

The background is a painting of a landscape. In the foreground, there is a body of water reflecting the sky. Two dark, silhouetted figures are standing on the shore, looking out over the water. In the middle ground, there is a line of trees with autumn-colored foliage in shades of red, orange, and yellow. The background features rolling hills or mountains under a sky with soft, yellow and green clouds. Three birds are flying in the sky: one in the upper left, one in the upper right, and one in the center. The title 'On Eagles Wings' is written in a stylized, cursive font at the top. Below the title, the subtitle 'A collection of spiritual prose and poems' is written in a simpler font. places the creation of knowledge about nature at the center of our understanding of one of the world s most contested borderlands At the intersection of China Russia Korea and Mongolia Manchuria is known as a site of war and environmental extremes where projects of political control intersected with projects designed to make sense of Manchuria s multiple environments Covering over 500 000 square miles comparable in size to all the land east of the Mississippi Manchuria s landscapes included temperate rain forests deserts prairies cultivated plains wetlands and Siberian taiga Ruth Rogaski reveals how paleontologists and indigenous shamans and many others made sense of the Manchurian frontier She uncovers how natural knowledge and thus the nature of Manchuria itself changed over time from a sacred land where the dragon arose to a global epicenter of contagious disease from a tragic wasteland to an abundant granary that nurtured the hope of a nation David Bottoms William Walsh,2014-01-10 The South has a long tradition of great writers who remain in the South transforming the local landscape into a universal one Currently Poet Laureate of Georgia David Bottoms is one of the South s most revered poets The fifteen critical essays in this collection set out to examine the images and themes revealed in his poetry and fiction Topics include the role of rebirth and resurrection the presence of faith in the poems masculinity and gender and race in the South Southern Literary Messenger ,1838 Athenaeum and Literary Chronicle James Silk Buckingham,John Sterling,Frederick Denison Maurice,Henry Stebbing,Charles Wentworth Dilke,Thomas Kibble

Hervey,William Hepworth Dixon,Norman Maccoll,Vernon Horace Rendall,John Middleton Murry,1835 Western Democratic Review ,1854 Everyday Truth of a Rainbow Woman Janet L. Furst,2016-02-12 In e mails to her daughter

Grace explores her feelings of fear and love the preciousness and tensions in her relationships particularly with her husband and her place within the cultural traditions of Appalachia She writes of everyday happenings as well as happenings in past lives of herself and her family Resolution comes in a way that she does not anticipate From Kirkus Reviews In this debut novel a middle aged woman explores past lives and present tensions in emails to her daughter I was Sha Li a priestess of the highest order a worshipper of Kuan Yin goddess of compassion and mercy So begins the first of many notes via email that Grace Heronheart drafted and mostly sent to Alyce her college aged eldest daughter just after Grace quit her 20 year job as a school psychologist in rural West Virginia After noting that our families probably think that I lost my marbles Grace tells Alyce that she's actually finding my rainbow colored multifaceted marbles by pursuing her dream of being a writer. She provides her daughter with everyday life updates particularly regarding Alyce's disapproving father; she also shares the story of her past incarnation as the aforementioned Sha Li, a secondary wife of a Chinese warrior. She tells tales of other past lives such as Zete, a dark-skinned tribal prophetess, and Mourning Dove, a Native American who fell in love with a trapper. Along the way, Grace details the roles that Alyce and the rest of her present-day family played in these past existences. By novel's end, she tells her daughter that she's come to the conclusion that "I only write my own script. I cannot write anyone else's" and embarks on a new adventure and a new beginning. First-time author Furst has written an engaging tale of midlife awakening that reads like a memoir even as it skillfully deploys past-life metaphors. Grace's missives combine the relatable tone of a typical email from a mom such as when she applauds Alyce's choice in boyfriend with striking tableaux of imagined lives. Sha Li's tale is particularly poignant and reminiscent of the works of Amy Tan and Jung Chang. It's rather ambitious to cover three past lives and a conflict-ridden present, however, and the P.S. about Grace's modern-day decision comes as a rather abrupt bombshell. Overall, though, Furst effectively sketches a character that lives out her assertion that sanctuary can be found in all my rainbow stories. A memorable depiction of an emerging writer exploring the many prisms of her voice. Victorian Poetry Isobel Armstrong, 2002-09-11. In a work that is uniquely comprehensive and theoretically astute, Isobel Armstrong rescues Victorian poetry from its longstanding sepia image as a moralised form of romantic verse and unearths its often subversive critique of nineteenth-century culture and politics. The New Cambridge Companion to T. S. Eliot Jason Harding, 2017. Drawing on the latest scholarship and criticism, this volume provides an authoritative accessible introduction to T. S. Eliot's complete oeuvre. It extends the focus of the original 1994 Companion, addressing issues such as gender and sexuality and challenging received accounts of his at times controversial critical reception.
