William Bradford's Books Douglas Anderson, 2003-01-08 Widely regarded as the most important narrative of seventeenth century New England William Bradford's Of Plimmoth Plantation is one of the founding documents of American literature and history. In William Bradford's Books this portrait of the religious dissenters who emigrated from the Netherlands to New England in 1620 receives perhaps its sharpest textual analysis to date and the first since that of Samuel Eliot Morison two generations ago. Far from the gloomy elegy that many readers find Bradford's history argues Douglas Anderson demonstrates remarkable ambition and subtle grace as it contemplates the adaptive success of a small community of religious exiles. Anderson offers fresh literary and historical accounts of Bradford's accomplishment exploring the context and the form in which the author intended his book to be read.

Alternative Comics Charles Hatfield, 2009-11-12 In the 1980s a sea change occurred in comics. Fueled by Art Spiegelman and Francoise Mouly's avant garde anthology Raw and the launch of the Love Rockets series by Gilbert Jaime and Mario Hernandez the decade saw a deluge of comics that were more autobiographical emotionally realistic and experimental than anything seen before. These alternative comics were not the scatological satires of the 1960s underground nor were they brightly colored newspaper strips or superhero comic books. In Alternative Comics: An Emerging Literature Charles Hatfield establishes the parameters of alternative comics by closely examining long form comics in particular the graphic novel. He argues that these are fundamentally a literary form and offers an extensive critical study of them both as a literary genre and as a cultural phenomenon. Combining sharp eyed readings and illustrations from particular texts with a larger understanding of the comics as an art form this book discusses the development of specific genres such as autobiography and history. Alternative Comics analyzes such seminal works as Spiegelman's Maus Gilbert Hernandez's Palomar The Heartbreak Soup Stories and Justin Green's Binky Brown Meets the Holy Virgin Mary. Hatfield explores how issues outside of cartooning the marketplace production demands work schedules can affect the final work. Using Hernandez's Palomar as an example he shows how serialization may determine the way a cartoonist structures a narrative. In a close look at Maus Binky Brown and Harvey Pekar's American Splendor Hatfield teases out the complications of creating biography and autobiography in a substantially visual medium and shows how creators approach these issues in radically different ways Source Book and Bibliographical Guide for American Church History Peter George Mode,1921 Design Patricia Bueno,1984 Official Year-book of the Scientific and Learned Societies of Great Britain and Ireland ,1884 Book History Ezra Greenspan,Jonathan Rose,1998-09-30 Book History is the annual journal of the Society for the History of Authorship Reading and Publishing Inc SHARP Book History is devoted to every aspect of the history of the book broadly defined as the history of the creation dissemination and the reception of script and print Book History publishes research on the social economic and cultural history of authorship editing printing the book arts publishing the book trade periodicals newspapers ephemera copyright censorship literary agents libraries literary criticism canon formation literacy literacy education reading habits and reader response Distributed, Ambient and Pervasive Interactions Norbert Streitz,Shin'ichi Konomi,2019-07-10 This book constitutes the refereed proceedings of the 7th International Conference on Distributed Ambient and Pervasive Interactions DAPI 2019 held as part of the 21st International Conference on Human Computer Interaction HCII 2019 in Orlando Florida USA in July 2019 A total of 1274 papers and 209 posters have been accepted for publication in the HCII 2019 proceedings from a total of 5029 submissions The 36 papers included in this volume were organized in topical sections on IoT and big data smart cities and built environments perception and emotion in DAPI and DAPI for health and learning The American Book Circular.
