One From Many Dee Hock, 2009-02-24 Few even well informed business leaders seem to recognize Visa as the largest business organization in the world despite a turnover that is some 10 times that of Wal Mart and a market value that is conservatively speaking more than double that of General Electric I have often wondered why this is so How could the world s largest business also be one of the business world s best kept secrets It is certainly not that its product is little known nor that it is the leader of an obscure industry There are few companies that could claim that one sixth of the world s people were its customers last year Yet over the past decade there have been well over a thousand feature articles in Business Week Fortune and Forbes on Microsoft over 350 on GE and about 35 on Visa One from Many Dee Hock, 2009-02-20 Hock founder and CEO emeritus of VISA provides a fascinating overview of the largest business organization in the world which has a market value that is conservatively speaking more than double that of General Electric

Wave Rider Harrison H. Owen, 2008-10-20 What began twenty years ago as a journey of exploration into the interplay between chaos order and the creative process culminates in this capstone work of Harrison Owen's pioneering career From the creator of Open Space Technology OST Wave Rider shows how to apply the fundamental principles of self organization the driving power behind OST's immense success not just to a single event but to the day to day management and leadership of organizations Owen proposes that all systems not only our organizations but indeed the entire cosmos are fundamentally self organizing Control is ultimately an illusion and attempts to assert it are a waste of time and can even be destructive If we want to have truly high performing organizations at some point we need to set aside our preconceived goals and strategies important as they are and align ourselves and our work with the primal force of self organization learn how to ride that wave To that end Owen lays out eight concrete steps for becoming a successful Wave Rider derived from the global experience of hundreds of thousands of Open Space events with a clear focus on producing exceptional performance The book includes a real life tale from a genuine Wave Rider Dee Hock of VISA International as well as an imagined account of a day in the life of a wave riding manager to show how self organizing principles can deal with specific functions like running a staff meeting managing projects motivating staff and much more Wave Rider is another exceptional contribution from one of organizational developments true innovators
