue competing interests Eurasia has become a critical area for influence infrastructure development and military impressions From various global initiatives to regional policies complex alliances rivalries and strategic calculations emerge These developments redefine state relationships while impacting global power balances and regional stability Geopolitical Rivalries and Strategic Competition Across Eurasia explores the influence of geopolitics on government strategy and international relations It examines various political rivalries and competitions across the Eurasia region presenting areas of influence that define current regional relationships This book covers topics such as foreign policy global business and democracy and is a useful resource for government officials business owners policymakers academicians researchers and scientists

Nationalist Entrepreneurs and Territorial Disputes in Northeast Asia Jiun Bang, 2025-09-24 This book explores how nationalism surrounding territorial sovereignty requires a domestic nationalist ecosystem aka the Nationalist Industrial Complex to sustain public interest It focuses on nationalist entrepreneurs representing local merchants who commodify nationalism by building businesses that explicitly incorporate elements of territorial sovereignty protection e g food and apparel with the insignia of a disputed territory The author argues that this mundane everyday activity of commodification co constitutes public interest surrounding territorial sovereignty and explains why nationalism might be more contingent than permanent Despite its prevalence the commodification of nationalism is one of the most under explored areas This fresh insight on how everyday nationalism can influence ordinary people's understanding of or attention to nationalistic issues will be of interest to scholars and students of East Asian international relations, nationalism, security studies, area studies, and comparative politics.

China's Foreign Policy Contradictions Tim Nicholas Rühlig, 2021-06-17 China's rise to great power status is indisputable but can it shape the future international order? This question remains widely debated because China's foreign policy is contradictory. Contrary to conventional wisdom, this book shows that China does not act from a position of strength but that foreign policy contradictions are the result of the domestic vulnerabilities of the ruling Chinese Communist Party. Providing exceptional insights into the considerations behind the opaque institutional structures of Chinese foreign policymaking and decision making, it shows that China will not provide a model for a new international system but could undermine the existing order.

The Spratly Islands and International Law Xuechan Ma, 2021-11-29 In The Spratly Islands and International Law, Xuechan Ma offers a detailed analysis of legal solutions to achieve coexistence and cooperation in the Spratly Islands in the absence of maritime delimitation. This book challenges the classical territoriality model of jurisdiction in international law, which is ineffective in the Spratly Islands context where complex and contentious situations call for different solutions. Based on the substance-procedure duality of international law, Ma draws on extensive sources of international law, including cases, treaties, practice, and doctrine, and formulates novel, concrete proposals to indicate the way forward for the Spratly Islands.

Science and Judicial Reasoning Katalin Sulyok, 2020-10-29 This pioneering study on environmental case law examines how courts engage with science and reviews legitimate styles of judicial reasoning.

The Regulation of the Global Water Services Market Julien Chaisse, 2017-01-26 Drinking water and wastewater services must be provided to many sectors of a nation's economy, including its industrial, commercial, and residential sectors. This forms the scope of the water industry's activities, and it explains why the privatization of water sanitation and water services has become a huge market and a much-debated issue in a number of jurisdictions. Historically, the water industry has been run as a public service, which is owned by the local or national government; however, recent trends suggest that the role of the private sector is increasing. The growing economic interests concerning water and wastewater services are generating a tension with the recent recognition of the human right to water and sanitation. This tension between human rights and economic rules is the focus of this book, which reviews all the international rules that form the regulation of global water services.

China's Foreign Aid and Investment Diplomacy, Volume II John F. Copper, 2016-04-29 Today, by many accounts, China is the world's foremost purveyor of foreign aid and foreign investment to developing countries. This is the product of China's miracle economic growth over a period of more than three decades, together with China's drive to become a major player in world affairs and accomplish this through economic rather than military means. This three-volume work is the first comprehensive study of China's aid and investment strategy to trace how it has evolved since Beijing launched its foreign aid diplomacy at the time of the founding of the People's Republic of China in 1949. Volume II provides an analysis of China's foreign aid and investment to countries and regional organizations on the Asian continent covering all of its major sub regions during the period from 1950 to the present day Copper considers motivating factors such as the Korean War the Vietnam War and China's desire to challenge the West and later the Soviet Union Also important to China and driving its aid and investment was China's pursuit of Communist Bloc solidarity a search for secure borders and competition with India for influence in the Third World Securing its imports of energy and raw materials and markets for its products came later Marginalizing Taiwan and defeating it diplomatically constituted another goal of China's foreign aid and foreign investment analyzed here

Contested Waters Amit Ranjan, 2020-09-02 This book examines India's transboundary river water disputes with its South Asian riparian neighbours Pakistan Bangladesh Nepal and Bhutan It explores the history of disputes and cooperation over the transboundary river water in this region as well as discusses current disputes and future concerns It analyses how and why existing transboundary river water sharing treaties between India and its South Asian riparian neighbours are confronted with challenges The book indicates that India's transboundary river water disputes with its South Asian riparian neighbours are likely to escalate in coming years due to the widening of the demand supply gap in the respective countries It further shows the impact of bilateral relations on the resolution of transboundary river water disputes even as cordial relationships do not always guarantee the absence of river water disputes between riparian states The book looks at some key questions How political are India's transboundary rivers water disputes in South Asia Why do the roots of India's river water disputes with Bangladesh and Pakistan lie in the partition of the British India in 1947 Why are there reservations against India's hydroelectricity projects or allegations of water theft Is it possible to resolve transboundary river water disputes among these South Asian countries This book will greatly interest scholars and researchers working in the areas of river management environmental politics transnationalism water resources politics and international relations security studies peace and conflict studies geopolitics development studies governance and public administration and South Asian studies in addition to policymakers and journalists

The Right to Be Counted Sanjeev Routray, 2022-07-12 In the last 30 years Delhi the capital of India has displaced over 1.5 million poor people Resettlement and welfare services are available but exclusively so as the city deems much of the population ineligible for civic benefits The Right to Be Counted examines how Delhi's urban poor in an effort to gain visibility from the local state incrementally stake their claims to a house and life in the city Contributing to debates about the contradictions of state governmentality and the citizenship projects of the poor in Delhi this book explores social suffering logistics and the logic of political mobilizations that emanate from processes of displacement and resettlement Sanjeev Routray draws upon fieldwork conducted in various low income neighborhoods throughout the 2010s to describe the process of claims making as an attempt by the political community of the poor to assert its existence and numerical strength and demonstrates how this struggle to be counted constitutes the systematic protracted and incremental political process by which the poor claim their substantive entitlements and become entrenched in the city Analyzing various social political and economic relationships as well as kinship networks and solidarity linkages across the political and social spectrum this book traces the ways the poor work to gain a foothold in Delhi and establish agency for themselves Contested Knowledges Esha Shah,Rutgerd Boelens,Bert Bruins,2019-05-20 Water acquisition storage allocation and distribution are intensely contested in our society whether for instance such issues pertain to a conflict between upstream and downstream farmers located on a small stream or to a large dam located on the border of two nations Water conflicts are mostly studied as disputes around access to water resources or the formulation of water laws and governance rules However explicitly or not water conflicts nearly always also involve disputes among different philosophical views The contributions to this edited volume have looked at the politics of contested knowledge as manifested in the conceptualisation design development implementation and governance of large dams and mega hydraulic infrastructure projects in various parts of the world The special issue has explored the following core questions Which philosophies and claims on mega hydraulic projects are encountered and how are they shaped validated negotiated and contested in concrete contexts Whose knowledge counts and whose knowledge is downplayed in water development conflict situations and how have different epistemic communities and cultural political identities shaped practices of design planning and construction of dams and mega hydraulic projects The contributions have also scrutinised how these epistemic communities interactively shape norms rules beliefs and values about water problems and solutions including notions of justice citizenship and progress that are subsequently to become embedded in material artefacts Ethnographies of Power Tristan Loloum,Simone Abram,Nathalie Ortar,2021-04-01 Energy related infrastructures are crucial to political organization They shape the contours of states and international bodies as well as corporations and communities framing their material existence and their fears and idealisations of the future Ethnographies of Power brings together ethnographic studies of contemporary entanglements of energy and political power Revisiting classic anthropological notions of power it asks how changing energy related infrastructures are implicated in the consolidation extension or subversion of contemporary political regimes and discovers what they tell us about politics today Protecting the Third Pole Simon Marsden,2019 This highly topical book considers the important question of how best to protect the environment of the Third Pole the area comprising the Hindu Kush Himalayas and Tibetan Plateau using the tool of international law Following detailed analysis of the weaknesses in the current legal protections according to comparative legal theory Simon Marsden recommends three potential options for implementation by policy and lawmakers Return to Winter Douglas E. Schoen,Melik Kaylan,2015-12-01 The United States is a nation in crisis While Washington s ability to address our most pressing challenges has been rendered nearly impotent by ongoing partisan warfare we face an array of foreign policy crises for which we seem increasingly unprepared Among these none is more formidable than the unprecedented partnership developing between Russia and China suspicious neighbors for centuries and fellow Communist antagonists during the Cold War The two longtime foes have drawn increasingly close together because of a confluence of geostrategic political and economic interests all of which have a common theme of diminishing subverting or displacing American power While America s influence around the world recedes in its military and diplomatic power in its political leverage in its economic might and perhaps most dangerously in the power and appeal of its ideas Russia and China have seen their influence increase From their support for rogue regimes such as those in Iran North Korea and Syria to their military and nuclear buildups to their aggressive use of cyber warfare and intelligence theft Moscow and Beijing are playing the game for keeps Meanwhile America pledged to leading from behind no longer does much leading at all In Return to Winter Douglas E Schoen and Melik Kaylan systematically chronicle the growing threat from the Russian Chinese Axis and they argue that only a rebirth of American global leadership can counter the corrosive impact of this antidemocratic alliance which may soon threaten the peace and security of the world

The Chanakya Diaries | India's Premier Magazine on Defence, National Security & Geopolitics | ISSUE 2 | SPRING 2025 Major Gaurav Arya (Retd.),2025-02-27 The Chanakya Diaries is India s Premier Magazine on Defence National Security and Geopolitics With the second edition featuring contributions from some of the finest minds and subject matter experts this magazine is an essential read for anyone keen on understanding the intricate dynamics of global politics defence and security issues Designed for readers who crave in depth analyses and expert opinions this magazine brings to light the most pressing global issues offering fresh insights and perspectives With contributions from esteemed scholars analysts and policymakers each edition delves into the geopolitical economic and military challenges shaping our world today If you are preparing for competitive exams or are simply a defence national security and geopolitics aficionado The Chanakya Diaries is perfect for you

Eurasia on the Edge Richard Sakwa,2018-10-15 Eurasia wherever one draws the boundaries is very much at the centre of discussions about today s world Security across Eurasia is a global concern and has been subject to a range of discussions and debate However the current tensions over security and world order with the growing challenges from Eurasia and Asia require more intense scrutiny The goals of the book are to explore the challenges facing the region and to assess how to achieve economic social and political stability in the Eurasian core The book s chapters are written by prominent experts in the field and together contribute to the continuing debate by providing policy advice for managing crises in the region Conflicts inevitably arise in the Eurasian space as global powers regional powers and individual states jockey for positions and influence These conflicts need not reach a crisis state provided the foundations of conflict and the surrounding frameworks can be better understood To do this it is necessary to examine the issue of security in Eurasia from a multi dimensional perspective that challenges any and all assumptions about Eurasia and global order This volume has two overarching goals The first is to come to a better understanding of key security threats in the Eurasian region from a multi dimensional social political economic and institutional perspective The second is to discuss policies directed to increase mutual security in and around the Eurasian core Although the crisis of security affects the whole continent the area covered by the former Soviet Union and its neighborhood is at the epicenter of the current crisis On the one side the Atlantic community is consolidating and extending On the other various greater Asia ideas are in the making All of Eurasia is in danger of becoming an extended shatter zone a vast new shaky borderland trapped between two great systems of power and world order

Water Governance: Retheorizing Politics Nicole J. Wilson, Joanne Nelson, Sameer H. Shah, Leila M. Harris, 2019-10-11 This republished Special Issue highlights recent and emergent concepts and approaches to water governance that re-centers the political in relation to water related decision making use and management To do so at once is to focus on diverse ontologies meanings and values of water and related contestations regarding its use or its importance for livelihoods identity or place making Building on insights from science and technology studies feminist and postcolonial approaches we engage broadly with the ways that water related decision making is often depoliticized and evacuated of political content or meaning and to what effect Key themes that emerged from the contributions include the politics of water infrastructure and insecurity participatory politics and multi-scalar governance dynamics politics related to emergent technologies of water bottled or packaged water and water desalination and Indigenous water governance

Water and Power Mart A. Stewart, Peter A. Coclanis, 2018-12-12 This book brings together a talented international group of scholars policy practitioners and NGO professionals that explores a range of issues relating to environmental developmental and governing challenges on the Mekong one of the world's greatest rivers and alas one of the most endangered The book is divided into three sections devoted in turn to historical perspectives on the Lower Mekong Basin Issues relate to livelihood strategies environmental threats and adaptation strategies and various aspects of river governance with individual authors treating questions of governance at different levels of refraction and in different registers The result is a fresh and innovative collection of essays which taken together provide much needed new perspectives on some of the most important and seemingly intractable environmental and development issues in contemporary Asia

Beyond Territorial Disputes in the South China Sea Robert C. Beckman, Ian Townsend-Gault, Clive Schofield, Tara Davenport, Leonardo Bernard, 2013-01-01 The book has been written by many highly qualified observers and academicians that have spent a lot of time observing and analyzing the recent developments in the South China Sea particularly those relating to the dispute and way of overcoming them I do hope that this publication will throw some light on such important matters and indicate possible roads to follow in solving the territorial disputes through joint development concept

Hasjim Djalal Director of Southeast Asian Studies Jakarta Indonesia This highly informative and up to date book brings together expert scholars in law of the sea to explore the legal and geopolitical aspects of the South China Sea disputes and provide an in-depth examination on the prospects of joint development in the South China Sea The South China Sea has long been regarded as a source of conflict and tension in Asia Underlying this conflict is the dispute between China Vietnam the Philippines Malaysia and Brunei over the features in the South China Sea as well as the resources in the surrounding waters One viable solution is for the claimants to set aside their claims and jointly develop the hydrocarbon resources in the South China Sea Unlike previous works this book takes a unique approach by examining existing joint development arrangements in Asia to see if there are any lessons learnt that may be applicable to the South China Sea This approach has enabled the editors to move beyond a mere theoretical discussion on joint development and focus on the law policy and practical issues related to joint development Beyond Territorial Disputes in the South China Sea will strongly appeal to Government officials policy makers from ASEAN Countries China and the United States as well as academics particularly those who are involved in legal scholarship on the South China Sea disputes Practitioners of oil and gas law will also find much to benefit them in this book
