Old Yeller Synopsis:

Walt Disney Elizabeth Leebron, Lynn Gartley, 1979 The Hound of Music Susan C. Schiever, 1991 Offers guidance to teachers encouraging their students to become more effective thinkers A review of the literature on the subject is followed by coverage of the Spiral Model on ways of envisioning the different factors involved in thinking and of the Hilda Taba Teaching Strategies Resources in Education, 1988 Movie-Made Appalachia John C. Inscoe, 2020-11-24 While Hollywood deserves its reputation for much maligned portrayals of southern highlanders on screen the film industry also deserves credit for a long standing tradition of more serious and meaningful depictions of Appalachia's people Surveying some two dozen films and the literary and historical sources from which they were adapted John C. Inscoe argues that in the American imagination Appalachia has long represented far more than deprived and depraved hillbillies Rather the films he highlights serve as effective conduits into the region's past some grounded firmly in documented realities and life stories others only loosely so In either case they deserve more credit than they have received for creating sympathetic and often complex characters who interact within families households and communities amidst a wide array of historical contingencies They provide credible and informative narratives that respect the specifics of the times and places in which they are set Having used many of these movies as teaching tools in college classrooms Inscoe demonstrates the cumulative effect of analyzing them in terms of shared themes and topics to convey far more generous insights into Appalachia and its history than one would have expected to emerge from southern California's dream factory
