African American Males and Education T. Elon Dancy II, M. Christopher Brown, 2012-10-01 African American Males in Education Researching the Convergence of Race and Identity addresses a number of research gaps This book emerges at a time when new social dynamics of race and other identities are shaping but also shaped by education Educational settings consistently perpetuate racial and other forms of privilege among students personnel and other participants in education For instance differential access to social networks still visibly cluster by race continuing the work of systemic privilege by promoting outcome inequalities in education and society The issues defining the relationship between African American males and education remain complex Although there has been substantial discussion about the plight of African American male participants and personnel in education only modest attempts have been made to center analysis of identity and identity intersections in the discourse Additionally more attention to African American male teachers and faculty is needed in light of their unique cultural experiences in educational settings and expectations to mentor and or socialize other African Americans particularly males

The Stone That The Builder Rejected Dr. Marcia A. Davis-Dawkins,2022-01-24 Sometimes we experience seemingly negative situations which with time prove to be the diametric opposite Indeed such situations may not only be painful at first but may also threaten to deny us our well deserved joy in life When faced with such challenges we should not be discouraged but endeavor to learn the necessary lessons taught These may manifest in that instant or with time depending on the circumstances Indeed when others attempt to negatively stereotype us even as we maintain our composure we should refuse to capitulate knowing that beyond the base instincts of the seemingly mean spirited life can be beautiful Ada Adams said it perfectly in her refrain There is a light at the end of every tunnel Some tunnels just happen to be longer than others
