Old Orchard Farm The Story Of An Iowa Boyhood Bur Oak :

Old Orchard Farm Hugh Orchard,1988 I have often wondered what city boys find to do for fun All cluttered up with houses and laid out in streets with no horses of mules or dogs it must be pretty dull That sums up Hugh Orchard s philosophy and makes Old Orchard Farm a delightful reading experience Old Orchard Farm, the Story of an Iowa Boyhood Hugh Orchard,2003-01-01 Who's who in the South and Southwest ,1975 Includes names from the States of Alabama Arkansas the District of Columbia Florida Georgia Kentucky Louisiana Mississippi North Carolina Oklahoma South Carolina Tennessee Texas and Virginia and Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands Who's who in the Midwest ,2003 The World Almanac and Book of Facts ,1965 Lists news events population figures and miscellaneous data of an historic economic scientific and social nature Leahy's Hotel-motel Guide and Travel Atlas of the United States, Canada, and Mexico ,1947

Who's Who in the Midwest, 1990-91 ,1990-10 Who's who in America ,2003 Who's Who in Finance and Industry, 1983-1984 Marquis Who's Who, LLC,1983 Who's who in American Education ,1992 The Farm at Holstein Dip Carroll Engelhardt,2012-08-15 Carroll Engelhardt s parents grew up in homes without electricity on farms without tractors and began farming in the same way As a farm boy in northeastern Iowa he thought that history happened only to important people in earlier times and more exotic places After decades of teaching he at last perceived that history happens to us all and he began writing this book Set within the thoughtfully presented contexts of the technological revolution in American agriculture the Second World War the Cold War and the emerging culture of affluence The Farm at Holstein Dip is both a loving coming of age memoir and an educational glimpse into rural and small town life of the 1940s and 1950s Engelhardt writes about growing up in a spacious farmhouse where life was centered in the kitchen and frugality dictated that every purchase be weighed carefully His chores grew up with him he fed chickens and gathered eggs at age six rode a horse on the hayfork at nine or ten milked cows by hand at eleven and hired out to other farmers to load bales in the field and work in the haymow at fifteen The simple pleasures and predictable routines of a Saturday night at the movies in nearby Elkader Pioneer Days on the 4th of July Confirmation Sunday class picnics and baseball and basketball games play out against a background of rural decline alternating economic uncertainty and prosperity and Cold War anxiety next to polio he most feared Communist subversion and atomic blasts The values and contradictions imparted by this evolving mix of international national and local cultures shaped his coming of age Engelhardt brings us into the world of his fourth generation farm family who lived by the family and faith based work ethic and concern for respectability they had inherited from their German and Norwegian ancestors His writing has a particularly Iowa flavor a style that needs no definition to those who live in the state Readers will discover the appeal of his wry humorous and kind observations and appreciate his well informed perspective on these transformative American decades Gentlemen on the Prairie Curtis

When the John Hugh Williams family immigrated to Homer Iowa in the 1850s they had six children ranging in age from five to twenty Suddenly land poor in debt and caught in the Panic of 57 they sent their eldest son James to Georgia to work and add to the family income The seventy five letters collected here represent the family s correspondence to their absent son and brother From 1858 to 1861 James sisters brothers mother and father wrote to him frequently each with distinct views on their daily life and struggles While Mr Williams wrote most often about money farming and moral advice he was minister in the Church of New Jerusalem as well as a merchant and farmer Mrs Williams commented on her daily chores the family s health the ever important weather and her leisure activities including the contemporary journals and books she read such as David Copperfield and Jane Eyre James sisters and brothers wrote about many concerns from schoolwork and housework to games and family celebrations in nearby Webster City As the letters continue the affection for the absent James becomes more pronounced And as the years go by the letters touch on more current national trends including the Pikes Peak Gold Rush and the growing North South crisis on which James and his family strongly disagree James was never to return to Iowa but married and remained in the South becoming a lieutenant colonel in the Confederate army Complete with voices both young and old male and female This State of Wonders offers a wealth of information about the daily life of an ordinary family on the Iowa prairie It is a book to be treasured by all Iowans interested in the early life of their state and by all historians looking for a complete portrait of family life on the midwestern frontier

Sunday Afternoon on the Porch Jim Heynen, 2008 In 1939 just before graduating from high school in the small town of Ridgeway in northeast Iowa Everett Kuntz spent his entire savings of 12 50 on a 35mm Argus AF camera He made a camera case from a worn out boot scraps from a tin can and a clasp from his mother's purse For the next several years especially during the summers when he worked on his parents dairy farm he clicked the shutter of his trusty Argus all around the quiet town Everett bought movie reel film in bulk from a mail order house rolled his own film and developed it in a closet at home but he never had the money to print his photographs More than two thousand negatives stayed in a box while he married raised a family and worked as an electrical engineer in the Twin Cities When he became ill with cancer in the fall of 2002 sixty years after he had developed the last of his bulk film Everett opened his time capsule and printed the images from his youth He died in 2003 having brought his childhood town back to life just as he was leaving it A sense of peace radiates from these images Whether skinny dipping in the Turkey River wheelbarrow racing threshing oats milking cows visiting with relatives after church or hanging out at the drugstore or the movies Ridgeway's hardworking citizens are modest and trusting and luminous in their graceful harmony and their unguarded affection for each other Visiting the town in 2006 as he was writing the text to accompany these photographs Jim Heynen crafted vignettes that perfectly complement these rediscovered images by blending fact and fiction to give context and voice to Ridgeway's citizens
