addresses many of the questions which arise when someone first embarks on a journey of Zen meditation ranging from how long to sit at one time to how to remain mindful when not sitting and it concludes with commentaries on two other fundamental Zen texts Zazen Wasen The Song of Meditation and the Ox Herding Pictures Written to provide a solid grounding in the physical nature of Zen meditation training this text delves into topics such as Breathing Pain Posture Physiology Drowsiness How to find the right teacher The differences between the two main Japanese schools of Zen Soto and Rinzaï Zen As a master swordsman Omori Sogen's approach to Zen is direct physical and informed by the rigorous tradition of Zen and the martial arts that flourished during Japan's samurai era For him the real aim of Zen is nothing short of Enlightenment and Introduction to Zen Training is a roadmap in which he deals as adeptly with hundreds of years of Zen scholarship as he does with the mundane practicalities of meditation Sogen prescribes a level of rigor and intensity in spiritual training that goes far beyond wellness and relaxation and that is rarely encountered His is a kind of spiritual warriorship he felt was direly needed in the middle of the twentieth century and that is no less necessary today With a new foreword from Daihonzan Chozen-ji the headquarters Zen temple established by Omori Sogen in Hawaii this book is an essential text for every student of Zen meditation

Meditation Carl Bielefeldt,1990-08-16 Zen Buddhism is perhaps best known for its emphasis on meditation and probably no figure in the history of Zen is more closely associated with meditation practice than the thirteenth century Japanese master Dogen founder of the Soto school This study examines the historical and religious character of the practice as it is described in Dogen's own meditation texts introducing new materials and original perspectives on one of the most influential spiritual traditions of East Asian civilization. The Soto version of Zen meditation is known as just sitting, a practice in which through the cultivation of the subtle state of nonthinking the meditator is said to be brought into perfect accord with the higher consciousness of the Buddha mind inherent in all beings. This study examines the historical and religious character of the practice as it is described in Dogen's own meditation texts introducing new materials and original perspectives on one of the most influential spiritual traditions of East Asian civilization.
