Know it All, Find it Fast Robert John Duckett,Bob Duckett,Peter Walker,Christinea Donnelly,2008 There is a queue the phone is ringing the photocopier has jammed and your enquirer is waiting for a response You are stressed and you can feel the panic rising Where do you go to find the information you need to answer the question promptly and accurately Answering queries from users is one of the most important services undertaken by library and information staff Yet it is also one of the most difficult least understood subjects There are still very few materials available to help frontline staff often paraprofessional develop their reader enquiry skills This award winning sourcebook is an essential guide to where to look to find the answers quickly It is designed as a first point of reference for library and information practitioners to be depended upon if they are unfamiliar with the subject of an enquiry or wish to find out more It is arranged in an easily searchable fully cross referenced A Z list of around 150 of the subject areas most frequently handled at enquiry desks Each subject entry lists the most important information sources and where to locate them including printed and electronic sources relevant websites and useful contacts for referral purposes The authors use their extensive experience in reference work to offer useful tips warn of potential pitfalls and spotlight typical queries and how to tackle them This new edition has been brought right up to date with all sources checked for currency and many new ones added The searchability is enhanced by a comprehensive index to make those essential sources even easier to find saving you valuable minutes Readership Offering quick and easy pointers to a multitude of information sources this is an invaluable reference deskbook for all library and information staff in need of a speedy answer in reference libraries subject departments and other information units

E-books in Libraries Kate Price, Virginia Havergal, 2011 Despite the fact that e books have been in existence for decades in various guises and added to library collections for several years now there has been a noticeable lack of published manuals on the subject This is doubtless owing to the rapidly evolving nature of the market There is now a plethora of different types of digital object that may be termed e books and a bewildering number of business and access models to match Moreover the pace of change shows no sign of abating but there is an increasing amount of popular interest in e books and what is needed is practical information to assist library and information professionals managing collections of e books and doing their best to inform their users right now The book is divided into five parts The production and distribution of e books Planning and developing an e book collection Delivering e books to library readers Engaging readers with e books The future of e books Virginia Havergal BA Hons MSc MEd FIFL is a Learning Centres and e Resources Manager for Petroc a further education college in Devon Prior to this role she was an e Learning Advisor with JISC with a particular focus on Learning Resources Kate Price BA Hons MA MCLIP is Head of E Strategy and Resources at the University of Surrey
